THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the casting being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and tea iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large capacity reservoir for hot water, and the fire in the warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from the smallest fire-pot, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 50 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cover can be more free from some the top of the cover, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world, and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction by Gutta Percha can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as is so common with other dentures.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a silver, as when finished the whole presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,
No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,

Has had four years of practical experience in making this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases submitted to his care.

DENTISTRY.

No. 60 CONGRESS STREET, }
Portsmouth, Jan. 1st, 1863. }

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully inform his patrons and the public, having had of late many calls to insert teeth upon VULCANIZED RUBBER, that he has purchased the best VULCANIZER in the market, and is now prepared to do all work upon the Rubber, or the other bases of GOLD and SILVER as formerly, if preferred.

The Rubber has several important advantages, viz.: It is very light and elastic, and consequently is perfectly easy to the muscles of the mouth and cheeks. There are no insertions or open joints to collect food, &c.; consequently they can be worn night and day, and are very easily kept neat and clean.

Beside all this, the most accurate fit is obtained, as the Rubber is Vulcanized directly upon the plaster model, and the suction is of course much stronger than in plates of Gold or Silver.

Any one who is waiting for their permanent teeth until I am confident, he perfectly satisfied with the Rubber, as a base. The expense is but a little more than for Silver, and you get the same weight (in blocks) that you would pay $60.00 for an upper or lower set in Gold.

In New York and Boston, and throughout the West, Vulcanized Rubber is used almost to the exclusion of the other bases, and by the best Dentists too. I will warrant a perfect fit and teeth from the best manufacturer in the country, S. S. White.

ALL OTHER OPERATIONS IN DENTISTRY I will do at the usual rates. I will here mention that my price for EXTRACTION is 25 cents.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TREADWELL, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr. OLIVER and Dr. BUNNETT, for particular success in extracting Teeth. Teeth extracted with little pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulating of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.— All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, or receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capoifics, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fever Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon a new and highly successful, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JUNE 29, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

The rebels occupied Gettysburg on Friday, with ten regiments of infantry, with cavalry and artillery. They also occupied South Mountain. Gov. Curtin has called for 60,000 men to defend the State of Pennsylvania. Gov. Parker, of New Jersey has called upon citizens to fill up the old regiments and to fill 5 regiments of infantry and 2 of cavalry for the war.

The rebels are reported to have been 8 miles from Harrisburg on Saturday; they had also cut the Northern Central railroad.

The Washington Republican says it is certain that Lee's whole army is north of the Potomac, Ewell in Pennsylvania, Longstreet between Boonsboro and Pennsylvania line, and Hill near Antietam accompanied by Lee himself. The Republican says Hooker is just where he ought to be, and will be heard from in due time. Washington dispatches state that Hooker has succeeded in getting in the rear of Lee. A dispatch from his army direct, 27th, reports it in motion, and that it would soon be to the front and north of Baltimore.

A guerrilla force occupied Fairfax Court House on Thursday night, the place having been evacuated by the Union troops.

Gen. Foster, on his own responsibility, is sending all his available force to Gen. Dix, to be used in taking Richmond, or to assist in repelling the rebel invasion, as Gen. Dix may think proper.

It is reported that the Roanoke, which mysteriously left New York, is to attempt the reduction of Fort Darling, co-operating in the advance on Richmond by Gens. Dix and Peck.

Official intelligence from Gen. Grant's army to the 20th inst. is received. Johnston is said to have withdrawn his troops from across the Big Black, and is moving toward Clinton.

Terrific cannonading was opened all along our lines at Vicksburg on Saturday, 20th, continuing until Sunday evening.

Gen. Banks again assaulted Port Hudson on the 14th, but was disastrously repulsed, losing many field officers. Our loss is stated at 100, killed and wounded. It was expected that another assault would be made on the 19th.

The Richmond Dispatch of the 23d reports the landing of a heavy column of Federal troops at some point on the York river. It also has a report of a battle in East Tennessee between Gen. Buckner and Gen. Burnside, in which the latter was twice repulsed, but commenced a flank movement, and compelled Buckner to fall back to Clinton in order to cover Knoxville.

By Telegraph, Sunday, to Messrs Hutchings, Haley, and others.

Among the prisoners captured on the schooner in Portland harbor on Saturday was the captain of the pirate Tacony and the 3d assistant engineer of the Florida. It seems they burned the Tacony, June 25, and transferred themselves to the schooner Archer, which they had captured and with which they went into Portland harbor on Thursday evening. The captain's memorandum book says:—"It is my intention, if the wind is right, to seize the steamer Forrest City and the cutter Caleb Cushing, set fire to the rest of the shipping, and go out, cruising along the coast with the view of entering exposed ports, burning shipping and destroying other property." He says he is familiar with Portland harbor and along the coast. The Cutter's crew say that between 12 and 1 o'clock on Saturday morning, five men, dressed as fishermen, came on board and took possession of the watch on deck. The Lieutenant came on deck, was seized and, finding resistance useless, surrendered, and with his crew was put in irons. The pirates then towed the Cutter down the harbor by means of row-boats. The crew of the Cutter refused to show them where the ammunition was kept. The crew of the Cutter are in close confinement, to await their examination. The pirates, some 30 in number, are also in close confinement in Fort Preble. The pirates would not have left the Cutter, nor blown her up, had they supposed the steamers were so feebly armed. They state that the Florida was in the offing when they seized the Cutter, but nothing has been seen of her. The Cutter's crew say that 10 of the pirates escaped in the morning to seize another vessel, but there is a patrol force stationed in the harbor, and if they have done this they cannot get out.

A Harrisburg dispatch, 27th, says that the rebel column under Gen. Early, which was at Gettysburg, reached the Northern Central railroad about noon and cut the wires, so that nothing further is known of their movements. A rebel column, which passed through Carlisle Saturday morning, was 12 miles from Harrisburg. The rebels are tearing up the track of the Northern Central R. R., 43 miles from Baltimore. The excitement at Harrisburg is intense: troops are rushing in from all parts of the state, responding to the Governor's call on Friday.

A letter from the Colonel of a New York regiment, from Gen. Banks' head-quarters, 18th, says two Wisconsin regiments were captured at Port Hudson, but makes no mention of any fight, as stated by the N. Y. Tribune. He says all was quiet and it was quite certain that there would be no renewal of the attack for several days.

A rebel force at Milliken's Bend, which had threatened to cut off Gen. Grant's supplies and which had been driven to Richmond, La., has been routed and dispersed. They numbered about 4000, and were a part of Kirby Smith's command. They fled down the river towards Delhi, where Gen. McCulloch is said to have a command about its equal in strength and numbers.

THE REVENUE CUTTER CALEB CUSHING, which had been lying at Portland for some months, was sent out on Thursday in search of the rebel pirates. After 12 hours' ineffectual search she returned, it is stated short of provisions. Her long stay there was caused by the sickness of her Captain, George Clarke, his disease being ossification of the valves of the heart, complicated with dropsy. He died on Friday. Previous to his death, the physician attending him had concluded that he would not be able to attend to his duties on board, and the Department was so informed. At the request of the underwriters in Portland, the Collector last week sent a telegram asking for authority to dispatch her at once for the capture of the Tacony. In reply he was ordered to victual her, &c., and hold her ready for officers already ordered. This was done, and her new commander was expected to arrive on Saturday. She was heavily armed, and, in anticipation of his arrival, two months' provisions were placed on board.

On Friday night, however, the cutter went to sea without orders, or any officers except Lieut. Davenport on board. The steamers Forrest City and Chesapeake were armed and members of the Maine 7th, and others, placed on board, and sent in pursuit; they overtook her about 12 o'clock, and as she resisted an engagement ensued. Lieut. Merriam, her new commander, went in one of the steamers. The crew of the cutter abondoned her, after applying a slow match to the magazine, and at twenty minutes before 2 o'clock she blew up. The crew were captured in a schooner, in which they had taken refuge; it was towed up by the steamers. Wm. F. Laighton, U. S. N., of this city, who is overseeing the building of gunboats in Portland, took charge of the Chesapeake's battery. The U. S. officials and the citizens of Portland acted with commendable promptness, and are worthy of all praise. The readiness with which they cut red tape is refreshing.

☞ It is stated in a private letter from an officer of the Weehawken, that the Atlanta cost $1,000,000 and had been supplied for a long cruise, of the success of which, in raising the blockade all along the coast, including the recapture of Port Royal, Norfolk and Portsmouth, and the destruction of the Washington Navy Yard, the most extravagant anticipations had been entertained by the Rebels. The Atlanta bore the new Rebel flag, which, under the law of the Rebel Congress, was not to be displayed till the first of July. The Atlanta had the honor to be the first rebel vessel to strike the new banner of treason to the Stars and Stripes. The writer adds: "If we were stronger than the Atlanta, I think it likely we were more humane also, for we were as kind to her officers as to brothers. One of them said to the captain of the Oleander tug, that brought the captured prisoners to Port Royal—'You use us better than we should have used you. We should have put all you officers in double irons.'"

THE PIRATES.—A large fleet of fishermen have arrived at Portland in order to escape from the pirates. A fishing vessel which arrived at Southport on Friday morning, reports that the pirate steamer destroyed 40 sail of vessels off Cape Sable on Wednesday and Thursday. It is suggested that this steamer may the N. P. Banks, recently captured while running the blockade, and sold to parties in Halifax.

Several vessels have sailed from Boston in search of the pirates, and at New York the steamers Ericsson, Star of the South, Honduras, Gov. Buckingham, and others have been chartered by the government.

☞ Adm. Foote died at the Astor House, in New York City, on Friday night. Sec. Welles has issued a general order referring in fitting terms to the great loss which the service has thus sustained, and directing that the flags at the several navy yards, naval stations, and on the flag ships of the squadrons, be hoisted at half-mast, and that 13 guns be fired at noon, on the day after the receipt of the order.

☞ The Democratic State Convention of Vermont met at Montpelier June 26; Hon. T. P. Redfield was nominated for Governor. Mr. Brooks of New York was the chief orator, speaking near two hours. At the close of his speech he was complimented with cheers, and cheers were also given for McClellan, Fitz John Porter, Horatio and Thomas H. Seymour, Vallandigham and others.

☞ A large number of American vessels at Liverpool are offered for sale because the danger of capture by the rebel privateers throws them out of employment. At the Waterloo docks in Liverpool the first week of this month there was but one American vessel—a sight that had not been witnessed since 1812.

☞ Secretary Welles has written a letter of thanks to Captain Rodgers of the Weehawken, in which he takes occasion to acknowledge not only the gallant services of that officer in in capturing the Atlanta, but also his conduct at Drury Bluff and elsewhere. He has been recommended for promotion.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Lieut. Charles Wilkins, of the Regular Army, formerly a private in the Goodwin Rifles of the 2d Regiment, who was wounded a few weeks ago in a battle before Vicksburg, died a day or two since in St. Louis, Mo., and his body is now on its way home to Henniker.

—— The Legislative committee on the State Prison, under a resolution of inquiry as to the discipline maintained at that institution, have made a report entirely approving of the present system, and deprecating any relaxation.

—— On Monday last, 22d inst., a little son of Mr. Theodore Currier, of Concord, sat down accidentally in a tub of boiling water, and was so badly scalded that he died on Tuesday evening. He was a bright little lad of three years of age.

—— Ellery C. Clarke, Asst. Surgeon of the 8th regiment, has been promoted to be Surgeon.

—— Maj. S. D. Farnsworth, Paymaster, has been ordered South to report to Gen. Banks. He will be stationed for the present at New Orleans.

—— The Mirror relates the story of a "gobbler" belonging to Mr. Warren Day, of Northwood, which took it into his head to "act," where upon he was furnished with a "nest full" of hen's eggs. In due course of time Sir Gobbler strutted forth with a dozen little chicks, which are now reported as "doing well."

—— A drunken Irishman drove his horse against a locomotive in Nashua on Monday morning, by which he and his team were thrown some twenty feet into a ditch. The horse was uninjured, but the man had one shoulder dislocated, three ribs broken, and his head and neck injured. He may recover.

—— A letter from the 10th N. H. regiment, written on the 21st inst., says they were ordered to be in readiness to leave the camp ground near Portsmouth, Va., where they have been for the past five weeks, at day-light last Monday morning, to go as the writer supposes towards Richmond.

—— The Legislative Committee and other gentlemen visited the House of Reformation on Thursday, to examine the improvements, &c. Interesting remarks were made by Hon. Horton D. Walker and Mayor Dearborn of this city, J. C. Hilliard, Esq., Chairman of the House Committee, and others.

—— The Ballot says that about midnight on Monday night, Luther J. Austin and Ira Moody called at a house in Kingston, occupied by two, elderly ladies, who were understood to have $500 in their possession. They kicked the door open and presented pistols at the breasts of the women, demanding where their money was. The villains ransacked the house, finding about $50. They were taken next day by Deputy Sheriff Moulton of Hampton, and lodged in jail.

—— The N. H. Soldiers' Aid Society held its first annual meeting at Washington on the 18th instant, and elected the following officers for the year ensuing:

President, Hon. Daniel Clark; Vice Presidents, Dr. John M. Brodhead, Hon. E. H. Rollins, Geo. J. Abbott, Esq.; Recording Secretary, John C. Wilson; Corresponding Secretary, James D. Stevens; Treasurer, Matthew G. Emery; Executive Committee, Hon. John P. Hale, John M. Brodhead, John S. Brown, Dr. Josiah A. Chamberlain, John R. Eastman, Stephen S. Bean, J. W. Sargent, Dr. H. E. Woodbury, M. B. Goodwin.

—— Mr. Harris, of Dublin, Senator from No. 9, is a brother of Mr. Harris, Representative of Boscawen; and Dublin is represented by Milan W. Harris, son of the Senator.

—— The Tannery of Jones & Messer, Scythe Factory Village, New-London, together with a large amount of leather, some of it ready for market—was entirely consumed early Thursday morning. Loss from $7,000 to $10,000. Insurance $3,500. Origin of the fire not known.

—— Gen. Marston has been assigned to the troops in the region of Poolesville, Md., between Washington and Harper's Ferry, with his Head-quarters at the first named place. It is a command of great responsibility, especially at this juncture.

—— Col. Potter is fast recovering. His wound is mostly healed, but he still uses crutches—not being yet able to bear much weight upon his limb.

—— A boy, 11 years old, has been sent to jail for attempting to steal a horse in Nashua on the evening of the 16th. He wanted the animal to ride at the Union Convention in Concord.

—— Near the southeast corner of the cemetery by the Unitarian Church in Nashua, is an elegant monument of Italian marble, newly erected. It consists of two fluted Doric columns, of unequal length, broken, resting on marble pedestals, standing side by side on a plinth of plain grey granite. On the die, at the foot of the longer column, is this simple inscription:—"Albin Beard, born Feb. 28, 1808; Died Sept. 16, 1862." On the shorter one is inscribed:—"Alfred Beard, born Feb. 28, 1808; Died Apr. 18, 1839." The latter is surmounted by a wreath of roses and morning glories; the former by one composed of laurel and oak leaves, both emblematic and appropriate. The lot is enclosed by granite stone work of Gothic design, and on each side of the entrance are marble vases of exquisite workmanship.

☞ The Boston Post says:—

"The Captain of the Tacony, a native of Cape Cod, has threatened to land and burn Provincetown, and some people think he will do it."

And again:—

"There is too much reason to believe the report that one of the officers of the bark Tacony is a native of Cape Cod. It is not probable that any Southerner could well understand or calculate upon the movements of our mackerel or cod fishermen, or know anything of their different fishing grounds as the season progresses."

Uncle Toby can guess at this Native's politics;—but it would be interesting to the public to be informed by some one, who knows him, what party he has acted with of late years.

GEN. BUTLER'S TIME.—The Mirror states that in the two mile heats between Butler and Patchen, to wagons, when the former made the heat in 4:56 1-4, he beat Flora's best wagon time, for two miles, by 10 3-4s; and that of Peerless, carrying Hiram Woodruff's weight, 23-4s. He also beat Lady Palmer's time 2 3-4s, but then she carried Sim Hoagland, wagon and driver, 311 lbs.

☞ The name of the steamer run ashore on Morris Island, Charleston harbor, recently, supposed to be the Beauregard, proves to be the Ruby.

☞ Capt. Webb, of the rebel iron-clad Atlanta, fainted away at the moment of the surrender of his vessel to the Weehawken.

☞ Gen. Grant, in one of his recent letters from Vicksburg, remarked that "he had 18,000 prisoners in front of him who are temporarily boarding themselves."

☞ Maj. Gen. Sickles has returned to his command.

☞ The N. Y. Tribune says Montgomery's raids are by order of the government.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, when the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by such to restrain the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cure, was the point needed in a preparation. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be sacred, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION, and to prove the declarations by true results.

THE THEATRE TO-NIGHT.—All our readers know that Miss Kate Reignolds is veritably one of the queens of the stage, and has few if any equals in her line of characters. And that she brings her select and talented comedy company here for a couple of nights, will be a delight to all lovers of the drama. For the very reason that many theatre-goers prefer a play well read by one first rate actor, to having it half acted by a dozen mostly mediocre performers; and would choose no scenery at all, rather than any except the most extensive and perfect—for these very reasons will all be entirely satisfied with what the audience will undoubtedly receive on the Temple boards this evening. The troupe is as good as can be desired, and large enough to do the most ample justice to all they under take. There is to be good music on this occasion, too—viol and piano performances "Good wine needs no bush," nor do the actors named in this company, require any introduction or praise. Their fame is a part of the history of the times—and no small or unimportant part of the times either, are the people's amusements or entertainments. For particulars, see programme circulated.

We are requested to state that the nine lower seats in the centre division, will alone be "reserved" on this occasion. Tickets for these can be obtained at Wm. R. Preston's Apothecary Store.

THE CIRCUS TO-MORROW.—The Boston Journal says:—

The performances given by the Union Combination Circus Company in Boston proved in all respects worthy of the very large audiences which were present at each exhibition. The equestrian department is of rare excellence. Among those deserving particular commendation is Mr. James Melville, whose dashing bareback act is a most thrilling and sensational feat. George Ross is also an excellent rider, and performs his novel pirouetting act with remarkable grace and skill. The acrobatic feats of Melville and his sons are beautiful and pleasing, while the wonderful trapeze performances of Messrs. Shappee and Whitney deserve all the applause bestowed upon them. Cooke's trained Dogs and educated Monkeys are irresistibly comic, and afford infinite amusement. The acting of these animals in the "Ball Room Scene" is truly wonderful. In fact, the Union Combination is a great show, and is in all respects worthy of patronage.

Two performances are given, at 2 1-2 and 7 1-2 P. M., to-morrow.—See advertisement.

☞ Miss Kate Reignolds' appearance at the Temple this evening should not be forgotten by those who would appreciate and enjoy the rare opportunity afforded of witnessing this beautiful and talented actress. Her complimentary benefit in Portland on Friday evening, the Argus states, was a decided success in every respect, the house being filled with the elite and fashion of the city. Over three hundred reserved seats had been disposed of before 11 o'clock on Friday morning, and the remainder of the parquette was engaged before 3 o'clock.

☞ Mr. George A. Spinney, a native of this city, and a member of the 1st Massachusetts Cavalry, was killed in the fight at Aldie, Va., June 17th. He had previously served for 3 months in the famous 6th Mass. He was 25 years of age, and was, we believe, a son of Mr. Benjamin Spinney.

☞ James Rutledge and R. A. Varney, of Co. K, 2d N. H. regiment, were at Chestnut Hill Hospital in Philadelphia, June 23.

☞ That sample box of Strawberries, from Avery's, was among the largest and finest we have seen—Wilson's seedlings, from the beds of Mr. Lane at Candia, one of the largest growers in the State.

☞ The Manchester Union states that to-day, Moqday, an express train will commence running from Rouse's Point through to Boston, stopping only at the larger stations. The train will leave Concord about 6 o'clock A. M., and arrive in Boston about half past 8; returning will leave Boston at 6 P. M., reaching Manchester a little less than 2 hours after, making a quick trip. There is to be no change of conductors, as Mr. James Jones, so well known as a popular and efficient conductor on the Portsmouth railroad, is to run the train through from Concord and return.

☞ A movement is on foot to organize rifle corps throughout the loyal States, upon a plan similar to that in vogue in England and Switzerland, with a view of creating a force that shall be available for any emergency. The men are to be supplied with the Springfield or Enfield rifle, which are the recognized arm of the infantry portion of the United States service. It is proposed to organize this force into independent companies, to be armed and equipped by the several States to which they belong, and to be under the immediate control of the said States. In order to secure proper persons for this force, applications will be made to the different State Legislatures to offer prizes every year, to be competed for by the companies as often as once a year. Congress will also be asked to offer prizes to be competed for every three years.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.—In the Senate, on Thursday, petitions from Rochester, Alton, Farmington and New Durham, in favor of the railroad extension to this city, were presented. The act to incorporate the Suncook Valley R. R. was passed.

In the House, many more petitions for a law allowing soldiers to vote, were presented. The election case in Ward 5, Manchester, was discussed; the minority report was presented, claiming that only three of the names upon the check list were wrongfully there, and that the Ward was entitled to two Representatives; and that, therefore, the two elected on the first day were legally elected, but the one elected on the second day was not legally elected. Pending the discussion the House adjourned.

☞ The Portland Press learns that over twenty of the students of Bowdoin College have procured leave of absence for six months and enlisted in the Third Rhode Island regiment of cavalry now forming under Col. Fales. It is understood that students from other of our New England colleges propose to join this regiment, which is to be officered by men who have already done service in the war.

☞ Peter Apple, of Oakland, Marion county, was lately recruited for the 11th Indiana, and took part in the attempt to storm one of the Vicksburg batteries. The Rebel fire was so destructive that our army recoiled. Apple, the "raw recruit," "didn't see" the backward movement and kept going ahead until he came right up to one of the Rebel guns, caught a gunner by the collar and brought him within ourlines saying: "Boys, why didn't you come on. Every fellow might have got one."

☞ The Hat Factory at Newburyport, is now in successful operation, employing between fifty and sixty hands—male and female. About thirty or forty dozen hats, are finished every day, and a ready sale is had. More machinery is to be added as soon as possible, and when completed will give employment to about double the number now at work.

☞ The end of the first half of the year 1863 is at hand; 1st of July is a good time to settle all accounts. Many of our traders now present their bills twice a year, and it would be better if all did so. We shall be pleased to settle all charges against us "about that time;" and equally gratified to receive our dues.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

SCHOOLEY'S

NEW IMPROVED

ICEBERG REFRIGERATORS.

This upright REFRIGERATOR combines every improvement. It is the most perfect article of the kind in the market, requiring less ice than any other, and keeping its contents sweet and free from any unpleasant odors.

Daniel T. Curtis, Fruit dealer, Boston, says of it, "I have preserved grapes and pears, peaches, and an extensive variety of plums and berries for five or six weeks in Schooley's Refrigerator."

Oren Peck, Boylston Market, Boston, says, "I find, on careful trial, that it will keep meats perfectly fresh and dry for ten or twelve days."

John Hunt, Butter dealer, Cincinnati, says, "I can keep butter sweet and fresh any length of time in reason, say six weeks."

C. E. Carpenter, Ice Dealer, Providence, says, "I have kept a cup of custard in one of Schooley's Refrigerators during the warm weather one week, when I ate it and found it perfectly good."

Thousands of similar testimonials can be shown in its favor.

SCHOOLEY'S ICE KING REFRIGERATOR (Patented Jan. 6, 1863.) We present the ICE KING to our customers as the "ne plus ultra" of cheap Refrigerators, combining in its operation all of the great improvements necessary for complete ventilation. In the introduction of Patent Refrigerators to the public, the cost of construction has been necessarily so great as to prevent their sale to the "million." The consequence has been that those who could not afford to purchase a Patent ventilated Refrigerator, were compelled to procure one of the old style, or go without.

We are now happy to state that, by the introduction of our new patent ICE KING, we can offer to the million a complete ventilated Refrigerator, well made, lined throughout with zinc, at cheaper prices than ever before sold.

HELMBOLD'S

GENUINE PREPARATION,

"HIGHLY CONCENTRATED"

COMPOUND

FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

A Positive and Specific Remedy

For Diseases of the

BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the ABSORBENTS into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcerous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for Men, Women, or Children.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

FOR WEAKNESSES

Arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, or Abuse,

ATTENDED WITH THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS:

Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Flushing of the Body, Hot Hands, Eruptions on the Face, Dryness of the Skin.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follow IMPOTENCY, MATRIMONY, INSANITY and DEATH. In one of which the patient may expire. Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those Direful diseases,

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION.

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the Insane Asylums and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

THE CONSTITUTION, ONCE AFFECTED WITH ORGANIC WEAKNESS,

Requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most skeptical.

Females, Females, Females,

OLD OR YOUNG, SINGLE, MARRIED, OR CONTEMPLATING MARRIAGE.

In many affections peculiar to Females the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorts or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of the Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous state of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from Indiscretion, Habits of Dissipation, or in the

It causes frequent desire, and gives strength to Urinate, thereby removing obstructions, preventing and curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying pain and inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling Poisonous, Diseased and Worn-out Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands

WHO HAVE BEEN THE VICTIMS OF QUACKS,

and who have paid many Fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "Poison" has by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been driven up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in the city and vicinity, who have been using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, providing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off into the cone, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert H. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. It from two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to a trivial—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a sucker, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DENTISTRY.

No. 60 CONGRESS STREET, Portsmouth, Jan. 1st, 1863.

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully inform his patrons and the public, (having had of late many calls to insert teeth with a plate for the palate,) that he has purchased the best VULCANIZER in the market, and is now prepared to do all work upon RUBBER BASE, as good as upon GOLD and SILVER as formerly, if preferred.

The Rubber has several important advantages, viz.: It is very light and elastic, and consequently is perfectly easy to the mouth, lips and cheeks. There are no insertices or open joints to collect food, &c.; consequently they can be worn night and day, and are very easily kept neat and clean.

Beside all this, the most accurate fit is obtained, as the Rubber is Vulcanized directly upon the plaster model, and the suction is of course much stronger than in plates of Gold or Silver.

Any one who is waiting for their permanent teeth will, I am confident, be perfectly satisfied with the Rubber, as a base. The expense is but a little more than for Silver, and you get the same teeth (in blocks) that you would pay $60.00 for an upper or lower set on Gold.

In New York and Boston, and throughout the West, Vulcanized Rubber is used almost to the exclusion of the other bases, and by the best Dentists too. I will warrant a perfect fit and teeth from the best manufacturer in the country, $. $. $. Warranted.

ALL OTHER OPERATIONS IN DENTISTRY I will do at the usual rates. I will here mention that my price for Extractions is 25 cents.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TREADWELL, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr OLIVER and Dr. BENNETT, for particular success in extracting teeth. Teeth extracted without pain, and in perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

Please call and examine specimens of Artificial Teeth upon Vulcanized Rubber, Gold and Silver.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

☞ At the great Cathedral in Baltimore where the wealthiest people in the city worship, the Archbishop prayed for blessings upon the President. Immediately the well-dressed women present arose from their knees and refused to join in the supplication. When the prayer touched upon other topics they became devout again. Other little evidences of treason are common in that city;—and something of the same sort exists in places further North, where similar loyalty in a prayer or discourse offends the conscience or the will of some partisan allies of the rebellion,—not only of those who go to meeting, but also of those who, like that model patriot and christian Dr. B., have not been to church for ten years.

C. T.

A SMOKE ON THE BATTLE FIELD.—A newspaper correspondent relates the following incident of Gen. Grant:

"You cannot read in General Grant's countenance how a battle is going. But there is one key by which some idea may be formed as to how he feels while the struggle progresses. The Generals in camp addicted to the 'use of the weed' to a moderate extent; but on the battle field he indulges more than usual. The more desperate the battle, the more extravagant his use of Cubas and Principes. When his men are pushing forward and the enemy giving way, the blue smoke ascends at regular intervals, in small and scarcely perceptible curls. When the battle ground is being contested, his face is lost in Cuban exhalations. When there is a prospect that the day will go against him, he ceases to smoke, and commences to punish his innocent exotic by vigorously biting the end of it. When he rides along the lines without a cigar there is no enemy in front except a small body of rebel cavalry, and he knows it. General Sherman is an inveterate smoker on the battle field also. When he was wounded at Shiloh, he wrapped his pocket handkerchief around his hand, lit a cigar, and became more earnest than ever."

THE "NO CARD" MANIA.—This is taken from the Rochester Union and Daily Advertiser:

The First Marriage.—And Adam said: This is now bone of my bone, and flesh of my flesh, she shall be called woman, because she was taken out of man. Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife. They shall be one flesh. No cards.

☞ It is given out that in order to encourage the re enlistment of the two years' and the nine months' soldiers, whose term of service has expired, the Government proposes to offer these veterans, in addition to the one hundred dollars bounty and pay which all the National soldiers receive, a special bounty of three hundred dollars; that these soldiers are then to be formed into a special corps, and that the Government is to be reimbursed, man for man, for this three hundred dollars, from the substitute fund to be raised under the draft, and which, by the terms of the act, must be devoted to this purpose. This is an excellent idea, and we hope that it will immediately be put into practice.—Boston Post.

☞ How far the copperhead movement in the North invited and encouraged the present rebel invasion of Maryland and Pennsylvania, it is impossible to say, but there can be no doubt that the speeches of Vallandigham and Wood have encouraged the rebels with the idea that they have friends in the North who would offer them sympathy if not substantial aid. The doctrines of these men tend most directly to weaken the government in its effort to subdue the rebellion by force of arms, and of course tend to the same extent to strengthen the rebels in their attempt to achieve independence by such instrumentalities.

☞ The Leavenworth, Kansas, Conservative nominates Col. C. R. Jennison, commonly known as Jawhawker Jennison, and Wendell Phillips, as President and Vice-President in 1864.

☞ There are over seven hundred gold and silver mining companies in Nevada Territory, with capitals ranging between two hundred and fifty thousand to five millions of dollars.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JUNE 30, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Hooker was on Saturday night relieved from the command of the Army of the Potomac, at his own request, and Gen. Meade appointed his successor. The N. Y. Times' Baltimore dispatch says the entire Army of the Potomac is on the north side of the river. A portion of our cavalry is operating in the advance, and the remainder are in the rebels' rear.

Governor Tod, in answer to an urgent letter from Gen. Burnside, has made a strong appeal to the people of Ohio to organize for the defense of that State.

Three rebel brigades of cavalry are reported moving eastward toward the Washington branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. They passed within 14 miles north of Washington, and it is presumed that their object is the trestle work between Washington and Annapolis junction.

A Washington dispatch to a Philadelphia paper says captured rebels state that Stuart's cavalry division with artillery is marching on the railroad between Washington and Baltimore. The rebels have occupied York and Hanover Junction, and it is reported that they are destroying all the iron works on the south side of the Susquehanna. They evidently are endeavoring to concentrate at Harrisburg.

The Philadelphia Press reports the greater part of the rebel army to be in Pennsylvania, and that Lee in person is marching on Philadelphia, having occupied Wrightsville on the Susquehanna, two days' march from that city. He has destroyed the railroad communication between Harrisburg and Baltimore. The Mayor of Philadelphia has appealed to the citizens to organize to repel Lee. The collieries have been closed to enable the men to volunteer. All the stores in the city are also to be closed. The militia of New Jersey have been called out.

Refugees now report that only a small guard is left at Richmond.

Gen. Dix, reports that a Union cavalry raid sent out by him destroyed the bridge over the South Anna, captured Gen. W. F. Lee and Col. Hearrable, four captains, five lieutenants and 100 privates, and thirty-five wagons, and from seventy-five to one hundred horses. He took $15,000 in Confederate bonds, just issued, from an agent of the authorities at Richmond. This is public property. No private property has been touched.

On the 18th, 300 rebel cavalry dashed into Plaquemine, La., which was not guarded by military forces, and burned the steamers Anglo American, Southern Merchant, L. A. Sykes, and Segur, also a barque and 75 bales of cotton. Thirty Convalescent soldiers of the 28th Maine regiment, including Lieutenant and Quartermaster C. H. Withers, were taken prisoners.

Advices from Port Hudson to the 20th represent our forces as steadily advancing. Our first parallel completely enclosed the outer line of rebel breastworks, and our skirmishers were behind rifle pits within 20 yards of the rebel entrenchments. Deserters state that Gen. Gardiner refused a demand by his own rebel officers to surrender to Gen. Banks.

The Nashville Union reports that one division of the Federal army captured 3000 rebels on Saturday, when going through Hoover's Gap.

☞ There was a false alarm in Portland, soon after 3 o'clock on Monday morning, the whole city being aroused by a wild rumor that a privateer was landing men below the fort. The report was brought up by a messenger from Fort Preble, and the bells were rung. The vessel, however, proved to be a fisherman. It is said to be evident that the report of the doings of vessels in the Bay of Fundy, arose from the capture of the Archer by the Tacony and the burning of the bark. Perhaps the rebels, in their character of fishermen, spread the report to the fishing fleet themselves, to draw off attention from the raid in Portland. It is also evident that there are no other privateers on our coast. We have every man who joined the Clarence from the pirates Alabama and Florida, including the three taken from the Byzantium. So there is no truth in the reported escape of a boat load of men Saturday morning.

☞ Gen. Dana has issued an address to the citizens of Philadelphia, recommending them to prepare instantly for the preservation of their homes by closing their places in the afternoon, and devoting the remainder of the day to military organization and instruction.

☞ All the bonds taken from captured vessels by the pirate Tacony were discovered aboard the Archer, and are now in loyal possession.

☞ Pleasanton has been appointed a Major General and commands the cavalry forces.

The rebel invaders are under their old General Pillage.—Newburyport Herald.

THE PIRACY AT PORTLAND.—The Portland papers give additional particulars of the capture and destruction of the cutter Caleb Cushing. It seems from the statements of Lt. Reed, the commander of the pirate Tacony, that they had changed the name of the latter vessel to the bark Florida. They went into Portland harbor in the Archer, after burning the Tacony, about sundown on Friday, and anchored below Victoria wharf, having put their brass 12-pounder in the hold, and their other arms out of sight. Until night they busied themselves with their glasses in taking a survey of the harbor, its defences, the city, and everything which came within range. They did not leave the schooner, but determined on the following programme: To lie still until midnight, then seize the cutter, run down to the Archer, and transfer all the guns, ammunition and stores from the Archer to the cutter, set fire to the two new U. S. gunboats which are lying at Franklin wharf waiting for their machinery, and to the elevator and the shipping, then run past the forts and take the Forest City on her way in, thus preventing pursuit. If the forts attacked them, they intended to run back into the harbor, and shell the town!

The bright moonlight, the perfect calm, and the circumstance that there was a party at a hotel on one of the Islands, which kept a small steamer moving in the harbor until after midnight, prevented the entire consummation of their plans. They accordingly boarded the cutter from two boats.—The men were armed, and boarded on both quarters simultaneously. The watch was secured, and the crew were awakened by the rebels, who stood over them with revolvers and threatened them with death if they made any noise. One of the crew tried to escape through the fore hatch to swim ashore and give the alarm, but was caught and secured. The rebels at once proceeded to make sail, hove up the anchors, and placing two boats ahead, towed her out through Hussey's Sound, thus avoiding the forts. The lieutenant and crew of the cutter, twenty in number, were kept below in irons until they were ready to set fire to her, at the approach of the steamers, when they were put into one of the cutter's boats with their irons on; but on being requested, the rebels threw the keys of the handcuffs on board the boat, and thus enabled the sailors to release themselves, and pull away from the cutter. The pirates steered in their boats for Harpswell, but were pursued and picked up by the Forest City. The Archer was afterwards captured.

Lieut. Reed, the commander of the pirate, is apparently about 23 years of age, and was dressed in naval uniform. He was born in Mississippi, and graduated at the Naval School at Annapolis in 1860.—Mr. Brown, second in command, is about the same age, and dressed in ordinary citizens' dress. He is a native of Norfolk, Va. Most of the men are natives or residents of the South, but there is a large sprinkling of the foreign element in their "make up."

☞ The Louisville Journal—an intensely Conservative and Pro-Slavery, but not exactly pro-Rebel sheet—thus tartly rebukes the more reckless traitors,—whom it carefully distinguishes from loyal democrats:

"We look at the columns of the Philadelphia Evening Journal; we read the speeches of Peace factionists and the resolutions of their meeting, and while they have no word of commendation or encouragement for those who are engaged in fighting the battles of this war for the preservation of the Union, we find that they are equally and most significantly silent in condemnation and execration of the Rebellion and of those who are endeavoring to overthrow the Government. When such men propose an armistice, we can see but little difference between them and rebels in arms; the former would destroy the country by cunning strategy, and the latter by open assault.—The patriotic Democracy, to which we turn with hope and encouragement in these terrible trials, is firmly in favor of sustaining the Government in all those measures which it deems indispensably necessary to secure a peace by putting down the rebellion, and the more steadily and resolutely it adheres to this policy, the more extended will be its scope of its usefulness, and the more brilliant the successes which it must achieve before the people."

☞ Christie McCane beat his wife severely in New York City, on Saturday, and set fire to the bed on which she was lying, and burned her to death. Both were drunk.

☞ It is understood that the proposed procession and demonstration by the Union League of Philadelphia on the 4th of July, has been postponed in consideration of the existing circumstances.

☞ A sheet of paper was manufactured last week at a paper mill at Cohoes, Albany county, N.Y., forty inches wide and eight and a half miles long.

☞ Col. Billy Wilson, of the New York 6th, is in the field again, seeking authority to raise a brigade.

☞ The New York Herald mentions a rumor that the U. S. schooner Kittatinny had been captured by the pirates.

☞ Gen. Franklin has been ordered to report without delay to Gen. Banks.

☞ Gen. Hooker has gone to Baltimore.

☞ A crazy woman, armed with several butcher knives nicely sharpened, entered one of the public schools of Cincinnati some days since, while the children were at their studies, and brandishing her terrible weapons in a manner truly appalling to juvenile eyes, declared her intention of wholesale massacre by killing all the pretty girls in the room; the plain faced ones she intended to allow to live. Before this announcement, all the young misses considering themselves pretty (they were in the majority, of course) made a rush to the windows and threw themselves to the ground. Fortunately the maniac was secured before she had an opportunity to put her threat into execution. None of the children were injured.

It is stated that a fast sailing schooner which was sold at auction at East Boston, three weeks ago, took on board last week a lot of groceries and liquors, (and cleared at the Custom House for an Eastern port,) was intended for a privateer, and was armed when she sailed with two brass swivel 6 pounders. She carried a crew of twenty men. She is about 80 tons burthen, and was built at Essex five years ago. She sailed under British colors, and the officers were from Maine and the British Provinces. —Boston Herald.

☞ They have a model hackman in Portland, named John Mace. Any sick or wounded soldier, without money, meeting him, finds a friend and a hack at his service. On Thursday he took a little girl to the depot, who lost her railroad ticket, and not having more money with her, he stepped up to the ticket office and bought her another and sent her on her way rejoicing.

☞ A case of black mail which has excited some remark in New York has lately been exposed. It appears that two swindling lawyers extorted thousands of dollars from the late Richmond P. Haight by threatening to divulge his intimacy with a married lady while both were living at the St. Nicholas hotel. The intimacy was an innocent one, but Mr. Haight's fears were successfully acted upon.

☞ Baltimore, with its barricaded streets, is said to have come nearer to Paris in revolution, than any American city before. The negroes were impressed into the service and went to the work of fortifying, like heroes, singing their Marseilhise—"John Brown's body lies moulding in the grave." The barricades consisted chiefly of tobacco, which was never put to a better use.

☞ The N. Y. Daily News is vociferously crying "Peace, Peace, Peace!" without defining what it means by Peace, and with an apparent disposition to be content with a little piece of the old Union, the old Constitution, and the old government, and a still smaller piece of the old Democratic party, says the Express.

☞ After the 30th of June all officers communicating in writing with the War Department or any of its bureaus, must mark their letters "official," with their own names in full on the corner of the envelope, in order to have their communication receive attention. Such letters need no post-office stamps.

☞ Governor Smith of Rhode Island, on Saturday night called the Providence Marine Artillery to protect the west passage in Narragansett Bay. The Newport artillery are ordered to guard the east passage. The President has authorized these movements.

☞ On the 10th of May, 1862, five hundred and seven buildings were burnt down in Troy, including hundreds of the best stores and dwellings; loss over $3,000,000. In eight months from that time, two hundred and forty buildings were erected on the burnt district at a cost of $1,300,000.—This year probably the whole will be built up again.

☞ Officer McKinney, who was shot by the desperado in Troy, Me., has been carried to his home in Belfast, and is in a fair way of recovery. Knowles, one of the desperadoes, who was reported to have shot himself, it is thought may recover from his wound.

☞ The Sanitary Commission has disbursed nearly the value of the large sum of five millions of dollars in supplies, medicines, and clothing, since its organization, which the documents of the Commission exhibit.

☞ The Detroit ladies put their old crinoline to good use. They suspend them by a pole running through the centre, thus forming a circular trellis, around which cypress vines and morning glories clamber in the wildest luxuriance.

☞ By a new order of the War Department, all men enlisting within ninety days in the regular army for five years are to receive a premium, advance pay and bounty of $402.

☞ The report in a Spiritualist paper that Stonewall Jackson has become an Abolitionist since his death, and has joined John Brown's phalanx of philanthropists, "lacks confirmation."

☞ Blue Fish have again made their appearance in the Merrimac, proving themselves a terror to all smaller fish who claim a lawful right to "our river."

GOV. GILMORE WIDE-AWAKE.—The Governor on Monday morning telegraphed to Hon. Thomas L. Tulluck, asking if any thing could be done immediately to make our harbor more secure. The Governor wants to know if all the guns are in position to defend the harbor and well manned. The Mayor and Navy agent and other gentlemen visited the Forts on Monday and everything is in condition to give the pirates a warm reception, both at the Forts and the Navy Yard.

THEATRE.—Miss Kate Reignolds and her talented Company gave a splendid entertainment at the Temple last evening, to a large and fashionable audience—delighting all. The Portland Argus, whose reporter went down in the steamer Chesapeake in the pursuit of the Caleb Cushing, states that Mr. William F. Laighton, of this city, had command of that steamer,—not of her battery as stated by the dispatch. From his graphic account of the encounter we glean the following incidents:—When the cutter fired her first shot Mr. Laighton said to the pilot, "steer for her, and we'll run her down or go to the bottom." The Forest City, however, soon steamed up and got into position to hail the Chesapeake, and asked what course she intended to take. Mr. L. proposed that the two boats should attack the cutter, one on each side, but this was deemed objectionable, as the cutter had superior armament, and it was then proposed to run her down. "Will you take the lead?" asked Mr. Laighton. "No; you had better go ahead; we are not prepared," was the reply. "All right," said Mr. Laighton, "we shall steer straight for her and run into her any way we can, and you can take what's left." With cheers, and shouts—"stand by your flag," exchanged between the steamers, the order is received to put on all steam, and run her down by striking her amidships, or else run alongside and board. The cutter was about two miles distant. She displayed no colors. The brass field-piece on her bow gleamed in the sunlight. Her deck seemed covered with armed men.

But the pirates, always so brave in attacking unarmed fishermen and defenceless merchantmen, feared the coming blow. They fired the cutter, took to the boats, and fled. The small boat containing the cutter's crew, (who were still supposed to have run away with the vessel,) rowed towards the Chesapeake. Presently smoke was seen curling up from the cutter amidships, and there was a shout—"they have set her on fire,—sink the devils!" But no, for Mr. L. saw a white handkerchief raised in the boat, and said—"hold! the first man that fires shall be shot; I am not a pirate to fire on a flag of truce!" The boat came alongside, Lieut. Davenport was among them, and was violently agitated as the men helped pull him on board. He turned and said—"It is hard, after a man has been taken a prisoner, ironed, and his life threatened by pirates, to be shot by his own friends!"—The men, one by one, (nineteen in all) came up the side, some of them with the irons on their wrists. Their story carried its own proof with it, and Col. Mason ordered them below.

The Argus editorally refers in high terms to the conduct of Mr. Laighton in the emergency, and, in speaking of the necessity of providing immediate means for defence says:—

Let the Chesapeake of the New York line, which is admirably adapted for an armament, be at once purchased and fitted up for service. It could all be done by private enterprise in ten days or two weeks. Then let Mr. Wm. F. Laighton, who has been a warrant officer in the navy 14 years, who has seen every variety of service, is thoroughly competent and energetic, knows how to fight a ship and dares do it, be put in command, and our word for it, not only will she protect our harbor from such rebel raids, but she will do more to keep privateers off our coast than has yet been done by the navy.

It is remarkable that since colored troops have commenced to be organized by Gen. Thomas on the Mississippi, by Gov. Andrew in Boston, and by Col. Birney in Washington, not a sentence has appeared in the Southern papers mentioning the fact. They know their weak point, and it is entirely concealed from the people.

Should the steamer Chesapeake be purchased for the defence of Portland harbor, she should be named the "Jewett," in honor of the Collector there, who acted so promptly on Saturday.

The merchants are talking about building a dry dock in Portland.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The oration at Manchester on the 4th of July is to be delivered on Concord Square.

—— A young man wishing to bathe in the Merrimack river, jumped out of a boat at Reed's Ferry, on Friday noon, rose once, and sunk and did not rise again. He was a student at that place, and 17 years of age. His parents reside in Kennebunk, Me., his name being Charles Christenson.

—— The N. H. Battery, it is said, at present numbers only a hundred men and in consequence has been reduced to a four gun battery, and two of the Lieutenants, E. H. Hobbs and H. F. Condit, are to be mustered out of the service. A petition has been sent to the Legislature, to have the battery recruited to the maximum number, thereby enabling them to retain their six guns and four lieutenants.

—— The Manchester American states that four members of the Supreme Court were present at Concord on Friday, and gave an adverse opinion as to the constitutionality of the Soldiers' Voting Bill.

Seventy thousand dollars' worth of postal currency of small denominations was sent off to Washington from the U. S. Sub-Treasury in Boston, last week, to be destroyed and substituted by the new issue soon to be printed.

It will be seen that Mr. Davis' Singing Schools are to be held on Wednesday afternoon and evening, henceforth; and we can hardly conceive of sensible and appreciative parents wilfully or carelessly neglecting to improve this rare opportunity for their children, to secure what will be a lifelong source of pleasure and benefit;—or of young people who really wish to have more and better singing here, failing to attend the evening school. Mr. Davis has two fine classes, but the hall will well accommodate a larger number, and such tuition has long been a public need here.—The hall is a beautiful place for the purpose, and the teacher one with whom parents may safely trust their children, and to whom they will get attached.

See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. ly.

SCHOOLEY'S
NEW IMPROVED
ICEBERG REFRIGERATORS.

This upright REFRIGERATOR combines every improvement. It is the most perfect article of the kind in the market, requiring less ice than any other, and keeping its contents sweet and free from any unpleasant odors.

Daniel T. Curtis, Fruit dealer, Boston, says of it, "I have preserved grapes and pears, peaches, and an extensive variety of plums and berries for five or six weeks in Schooley's Refrigerator."

Oren Peck, Boylston Market, Boston, says, "I find, on careful trial, that it will keep meats perfectly fresh and dry for ten or twelve days."

John Hunt, Butter dealer, Cincinnati, says, "I can keep butter sweet and fresh any length of time in reason, say six weeks."

C. E. Carpenter, Ice Dealer, Providence, says, "I have kept a cup of custard in one of Schooley's Refrigerators during the warm weather one week, when I ate it and found it perfectly good."

Thousands of similar testimonials can be shown in its favor.

SCHOOLEY'S ICE KING REFRIGERATOR. (Patented Jan. 6, 1863.) We present the ICE KING to our customers as the "ne plus ultra" of cheap Refrigerators, combining in its operation all of the great improvements necessary for complete ventilation. In the introduction of Patent Refrigerators to the public, the cost of construction has been necessarily so great as to prevent their sale to the "million." In consequence has been that those who could not afford to purchase a Patent ventilated Refrigerator, were compelled to procure one of the old style, or go without.

We are now happy to state that, by the introduction of our new patent ICE KING, we can offer to the million a complete ventilated Refrigerator, well made, lined throughout with zinc, at cheaper prices than ever before offered.

The various sizes of the above are for sale by the subscriber—also, ICE PITCHERS, ICE AWLS, &c.

Genuine Preparations, Viz.:

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT "BUCHU,"

HELMBOLD'S

GENUINE PREPARATION,

COMPOUND

FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

A Positive and Specific Remedy

For Diseases of the

BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the ABSORBERS into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcerous depositions, and all Urinary Embarrassments are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for Men, Women, or Children.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

FOR WEAKNESSES

Arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, or Abuse,

ATTENDED WITH THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS:

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System.	Flushing of the Body,
Hot Hands,	Eruption on the Face,
	Evil Forebodings,
	Dryness of the Skin.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follow IMPOTENCY, PARTIAL OR ENTIRE LOSS OF MANHOOD, PARTIAL PARALYTIC FITS. In one of which the patient may expire. Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION,

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the insane Asylums and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

THE CONSTITUTION, ONCE AFFECTED WITH ORGANIC WEAKNESS,

Requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most skeptical.

Females, Females, Females,

OLD OR YOUNG, SINGLE, MARRIED, OR CONTEMPLATING MARRIAGE,

In many affections peculiar to Females the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorois or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of the Menses, Uterine Excretions, Ulcerated or Schirrous state of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from Indiscretion, Habits of Dissipation, or in the

In all their stages; at little expense; little or no change in diet; no inconvenience.

AND NO EXPOSURE.

It causes frequent desire, and gives strength to Urinate, thereby removing obstructions, preventing and curing Strictures of the Urethra, Allaying pain and inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling Poisonous, Diseased and Worn-out Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands

WHO HAVE BEEN THE VICTIMS OF QUACKS,

and who have paid Away Fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "Poison" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and

PERHAPS AFTER MARRIAGE.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot fail to be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former ones, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fire or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off into the fire, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. It from two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depression—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DENTISTRY.

No. 60 CONGRESS STREET,
Portsmouth, Jan. 1st, 1863.

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully inform his patrons and the public, (having had of late many calls to insert teeth upon VULCANIZED RUBBER,) that he has purchased the best VULCANIZER in the market, and is now prepared to do all work upon RUBBER, or the Other Bases of GOLD and SILVER as formerly, if preferred.

The Rubber has several important advantages, viz.: It is very light and elastic, and consequently is perfectly easy to the wearer, gums and cheeks. There are no insertices or open joints to collect food, &c.; consequently they can be worn night and day, and are very easily kept neat and clean.

Beside all this, the most accurate fit is obtained, as the Rubber is Vulcanized directly upon the plaster model, and the suction is of course much stronger than in plates of Gold or Silver.

Any one who is waiting for their permanent teeth will, I am confident, be perfectly satisfied with the Rubber, as a base. The expense is but a little more than for Silver and you get the same teeth (as to shape) that you would pay $60.00 for an upper or lower set on Gold.

In New York and Boston, and throughout the West, Vulcanized Rubber is used almost to the exclusion of the other bases, and by the best Dentists too. I will warrant a perfect fit and teeth from the best manufacturer in the country, S. S. WHITE.

ALL OTHER OPERATIONS IN DENTISTRY I will do at the usual rates. I will here mention that my price for EXTRACTING is 25 cents.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TREADWELL, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr. OLIVER and Dr. BENNETT, for particular success in extracting teeth, with extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secute Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Models of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting the Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending; such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 1, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

The N. Y. Times states that after the late battle of Chancellorsville Gen. Meade's appointment to supersede Gen. Hooker was urged by every corps commander, with, perhaps, one exception. The officer next in rank to Gen. Hooker (Gen. Couch) was himself desirous that Gen. Meade should be his chief.

The last Washington rumor is that Gen. McClellan has been ordered to relieve Gen. Halleck.

A Harrisburg dispatch states that on Monday morning information was received by the authorities, which they consider reliable, that 37,000 rebel troops had passed through Chambersburg up to Saturday, together with 104 pieces of artillery. Gen. Lee was at Chambersburg with his staff on Saturday. Gen. Couch on the same day, received information that the rebel forces at York are 15,000 strong, under Gen. Early, who has issued an order levying a contribution of $150,000, 150 barrels of flour, 40,000 pounds of beef, 50 bags of coffee, and large quantities of sugar and groceries. He gave the citizens 24 hours to comply.

The Democratic organ at Reading, Pa., has come out with a stirring appeal to the farmers to rally for the defence of the State.

Gen. Dix and staff arrived at Whitehouse on the evening of the 26th. Gen. Fitz Hugh Lee has been sent to Fortress Monroe. Over 100 rebel wagons, containing stores of all kinds, have been taken; 40 were burned.

There are rumors of an invasion of Kentucky.

A general forward movement of Gen. Rosecrans' army commenced June 24th. There has already been severe skirmishing in which the enemy has been driven with heavy loss.

Bragg's entire force is roughly estimated at 36,000 men. The rebel Governor of Tennessee has called for 6000 men for six months. The force is to be composed of men over 40 years of age, or such as are not liable to conscription.

New Orleans advices state that the rebels made an attack on the 20th, on the bridge at LaFourche Crossing, but were repulsed by our forces guarding it, after a sharp engagement. 250 rebels, including a Colonel and a number of commissioned officers, were taken prisoners, and 53 were killed.

The siege of Vicksburg still continued vigorously on the 22d. Johnston was reported to be moving South.

MAJ. GENERAL GEORGE G. MEADE, the new commander of the Army of the Potomac, was born in 1816, in Spain, his father then holding an appointment there under the U. S. Minister. He entered the military academy at West Point from the District of Columbia, and graduating in 1836, received a commission as Second Lieutenant of the 3d Artillery. He resigned his commission on the 26th of October, 1836, and was made 2d Lieutenant of the Topographical Engineers, May 19, 1842.—For gallantry at Monterey in 1846 he was breveted First Lieutenant; became First Lieutenant in August, 1851, Captain, May 19, 1856, Major in June, 1862, and Brigadier General of Volunteers August 31, 1861. He commanded a brigade in McCall's division of Pennsylvania Reserves in the Army of the Potomac, until September, 1862, when he took command of a division in the army corps under Gen. Reynolds.—He was severely wounded at the battle of White Oak Swamp, June, 30, 1862. His rank of Major General of Volunteers dates from the 29th of November, 1862.

GENERAL GRANT is described as about five feet nine inches high, has sandy hair and whiskers, blue eyes, a firm and determined mouth, a well-shaped nose, and a complexion that shows the effects of exposure. He is very far from what is called a handsome man. He has a good form, very square shoulders, and generally stands squarely on his feet, never resting on one leg, or lounging against a support. He never uses profane or extravagant language. He is almost a model of temperance, seldom drinking at all; but he smokes continually. In conversation he is rarely animated except among his most intimate and familiar companions. He prides himself on his horsemanship. At the battle of Monterey he was ordered to carry an order to a point where he had to pass under the fire of a battery. He put his horse into a full gallop, threw himself off on one side, after the manner of the Indians, holding on by the horse's mane, and by one leg thrown over the cantle of the saddle, and in this position leaped a four-foot wall. Gen. Grant was married soon after he left the regular army, and has now three children, one of whom, a boy about six years old, as nearly as good a rider as his father.

☞ Adj. Gen. Hodadon is in Portland, organizing the militia to garrison Forts Georges and Scammell.

THE TACONY AFFAIR.—It appears from Portland papers, that the Captain of this piratical craft is not a Yankee, as was reported. Some one of his crew may be, however. Wherever he belonged, he is as active in his line as the hatchet negro, or the Charleston black pilot. He attempted the rôle of Paul Jones and played it pretty well, only he got caught, as Jones did not.

The people of Portland, merchants, Mayor, Collector, officers and men, acted well and promptly,—and their promptness has brought one nest of pirates to the shore.

The town of Gloucester, being the headquarters of the fishing business, may be supposed to have as much interest in the matter as any place. We therefore looked with some curiosity, into the Gloucester Telegraph on Saturday, where we find the matter discussed at large with much ability. One writer says:—

"It seems surprising to many that, where so large a number of vessels have been sent in pursuit of the British pirates that are destroying the commerce of our country on the Atlantic Ocean, none of them have yet been able to make any captures.

Take down a map of the world—there is the Atlantic ocean stretching from pole to pole and from the shores of the new to that of the distant old world. Then tell us how many ships, spared from the line of blockade of twenty-five hundred miles in length, it would require to dot this vast ocean between two worlds so thick with vessels that a cruiser could not steer across any latitude nor through any longitude? Now go to your history and tell us for how many months Paul Jones sailed freely up and down the coast of Great Britain, attacking and destroying, and setting the whole English navy at defiance? Tell us how it was that during the French war, a single English vessel kept the whole coast and navy of France in terror. Tell us again how long were the successful cruises of numerous of our privateers during the last war with England, carrying their depredations to the West Indies and English channel, into the very teeth of the same vaunted navy that chased so long and wearily the intrepid Jones?

Shall we have letters of marque? Not till courage ceases to take counsel of prudence.

It is a system of warfare which all the great neutral Powers have resolved is little less than piracy, and would, in consequence of the belligerent right of search which it carries with it, be sure to involve us in a formidable foreign war.

Besides, the enemy's commerce is the legitimate object of letters of marque or privateers;—commerce is to furnish the booty and compensation to both owners and men.—

Evanescent enthusiasm, will not make persistent privateersmen—it certainly will not furnish capital. Well, now, what commerce have the rebels—where the promise to pay? Rebellion can afford to sail privateers—it has everything to gain and nothing to lose. On the contrary we shall have everything to lose but nothing to gain in such a contest.

If, however, this sudden disaster, shall teach us by its striking experiences the utterly unsparing wickedness of this rebellion, brace up our minds with loftier resolves, and nerve our hands to strike for God and our Country with renewed vigor and undying patriotism, this misfortune will not be without its meaning and its use."

☞ The Portland people did not have a spasm; the feeling was not transitory. Startled at first by the pirates' audacity they quickly rallied, and went to work, and they have not ceased. The Board of Trade have appointed a Vigilance Committee to keep fully informed as to the condition of the harbor defences, &c. They have also recommended the arming of commercial vessels, and requested the Sec. of the Navy to station one or more efficient war steamers to cruise off the coast of Maine. Hon. John B. Brown has been appointed to go to Washington and state the views of the merchants to the Secretaries of the Navy and Treasury; and a special committee of five has been appointed to take into immediate consideration the whole subject of Coast and Harbor defences, and to report at once. The Department has ordered the revenue cutter Dobbin, now at Philadelphia, to proceed to Portland forthwith.

☞ When the Rebel iron-clad Atlanta was captured, it is stated that as Capt. Rodgers received the sword of the commander of the Atlanta from Lieut. Barbot, who had been deputed to surrender it, a little rooster on the Weehawken set up a furious crowing, and cock-a-doodle-doo-ed as juvenile cock never did before on like occasion. The sailors were tremendously tickled, and superstitiously impressed.

FUSELI ON SMALL TALK.—Fuseli had a great dislike to common-place observations. After sitting perfectly silent for a long time in his own room, during "the bald, disjointed chat" of some idle callers-in, who were gabbling about the weather and other topics of as interesting a nature, he suddenly exclaimed "We had pork for dinner to-day." "Dear Mr. Fuseli, what an odd remark." "Why, it is as good as anything you have been saying for the last hour."

☞ The piratical schooner J. M. Chapman, seized in San Francisco by the Federal authorities, some time since, has been sold at auction, for $7,100 in gold. The two brass howitzers, revolvers, rifles, guns, &c., were also sold.

☞ It is stated that the true name of the late rebel General Jackson was not Thomas Jefferson Jackson, as given almost everywhere, but Thomas Jonathan Jackson.

☞ The crew of the Caleb Cushing are released, they being exonerated from blame.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Rev. John M. Peck, late of Maryland, but more recently from Rhode Island, has received a call to the rectorship of Trinity Parish, Claremont, as the successor of Rt. Rev. Bishop Chase.

—— The 3d N. H. regiment, June 14th, was in camp on St. Helena Island in a beautifully situated spot on the bank on the river, five minutes' walk from the steamboat landing. The regiment is in excellent health, but two men being in the hospital. The Seventh is in a very fine spot, near the general hospital at Hilton Head.

——It appears the 8th N. H. Regiment took part in the second attack on Port Hudson, Sunday, the 15th inst. In the attack Weitzel's Brigade occupied the right and according to the account of an army correspondent, the 8th and 15th N. H. Regiments, both of them very much reduced and almost without officers, took the lead, being thrown out as skirmishers.

—— The Mirror states that Stephen L. Crosby, Esq., a son of Dr. Josiah Crosby, of Manchester, who has been in South America some five years, engaged in civil engineering, is now making a survey for a railroad one hundred and fifty miles in length, from Lima to Juaga, Peru. The construction of this road is a mammoth undertaking, from the fact that it will run over almost impassable mountains, requiring a grade of from one hundred and fifty to two hundred feet per mile. The object is to strike a rich and fertile valley, the products of which have been transported heretofore on the backs of mules and by other slow means of conveyance in order to reach a market.

AN EXHIBITION OF SOUTHERN CHIVALRY.—On the last passage of the Pessia to Liverpool a Southern brave grossly insulted a passenger named Josephs. Josephs demanded an apology, when the desperado drew a bowie knife, as did eight or ten of his friends. Capt. Judkins, vainly appealing to them to put up their weapons, at length told them he would give them ten minutes to consider, and if at the end of that then knives were not sheathed he would put them in irons for delivery to the American Consul at Liverpool. They angrily bid him defiance. At the beginning of the ninth minute, the captain, at the head of his crew, all armed, marched into the cabin. On their appearance the knives went quickly out of sight, and apologies were profuse.

☞ The sharpshooters at Vicksburg intersperse their crackling fire with frequent passages of polite conversation. One of the rebels three days since asked if he could have a drink of coffee if he came over, and was allowed. His comrades calling to him to return, he replied that the coffee was so tempting he intended to remain. This was the first coffee he had tasted for a twelve-month.

☞ While the rebel privateers are wantonly destroying and burning our fishing vessels, and robbing our fishermen of the fruits of their toil, there are those among us who still talk of using the rebels tenderly, and of their constitutional rights!

☞ Comparatively few persons are going to Europe this year for pleasure. The reason is that greenbacks are not gold, and specie is the only species of payment that our European friends care to accept.

☞ The Salem Gazette says Capt. Howe, Bradford, Mass., 84 years of age, took his first railroad ride on Tuesday of last week, and rather liked it.

☞ A letter from Harrisburg says that one man sold water at six cents per glass to the New York troops who went there to defend his city, while another charged a dollar each for tallow candles.

☞ A Portland correspondent states that the steam tug Tiger went down with the steamers in pursuit of the Caleb Cushing and was mistaken by the pirates for a monitor. The Chesapeake, they thought, was a gunboat.

☞ The Mayor of Bath, Me., called a meeting of the citizens at 9 o'clock, Monday morning, for consultation in relation to protecting the city against rebel pirates.—He also, with other prominent citizens, went on Sunday evening in a steamer to Augusta, to procure ordnance for the defence of the harbor.

☞ The City Council of Boston have authorized the City Treasurer to place at the disposal of the Mayor and the Committee on Military Affairs, the sum of $100,000 to be at discretion devoted to any purposes of defence of Boston or the harbor, which is justified by law.

☞ The President promised the Ohio democratic Committee on Monday, to release Vallandigham provided they would personally conform to certain terms; what these terms are we are not informed.

☞ There is said to be a man, plentifully supplied with funds, buying steamers in Montreal, as he says for the U. S. government. It is supposed he is an agent of the rebels.

☞ The Manchester Mirror says:—

The vacancy in the 4th N. H. regiment, occasioned by the dismissal of Capt. Wilbur, has been filled by Lieut. T. M. Jackson, of Portsmouth, now Capt. J.. The fact that Capt. J. has risen from the position of an enlisted man to that of Captain in little over a year, is sufficient guaranty of his merit.

THE 4TH OF JULY IN PORTSMOUTH. One of the most imposing spectacles ever presented in this city will be given by Mons. Henri Denier on the coming 4th.—At an earnest solicitation of numerous citizens he will give two of his mid-air ascensions on Market Square, from the steeple of the North Church to the top of Moulton & Blaisdell's store, a distance of over 300 feet—performing some of his most daring feats. The Portsmouth Cornet Band has been engaged by Mons. Denier at his own expense, for both ascensions, to enliven the festivities. At the Temple, at 2 1-2 P. M., a grand Matinee for the accommodation of Families and children will be given; also one in the evening at 8 1-4 o'clock, on which occasions Mons. Denier will introduce his classical entertainments of Oriental Soirees of Magique, assisted in music by Prof. A. H. Fernald, of Boston, Composer and Pianist, an artist well known to all the Musical critics of the day. The admission to the Matinee has been fixed at 10 cents only for children, and 15 cents for adults. The evening performances will be at the usual prices. We hope to see Mons. Denier well patronized. **

NOTICE.

It is proposed to hold a STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL at the Court House, July 4th, for the benefit of our sick and wounded soldiers.

Donations of Flowers, Cake, Fruit, or Money are respectfully solicited.

A committee will be at the Court House to receive contributions, from 9 A. M. to 1 o'clock P. M., Friday. It is important that all donations of Cake or Fruit should be sent or positively promised at that time, and it is hoped the Ladies of Portsmouth will contribute with their accustomed liberality.

Flowers will be received as late as 9 A.M., Saturday. Donations of money may be handed to Dr Kimball or Mr. J. H. Foster.

PER ORDER.

☞ It will be seen that Mr. Davis' Singing Schools are to be held on Wednesday afternoon and evening, henceforth; and we can hardly conceive of sensible and appreciative parents wilfully or carelessly neglecting to improve this rare opportunity for their children, to secure what will be a lifelong source of pleasure and benefit;—or of young people who really wish to have more and better singing here, failing to attend the evening school. Mr. Davis has two fine classes, but the hall will accommodate a larger number, and such tuition has long been a public need here.—The hall is a beautiful place for the purpose, and the teacher one with whom parents may safely trust their children, and to whom they will get attached.

☞ Fred. Moses has got one of the nicest and most spacious of Refreshment Saloons, corner of Pleasant and State streets; keeps always a good stock of niceties, and is one of the most agreeable of merchants. Step in there, and see if he isn't.

☞ Mr. John Sise has a new and large assortment of the most elegant Fancy Goods, selected with great care and good taste.—See his advertisements,—and the goods are well worth looking at too.

☞ The remains of Adm. Foote were removed from New York to New Haven on Saturday afternoon. The hearse was escorted to the depot by two companies of marines, thirty midshipmen from the Naval Academy, and the New York Committee on National Affairs. Admirals Storer and Stringham, Captains Sands, Drayton, Meade Leslie and Engle, and Dr. Truslow, acted as pall bearers.

THE ATLANTA.—A Port Royal correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer states that Capt. Wm. Webb, commander of the rebel iron clad Atlanta, was a classmate of Capt. Rodgers of the Weehawken, who captured him. After the surrender he made a speech to his men, expressing his disappointment, and advising them to submit quietly to their fate, and fainted, he was so overcome by his feelings. The crew of the Atlanta are said to be a villainous looking set of men. They are all Georgia "crackers," the poorest "white trash" of Georgia, without education, or anything, in fact, which would entitle them to be called men except that they have the human form. Not one man among them is a sailor, but they are all soldiers.

There resides in living flowers a latent charity, a power that is, to evolve this "bond of perfectness" from the sterile heart. When a man wants flowers, it is not to shut them up, but to place them in the light, to give them a conspicuous place. He is anxious that his pleasure should not be solitary. In his bargains he may desire no partner, in his inventions, which are to bring him lucre, he may shut himself up in the dark until they are completed, and may only shout his Eureka after he has fenced in his profits with a patent; but his flowers open his heart—he wants rich and poor, aye, every living thing, to see them.

☞ The Kendall Mercury (England) thus disposes of one of the most popular defenses of slaveholding:

"For many years, this dissolution of the Union has been predicted, but no one ever dreamt of ascribing it to any other cause but slavery. It may amuse Mr. Roebuck and a Sheffield audience to say that the slaves are worse off in the North than in the South. But if Mr. Roebuck could reason—which it is certain he either cannot or will not—we could fasten him to the fact that the old argument of the Pro-Slavery people was—'Why, the slaves are better off in the W. Indies than you working-men are in England.' Did working-men believe them? Did they envy the conditions of men who could at any moment be separated from their wives and children, forever—or stripped, in the presence of their wives and children, and flogged like beasts at the mere caprice of masters or drivers? Did working-men envy the system that would select their finest daughters for prostitution, and sell them notoriously for that purpose, into districts far away? No, no; such foolery would not answer here. Working-men, angry at times with bad masters, may have thought it fine talk—but with bad masters or good ones, in anger or otherwise, they never believed it long."

"No, my friend, there is no alternative but to acknowledge the independence of the Confederacy, or to subdue the rebellion by the strong arm of military power. To suppose that there is hope of any other settlement is the greatest delusion."—Edward Everett.

NEW IMPROVED

ICEBERG REFRIGERATORS.

This upright REFRIGERATOR combines every improvement. It is the most perfect article of the kind in the market, requiring less ice than any other, and keeping its contents sweet and free from any unpleasant odors.

Daniel T. Curtis, Fruit dealer, Boston says of it, "I have preserved grapes and pears, peaches, and an extensive variety of plums and berries for five or six weeks in Schooley's Refrigerator."

Oren Peck, Boylston Market, Boston, says, "I find, on careful trial, that it will keep meats perfectly fresh and dry for ten or twelve days."

John Hunt, Butter dealer, Cincinnati, says, "I can keep butter sweet and fresh any length of time in reason, say six weeks."

C. E. Carpenter, Ice Dealer, Providence, says, "I have kept a cup of custard in one of Schooley's Refrigerators during the warm weather one week, when I ate it and found it perfectly good."

Thousands of similar testimonials can be shown in its favor.

SCHOOLEY'S ICE KING REFRIGERATOR. (Patented Jan. 6, 1863.) We present the ICE KING to our customers as the "best plain stove" or cheap Refrigerators, combining in its operation all of the great improvements necessary for complete ventilation. In the introduction of Patent Refrigerators to the public, the cost of construction has been necessarily so great as to prevent their sale to the "million." The consequence has been that those who could not afford to purchase a Patent ventilated Refrigerator, were compelled to pay more for one of the old style, or go without.

We are now happy to state that by the introduction of our new patent ICE KING, we can offer to the million a complete ventilated Refrigerator, well made, finished throughout with zinc, at cheaper prices than ever before offered.

The various sizes of the above are for sale by the subscriber—also, ICE PITCHERS, ICE AWLS, &c.

"Take him out," roared the clerk.

"Well, stranger, I don't think you're honest, and you want watching. Here, Dragon!" he said to the dog, "sit down here and watch that fellow sharp!" and turning on his heel, said, "Put him out, stranger, if he's troublesome." The dog lay there till the boat started, watching and bowling at every movement of the clerk, who gave him the better part of the office.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR
Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

From Henry Eiles, a well-known merchant of Oxford, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never got one bottle which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Stratton, Bristol, England.

"Lately do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the medicinal virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged ten, had an afflicting humor in her ears, eyes, and face for years, which we were unable to cure until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane E. Hicks, a well-known and much-esteemed lady of Bennington, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing gave her relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Cage, Esq., of the widely-known firm of Cage, Brown & Co., manufacturers of chamois pipes in Nashua, N. H.

"I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it finally became so bad it became an intolerable affliction. I tried almost every thing a man could of both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it might for a time; but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I have had for 3 years, which was severe, and without a doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Robt. Swain, Houston St., New York.

"DR. AYER. I seldom fail to remove Eruptions and Scrofulous Sores in a persevering use of your SARSAPARILLA, and I have just now cured an attack of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alternative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to "the profession as well as to the people."

From J. E. Johnston, Esq., Wakeman, Ohio.

"For twelve years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, sometimes so much time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicines. The ulcers broke so bad that the bones became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS, together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Monro, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Sickler, Esq., the able editor of the Chambersburg (Pennsylvania) Democrat.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome scab of virulent character, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the festering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Nothing tried seemed to take place, or give us hope from, we began giving your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the iodide of potash lotion, as you direct. And how happy we felt when we had given the first bottle, and saw well when we had finished the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease

From Dr. Hiram Stout, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. Frysch, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., who is a prominent member of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"DR. AYER. My dear Sir: I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary effects, and in some cases that were too obstinate to yield to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required."

Mr. Chas. S. Van Liew, of New Brunswick, N. J., had dreadful ulcers on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or the mercurial disease, which grew worse and more aggravated for years, in spite of every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA relieved him. Few cases can be found more inveterate and distressing than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness,

are generally produced by internal Scrofulous Ulceration, and are very often cured by the alterative effect of this SARSAPARILLA. Some cases require, however, in aid of the SARSAPARILLA, the skilful application of local remedies.

From the well-known and widely-celebrated Dr. Jacob Morrell, of Cincinnati.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cases of Irregularity, Leucorrhœa, Internal Ulceration, and local debility, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, and there are few that do not, when its effect is properly aided by local treatment."

A lady, unwilling to allow the publication of her name, writes:

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating Leucorrhœa of long standing, by two bottles of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia,

when caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by this EXT. SARSAPARILLA.

AYER'S

possess so many advantages over the other purgatives in the market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need not do more than to assure the public their quality is maintained equal to the best it ever has been, and that they may be depended on to do all that they have ever done.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended in the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but the obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his HUMOR WASH, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as the cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1842.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I have good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY. Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our town the last spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it does not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing to examine this Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and oven front combined, by which the cooking of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, providing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce lung diseases so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The contrivances have been so delightful that they pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air below the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe on fine on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large portion of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have put before the different cities, Brick and Portland, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. Food from two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easily as a silver, while finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DENTISTRY.

No. 60 CONGRESS STREET,
Portsmouth, Jan. 1st, 1863.

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully inform his patrons and the public that he has put into his rooms a complete set of the patent VULCANIZED RUBBER, and has purchased the best VULCANIZER in the market, and is now prepared to do all work usually on RUBBER, or the other bases of GOLD and SILVER as formerly, if preferred.

The Rubber has several important advantages, viz. it is very light and elastic, and consequently is perfectly easy to the muscles of the mouth and cheeks. There are no insterstices or open joints to collect food, &c.; consequently they can be worn night and day, and are very easily kept neat and clean.

Beside all this, the most accurate fit is obtained, as the Rubber is Vulcanized directly upon the plaster model, and the suction is of course much stronger than in plates of Gold or Silver.

Any one who is waiting for their permanent teeth will, I am confident, be perfectly satisfied with the Rubber, as a base. The expense is but little more than for Silver, and you get the same teeth (in blocks) that you would pay $60.00 for an upper or lower set on Gold

In New York and Boston, and throughout the West, Vulcanized Rubber is used almost to the exclusion of the other bases, and by the best Dentists too. I will warrant a perfect fit and teeth from the best manufacturer in the country.

ALL OTHER OPERATIONS IN DENTISTRY I will do at the usual rates. I will there mention that my price for EXTRACTING is 25 cents.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. THEARDORE, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr OLIVER and Dr. BENNETT, for testimonials in extracting teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

☞ Please call and examine specimens of Artificial Teeth upon Vulcanized Rubber, Gold and Silver.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined:
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fear with all:
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN Applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN LAGERT.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JULY 2, 1863.

THE FOURTH OF JULY, 1861, was celebrated as the anniversary of the nation's birth day, with gloomy apprehensions in some minds, of its dissolution, as the secession fever had then just carried off Tennessee. Last year we had the news of the defeat, disaster, and retreat of our army of the Potomac, in the peninsula, under Gen. McClellan. And now, in the third year of the war, we remember the successive defeats of Pope, Burnside, and Hooker, on the sacred soil of Virginia; and we are not greatly cheered by the rebel invasion of Pennsylvania, or the burning of our vessels by the pirates. This is the dark view; and it is rendered still darker by the fact that traitors at home give aid and comfort the rebels, with more boldness and bitterness than usual: but there is a brighter view of our affairs, which should be taken as we look forward with hope for to-morrow and next year.

The zeal and promptness with which the Portland people overhauled the pirates; the success with which our forces have held the forts and ports we have taken; the recent captures of the Fingal and several blockade runners; and the energy and activity of our officers and men in the south country, are tokens for good. So is the rising, solid, though slow, of a force to resist the rebel invasion of Pennsylvania; and even the partisan storm that is brewing among traitors, will tend to purify the atmosphere.—With hope and trust, then, not boastingly, we should reiterate the "self-evident truths—that all men are created EQUAL—and endowed by their Creator with Inalienable Rights—Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." We, as workingmen and freemen, should hold fast to this doctrine, though the rebel aristocracy deny and denounce it.

THE REBEL PRESIDENT CALLING OUT 150,000 MILITIA.—On the 16th of May, Jeff. Davis called upon the States of the "Confederacy" to furnish a certain quota of troops for home defence, in order to replace those who now, under the command of Lee, are invading the North. These troops are taken from the State militia, and this class embraces all men between the ages of forty and forty-five years. The whole number, in the aggregate, that this call will add to the army is 150,000 men. Georgia is to furnish 20,000, Alabama 15,000, Virginia only 8,000 on account of surplus furnished on a previous demand; North Carolina 12,000 men, and the other States in proportion.

These troops are regularly mustered into the rebel service for six months.

This item shows several things: 1, that the "Confederacy" has put all its young men into the army, and now calls out its old ones. 2, that Jeff. D. is in season with his calls, and peremptory too. And 3, that if we will but learn from our foes, and be half as earnest to preserve our government and the liberty of the working-men, as the rebels are to destroy both, we have reserved power enough to crush the rebellion and secure both liberty and peace. But 4, this cannot be done without effort and sacrifice.

G. T.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—The 8th N. H. regiment took a very prominent part in the recent assault at Port Hudson. A letter from a member states states that it went in with about 200 men and came out with about 30 onhurt, the rest being killed, wounded or prisoners. The brigade which was ordered to make the charge, was not properly supported by the other troops.

—The opinion of the court on the constitutionality of the Soldiers' Voting Bill was read to the House on Monday afternoon. The chief objection to the bill is that the spirit and letter of the Constitution, as well as the common law, require the presence of the voter at the polls. Several practical objections to the present bill are also mentioned in the opinion, and the decision arrived at that it conflicts with the Constitution. The opinion is signed by Chief Justice Bell, and Judges Bellows, Nesmith and Bartlett. The whole subject was recommitted.

—A Constitutional Convention is now in contemplation for the purpose of so amending the Constitution as to allow the soldiers to vote.

☞ Burleigh, in his New York letter of June 28, says:—

A portion of the U. S. 17th Infantry from Portland are here on their way to join their regiment in the Army of the Potomac. They do not hesitate to call the crew of the Caleb Cushing poltroons. One of the officers said that he knew them well, and knew that half the time while in the harbor at Portland they were unfit for duty from drunkenness—a vice that when the full truth is known will be found to underlay much of our disaster and want of success.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Banks has refused a second offer by Gen. Gardiner to capitulate, if he were allowed to go out with side arms and other military privileges. The bombardment has made but little impression on the Port Hudson works, and Gen. Banks seems to rely chiefly on the lack of supplies in the garrison. The position of our army is such that the gunboats cannot co-operate. Magruder and Breckinridge are said to have a large army in Banks' rear. Guerrillas infest the river and have taken a large quantity of Gen. Banks' supplies.

Gen. Logan's division at Vicksburg has taken an important fort from the enemy.—He mined and blew up one corner on Saturday. This produced a breach in the walls, through which our troops entered.—The rebels fought with reckless courage, but were forced to yield. Gen. Logan has already mounted two heavy guns. Gen. Grant continues to contract his lines.

It is is feared that Bragg's army is withdrawing from Tullahoma to Chattanooga, and that he will refuse to fight. Should this be the case, as vigorous a pursuit will be made as the nature of the country allows. Gen. Grant's headquarters were at Manchester, Tenn., on the 28th.

Martial law having been proclaimed, the sale of arms and of ammunition has been prohibited in Baltimore, and no person is allowed to leave the city without a pass.—All drinking saloons, &c., are ordered to be closed between 8 P. M. and 8 A. M. The Baltimore American states that Gen. Meade, as soon as he took command of the army, issued orders for a general movement, and in a few hours relieved both Baltimore and Washington of all present fear of rebel invasion.

Everything was quiet at Harrisburg on Wednesday. Our troops occupy York, Pa., in force. Heavy and continuous firing was heard in the direction of Gettysburg on Tuesday night. General Meade occupies Hanover Junction and will soon give battle to Lee, who by the rapid advance of Meade, has been taken at disadvantage. The force of Gens. Meade, Couch and Dana are being rapidly concentrated, and are moving against Lee, who is slowly falling back. Stuart's force, with 8 pieces of artillery, on Monday, made a raid on the Baltimore and Ohio R. R., and then went to Westminster and interrupted the Western Maryland R. R. Gen. Gregg attacked him early on Tuesday morning and drove him all the way to Hanover, Pa., a distance of 18 miles. During the forenoon Gens. Kilpatrick and Carter drove him out of Hanover, after a splendid fight, and were still pursuing him at last accounts, part of his force going towards Gettysburg and part towards York. During the day Gen. Buford drove a rebel regiment out of Gettysburg.

The Ohio militia are to be organized into companies on the 4th, subject to the call of the Governor.

☞ The Maine State Convention was held in Bangor on Wednesday, in response to the call of the Republican State Committee, which embraced all who unconditionally support the Government in all its efforts for crushing the rebellion. The gathering was very large. The Democrats were largely represented, many delegations being composed proportionately of the two wings of loyalists,—those from several counties nearly evenly balanced between Republicans and the Jameson Democrats of last year.

☞ The Gen. Lee who was captured a few days since by Col. Spear, in his cavalry raid upon the Virginia Central railroad, was Gen. Wm. Henry FitzHugh Lee, son of the commander of the Confederate army.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says the main reason for the removal of Gen. Hooker from the command of the Army of the Potomac was a radical difference of opinion between him and Gen. Halleck as to the value of Maryland Hights as a military positon during the present active operations.

☞ A dishonest clerk has been arrested in Boston. $1260 were missing one day, and an inquiry was made. It was ascertained that this clerk had recently purchased three gold watches, two of which he gave to lady friends; also that he had bought a piano, kept a fast team, and was living by his own confession, at the rate of about $150 a day.

☞ It was rumored in Philadelphia, on Tuesday, that Gen. But'er has been appointed Sec. of War in place of Mr. Stanton. A dispatch from New York states that the Journal of Commerce had "the highest authority" for saying that the rumor of the supercession of Gen. Halleck by Gen. McClellan was unfounded.

☞ Governor Seymour has ordered Inspector General Miller to go to New York immediately and organize thirty regiments in that city and Brooklyn. They will be drilled in artillery as well as infantry practice, with the view of placing them in fortifications.

☞ All visitors are hereafter to be excluded from the Charlestown Navy Yard.

NORTH "EGYPT," ILL., June 23.

Friend Miller:—It is quite a while since you have heard from me, and in the time I have changed my latitude considerably. Extra pressure of business, and sickness in my family have also rendered it difficult to write. I am surrounded by a population that in my leisure might furnish some racy sketches for the Gazette; but I have not time for them now.

Maize is king here. All the crops, all trades and professions are but adjuncts to it. The anvil rings to make and mend plows—"shovel plows," "double shovels," and "horse shovels." The last is a contrivance to be drawn by two horses, on which the agriculturist rides like a gentleman.—Corn is so planted that it can be plowed in two directions at right angles, and the arrangement is often so true that the rows, primary, secondary and tertiary, may be seen to radiate from each hill in sixteen directions. But I forget your familiarity with the mariner's compass; the rows may be often clearly seen running N., N.N.E., N.E., E.N.E., E., and so on. It is planted by a two-horse machine, and often far better than it could be by hand. The chief use of the hoe in the cornfield is to cut down stalks before plowing in the Spring. Even for that use it is often superseded by horse power. They raise so much that the fall and winter suffice not for the gathering: several fields this year were not cleared till after the young corn was up in neighboring fields. The maximum that one hand can "tend" is about 40 acres, but acres in Illinois are very elastic, and bushels of unbusked corn in the crib still more so.

I have quite a number of new books on my table, and some very good ones. Dana's Manual of Geology is out at last; and, as I predicted in your columns some years since, its appearance will mark an era in the study of Geology in our country. I can say no more of it now.

My attention was caught while on a visit long since to a brother naturalist, by a remarkable series of "Readers." This spring I was not overpleased to find arrayed before me Willson's Readers, from Primer up Fifth Reader—six in all; and for weeks did not open one of them. When at last I thought to kill a few minutes by a piece of child-reading, to which I am no way loth, lo, there opened to my eyes those beautiful pictures of animals and plants that I had not forgotten. The primer has very many other characteristics, of which I may speak in future. The first reader is a continuation of the same: the object of both is to make reading pleasant, and if the pictures were omitted the lessons would lose a great attraction. In the Second Reader, a very little of the utilitarian peeps out. I cannot think that the face of Uncle Toby on page 98 is true to the character I am so familiar with, but by pen only. The Third Reader has Elements of Elocution, 8 pages, stories from the Bible 48 pp., Moral Lessons 24 pp., Zoology (Mammals only) 166 pp., Miscellaneous 22.

The Fourth Reader contains Human Physiology and Health 62 pp., Ornithology 24 pp., Botany 66 pp., Miscellaneous 45 pp., Natural Philosophy 57 pp., Sketches from Sacred History 45. The Fifth Reader is the grand achievement. It contains Herpetology 24, Physiology 49, Botany 76, Ichthyology 49, Civil Architecture 26, Natural Philosophy 40, Physical Geography 45, Chemistry 30, Geology 32, Ancient History 32. Interspersed with these are ten Miscellaneous Divisions, 86 pages in all.

Here you have the bill of fare, but a full analysis and fair examination of the quality would require a column. But as yet I have read scarce a page. Two other questions arise. What will be the effect of this series on Æsthetics? I think it will be bad, but I am not sure. The Miscellaneous matter, a remedy to this, is very fine. Perhaps a true balance cannot be struck, till after experiment. But what will be the effect in inciting a desire to read? Great and good, decidedly. Many a dunce would have been a good scholar had Willson's Readers been put into his hands twenty years ago. Many a criminal would have been saved by them from becoming a pest to society. I think of all primers I have ever seen, except the Phonetic ones, Willson's is the one I should prefer for teaching a child to read. This is a most important point, and for each human soul that choice can be made but once. I think I shall use it for my first born, and probably for her sister.

I always recommend parents to supply their children with readers not in use in their school. They are cheap reading generally, and good. In all families where Willson's are not the School Readers I would advise their introduction for domestic use. The wholesale prices are as follows respectively, 15c, 20, 30, 50, 66 and $1.—Retail price (postage paid) 25 per cent. additional. So, for 15c, 25, 38, 63, 80 and $1.25, Harper & Brothers will send you these books by mail. Let us hear from the first of your readers whose experience of them shall contradict my theories in their favor.

Yours truly, I. F. H.

☞ In a theatre in Portland lately an angel was represented ascending to heaven. In the midst of the ascension the orchestra played "Hail Columbia."

N. H. LEGISLATURE.—The House on Tuesday, passed a resolution that the claims and statements of various towns and cities in the state for the reimbursement from the State Treasury of the aid to volunteers, be referred to the Governor and Council, to be by them in connection with the State Treasurer finally audited and allowed.

The Manchester contested election case was still further discussed and then settled by a vote declaring that the three members were not entitled to seats in the House as Representatives from ward 5. The vote stood 169 and 132. The Nashua case was also settled by declaring that Daniel Moore was not elected and that Mr. Saunders was entitled to the seat.

In the Senate, on Wednesday, the bill to extend the railroad from Dover to this city was passed.

☞ It is said that the main point in the President's reply to the Vallandigham Committee is that they shall agree in writing to support and obey all the laws, and that they shall pledge Vallandigham to do the same, when he shall be allowed to return and remain at liberty.

IMPORTANT.—The fact cannot be too often stated, or too strongly urged upon the public, that the majority of the Saleratus in market is not only very unhealthy, but actually a clear poison, causing teeth to decay, and bringing on disease generally. Thanks to science, skill, perseverance and energy, that the man still lives who invented Herrick Allen's Meal Saleratus, which has and is still doing such great wonders in the culinary department. We say that one trial will convince the most skeptical that there is none other to be compared with it. Most of our merchants have it for sale. Chief depot at 112 Liberty Street, New York.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, when the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by such to restrain the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cure, was the point made in this valuable preparation. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be secured, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION, and to prove the declarations by true results.

Local.

PORTLAND citizens deserve the great praise they are getting on all hands, for their promptness in squelching piracy.—And we are glad to know that Portsmouth aided materially in the destruction of the cutter, through at least three of her citizens who were on board the Forest City steamer—Wm. F. Laighton, of the Navy, who commanded: his son, Albert S. Laighton, who had the helm; and Henry Ham, a son of J. F. Ham, Esq., who was visiting in Portland and was among the eager volunteers for the trip, and assisted in making cartridges on the sail down the harbor.—Perhaps more Portsmouth or New Hampshire men were on board.

It is thought by some, that the Tacony is still afloat, notwithstanding the statements of her officers and crew that they destroyed her. But not only the log-book, but private memoranda of the crew, state that she was burned; and it seems to be more probable that the vessel since supposed to be the Tacony, must be some other rebel cruiser, if any such craft at all.

☞ In such stirring times as these, of course all sorts of rumors are abroad. And among other stories of the week, reports that the defences of Portsmouth harbor are inefficient, that no sentry is set at Fort Constitution, &c., have been rife. These we have been requested to publish, but as they were not satisfactorily vouched, we of course declined.

A competent committee of our citizens has just reported to Governor Gilmore, at Concord, that our harbor defences are in the best condition practicable at present; and so, while being never so cautious and wary, it is best not to give too easy credence to mere idle rumors.

Among the unfounded rumors circulated on Wednesday was one that a privateer was seen off the harbor in the morning.

THE DOVER RAILROAD.—A telegraphic dispatch sent from Concord, on Wednesday afternoon, by Mayor Dearborn, (who has done his duty in this matter, by looking after the interests of the city) gave the glad intelligence that the bill for the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, so called, has passed the Senate. So it lacks only Gov. Gilmore's signature to become a law—and that signature will probably not be withheld.

☞ The flags were displayed at half-mast at the Portsmouth Navy Yard and in the city, on Wednesday, and a salute of 13 guns was fired at the Yard, at noon, in respect for the memory of Rear Admiral Foote,—"the hero of Fort Henry and Fort Donelson, the daring and indomitable spirit that created and led to successive victories the Mississippi flotilla, the heroic Christian sailor, who in the China seas and on the coast of Africa as well as the great interior rivers of our country, sustained with unfaltering fidelity and devotion the honor of our flag and the cause of the Union."—Peace to his ashes.

☞ It is reported that the Portland pirates, had they succeeded there, intended to visit Portsmouth Navy Yard, Bath, Augusta, &c. Not improbable—for they had pluck enough for almost anything.

☞ We are glad to hear that the Portsmouth Cornet Band is not to be absent from the city on the Fourth,—but has been engaged by the City Authorities to play on Market Square in the evening.

☞ We learn from the Daily Territorial Enterprise, published at Virginia, N. T., that Hon. Frank Fuller, Secretary of Utah, has recently been in Nevada, and has been admitted to practice at the bar in that Territory. The Enterprise states that he will probably, before many months, settle permanently in Virginia, and promises him a most hearty welcome.

☞ Our old friend and correspondent of many years, Rev. I. F. Holton, once of Meredith Village, N. H., since Professor at Middlebury College, and lastly Minister at Alden, Ill., has removed to Hillsgrove, McDonough County, Illinois, on the C. B. & Q. R. R., 50 miles from Quincy and 217 from Chicago.

☞ Judge Wylie, sitting in the District Court at Washington, D. C., as a Court of Admiralty, is at loss what to do with a large amount of so called Confederate money, included in property brought before him for condemnation. He says that to condemn it would be to recognize it as property; to sell it would be to give it circulation, and to destroy it would be to give aid and comfort to the enemy by relieving him of his liabilities.

☞ Letters from citizens of Minnesota, received in Washington, express indignation at the waste of material in the expeditions recently sent out in search of Little Crow, who with 1,000 or 1,500 warriors is making some trouble in Dacotah Territory. It is believed that a few hundred mounted men accustomed to Western life could easily dispose of Little Crow and his band.

WHEN THIS CRUEL WAR IS OVER.

Dearest love do you remember,
When we last did meet,
How you told me that you loved me,
Kneeling at my feet?
Oh! how proud you stood before me,
In your suit of blue,
When you vowed to me and country
Ever to be true.

Weeping, sad and lonely,
Hopes and fears how vain!
When this cruel war is over,
Praying we may meet again.

When the summer breeze is sighing
Mournfully along,
Or when autumn leaves are falling,
Sadly breathes the song.
Oft in dreams I see thee lying
On the battle plain,
Lonely wounded, even dying—
Calling, but in vain.

Fearless the din of battle
Nobly you should fall,
Far away from those who love you,
None to hear your call—
Who would whisper words of comfort,
Who would soothe your pain?
Oh! the many cruel touches
Ever in my brain.

But our country called you, darling,
Angels cheer your way;
While our nation's sons are fighting,
We can only pray.
Nobly strike for God and Liberty,
Let all nations see
How we love the starry banner,
Emblem of the free

☞ A special dispatch to the Portland Press from Norway, Me. states that a town meeting was held in that place Saturday at which 300 voters were present, to see whether the town would give $300 each to those men who should be drafted. The article was indefinitely postponed by 250 majority.

The town of Greene, Me., voted not to offer inducements for men not to go to the aid of the Government. When a proposition was made to pay men who, being drafted under the conscription act should enter the service, or as substitutes, those who pretended to be anxious to help the poor man adjourned the meeting.—Bath Times.

☞ A careful examination of the banks of the Potomac, shows that there has been no attempt recently by the rebels to obstruct its navigation; nor are there any indications whatever of such a purpose.

☞ A letter from the Army of the Potomac, says Gen. Meade's appointment is well received everywhere, and that he is employed in arranging the various departments.

SCHOOLEY'S NEW IMPROVED

ICEBERG REFRIGERATORS.

This upright REFRIGERATOR combines every improvement. It is the most perfect article of the kind in the market, requiring less ice than any other, and keeping its contents sweet and free from any unpleasant odors.

Daniel T. Curtis, Fruit dealer, Boston says of it, "I have preserved grapes and pears, peaches, and an extensive variety of plums and berries for five or six weeks in Schooley's Refrigerator."

Oren Peck, Boylston Market, Boston, says, "I find, on careful trial, that it will keep meats perfectly fresh and dry for ten or twelve days."

John Hunt, Butter dealer, Cincinnati, says, "I can keep butter sweet and fresh any length of time in reason, say six weeks."

C. E. Carpenter, Ice Dealer, Providence, says, "I have kept a cup of custard in one of Schooley's Refrigerators during the warm weather one week, when I ate it and found it perfectly good."

Thousands of similar testimonials can be shown in its favor.

SCHOOLEY'S ICE KING REFRIGERATOR. (Patented Jan. 6, 1863.) We present the ICE KING to our customers as the "ne plus ultra" of cheap Refrigerators, combining in its operation all of the great improvements necessary for complete ventilation. In the introduction of Patent Refrigerators to the public, the cost of construction has been necessarily so great as to prevent their sale to the "million." The consequence has been that those who could not afford to purchase a Patent ventilated Refrigerator, were compelled to procure one of the old style, or go without.

We are now happy to state that, by the introduction of our new patent ICE KING, we can offer to the million a complete ventilated Refrigerator, well made, lined throughout with zinc, at cheaper prices than ever before sold.

The various sizes of the above are for sale by the subscriber—also, ICE PITCHERS, ICE AWLS, &c.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

FOR THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

From Henry Eitel, a well-known merchant of Oxford, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never yet one bottle which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the marvellous virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged ten, had an affecting humor in her ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane E. Rice, a well-known and much-esteemed lady of Hannibal, Cayuga Mfg. Co., N. Y.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome, nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the widely-known Gage, Morrow & Co., manufacturers of excelsior pegs, of Nashua, N. H.

"I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it disfigured my features and became a painful affliction. I tried almost every thing a man could of both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA, which immediately made my disease worse, as you told me it might for a time; but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my disease was driven out of my body's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I enjoy perfect health, and without a doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purity the Blood.

From Dr. Reid, Scotia, Houston St., New York.

"DR. AYER: I seldom fail to remove Erysipelas and Scrofulous Sores by the persevering use of your SARSAPARILLA, and I have just now cured an attack of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to the profession as well as to the people."

From J. E. Johnston, Esq., Wateman, Ohio.

"For twelve years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicines. The ulcers were so bad that the cords became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm should be amputated. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Monro, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and I feel confidence in commending it to the public."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Stetler, Esq., the able editor of the Tuckahoe Democrat, Pennsylvania.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by Erysipelas on his forehead. They rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his face, and extended down his neck, to his breast. A skillful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his face from contact with the pattering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began using your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the iodide of potash lotion, as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and we have now used two bottles of the former. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as his father. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease

From Dr. Illotts Shook, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a more effectual remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., who is a prominent member of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"Dr. AYER, My wife's first, I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary type, and effected in some cases where other medicines failed to yield to other remedies. I do not know what we can rely on with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required."

had doubtful ulcers on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or secondary disease, which grew more and more aggravated, and defied the skill of the mercurial treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA relieved him. Few cases can be found more inveterate and obstinate than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness,

are generally produced by internal Scrofulous Corruption, and are soon cured by the alterative effect of this SARSAPARILLA. Some cases require, however, to aid of the SARSAPARILLA, the skillful application of local remedies.

From the celebrated Dr. Jacob Morrell, of Cincinnati.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in disease of the Female Organs of Irregularity, Leucorrhœa, Internal Ulceration, and Prolapsus, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, and I have no doubt but it would yield to it, if properly aided by local treatment."

A lady, unwilling to allow the publication of her name, writes:

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating Leucorrhœa of long standing, by two bottles of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia,

when caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by this EXT. SARSAPARILLA.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

possess so many advantages over the other cathartics in the market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need not do more than to assure the public their quality is maintained equal to the best that it ever has been, and that they may be depended on to do all that they have ever done.

ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended by the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S SANANDA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine has done equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by reliance I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with internal ulcers, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

FROM ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till finally reduced to the last extremity. SANANDA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I cannot yet recollect one of the best that can be found for the disease above named. ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may25

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other stove yet invented, the cooking being done quicker, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large upper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the sifting up of the ashes is decidedly improved with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, we think those about to erect a new Furnace, would be free from the headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objection raised by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fine or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the best generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Stoe, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. The fit of the plate is regular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,

No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,

Has had four years of practical experience in making this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

DENTISTRY.

No. 60 CONGRESS STREET, Portsmouth, Jan. 1st, 1863.

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully inform his patrons and the public, (having had of late many calls to insert teeth upon VULCANIZED RUBBER,) that he has purchased the best VULCANIZER in the market, and is now prepared to do all work upon RUBBER, or the other bases of GOLD and SILVER as formerly, if desired.

The Rubber has several important advantages, viz.: It is very light and elastic, and consequently is perfectly easy to the muscles of the mouth and cheeks. There are no joints or open joints to collect food, &c.; consequently they can be worn night and day, and are very easily kept neat and clean.

Beside all this, the most accurate fit is obtained, as the Rubber is Vulcanized directly upon the plaster model, and the suction is of course much stronger than in plates of Gold or Silver.

Any one who is waiting for their permanent teeth will I am confident, be perfectly satisfied with the Rubber, as a base. The expense is but a little more than for Silver, and you get the same teeth (in blocks) that you would pay $60.00 for an upper or lower set on Gold.

In New York and Boston, and throughout the West, Vulcanized Rubber is used almost to the exclusion of the other bases, and by the best Dentists too. I will warrant a perfect fit and teeth from the best manufacturer in the country, S. S. White.

ALL OTHER OPERATIONS IN DENTISTRY I will do at the usual rates. I will here mention that my price for EXTRACTION is 25 cents.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TEADWELL, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr OLIVER and Dr BENNETT, for particular success in extracting Teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, will be attended to.

Please call and examine specimens of Artificial Teeth upon Vulcanized Rubber, Gold and Silver.

And from Sores and Wounds of the most serious nature down to a common Pimple. It eradicates Pimples from the face, and beautifies the skin. There is no preparation before the public that can equal this Salve in prompt and energetic action for the speedy cure of external cases, as those who have tried its virtues testify. Soldiers, Sailors, and Fishermen, will find this Salve their best friend.

It has none of the irritating, heating properties of other remedies, but cools, cleanses, heals the most serious Sores and Wounds. "Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Specifications, Petitions, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, not enjoyed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials bel ow given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL IN THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN Applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted; and the one exception was owing to unmistakable proof of great talent and ability in his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply exclusively to procure their patents, as they may be surest having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made no twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

FRIDAY, JULY 3, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

Pennsylvania seems to be waking up. It is stated that not less than 5000 men volunteered on Wednesday in Philadelphia.—Gov. Curtin addressed a large crowd there in the evening, stating that military men concurred in the opinion that the defense of the State from invasion, and the security of the city, will be found upon the banks of the Susquehanna. He thanked New York and New Jersey for their aid, and said that the call made upon Pennsylvania has been responded to through the State in a manner much beyond official anticipation.

In the cavalry fight between Pleasanton and Stuart, at Hanover Junction on Tuesday afternoon, the rebels are reported to have lost 400 killed, wounded and prisoners, and 6 pieces of artillery. Our loss is stated at 200. In the fight on the same day at Hanover, Col. Kilpatrick captured a battle flag, a Lieut. Colonel, a Captain and 45 privates. 15 or 20 rebels were killed.

The Philadelphia Press' dispatch states that Stuart had nearly or quite 6000 men, while Gen. Pleasanton had but about 1800. The battle lasted from 9 A. M. to 7 P. M. We captured all the 1st S. C. regiment except 13. The rebels took but 60 prisoners. A piece of artillery belonging to the 1st S. C. regiment is among our trophies, beside one field piece and one breech-loading steel rifled piece. Our cavalry had no artillery.

More rebels are reported to have crossed at Sharpsburg during the past few days and to have pushed on toward Pennsylvania. A rebel mail, containing much information, has been captured at Hagerstown. It is now deemed probable that the impending battle will be fought in Maryland rather than Pennsylvania. Some fears are expressed that Lee, by a rapid movement, may return and fall on Washington before our own army can overtake him.

We have meagre accounts of a heavy engagement at Gettysburg on the 1st, between the rebels under Longstreet and Hill, and the 1st and 11th corps under Reynolds and Meade. Portions of the fight were very severe, with heavy loss. The onset of the enemy was successfully resisted by the two corps, and the 3d and 12th are going to reinforce them. Maj. Gen. Reynolds was mortally wounded and has since died. His body has reached Baltimore.

The rebels having evacuated Carlisle, our forces occupied it on Wednesday. The rebels soon returned and demanded the surrender of the town. Being refused they bombarded it, our forces replying. About 10 o'clock P. M. the rebels fell back, but threatened to return the next day. They burned the barracks and gas works, which were a short distance outside the town.

Gen. Meade is said to have penetrated the rebel lines between Hagerstown and Sharpsburg late on Tuesday. There are no later accounts from his army.

A private letter from Gen. Dix's corps says Gen. Keyes stated that he would be in Richmond by Thursday, 2d, if at all within the range of possibility. The people there are said to be much frightened, and are being armed.

According to the N. Y. Herald's dispatch Richmond has been strongly garrisoned and an attack upon it would have but indifferent chances of success.

Rebel accounts from Vicksburg report that the Federal troops keep up a constant fire, much severer than formerly, as they have the range of the town. An entire block of buildings has been burnt by incendiaries. The sappers and miners on both sides are hard at work, and so close together that they can hear each others' picks. Official advices from Gen. Grant, to the 25th at noon, say that everything was working favorably. Gen. Sherman advanced on the 22d to meet Johnston, but could not find him or any considerable number of rebels. It is asserted that Johnston cannot muster 35,000 men all told.

Gen. Grant has again been reinforced from Gens. Rosecrans' and Burnside's armies, and is now said to have from 115,000 to 120,000 effective men.

Jeff. Davis has called upon Alabama for 10,000 additional troops to defend the State from invasion, and the Alabama papers are discussing the advantages of Tombigbee river for a line of defensive works.

☞ The London Spectator notices as "a curious fact, that out of the eight essays sent in at Oxford for the Chancellor's prize for the best Latin essay on the present American struggle—the subject proposed by Lord Derby—all of them of more than average excellence—seven are on the Northern side. Moreover, several of the writers had begun their labors as true Southerners, but had been converted by the pure force of the considerations which a thorough study of the subject brought before them."

☞ The receipts of gold coin at the N. Y. Custom House in payment of duties average about one hundred thousand dollars per day.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., June 21.

Matters in this department begin to assume quite a lively aspect, but from the fact that next to nothing can be published in the city papers until it has first been published North, Dame Rumor has to be our chief chronicler.

I have already sent you the item of the capture of the tugboat Boston by a party from Mobile, led by Capt. Jas. Duke, formerly one of the best tugboat captains in the New Orleans trade. After her capture she made prizes of and burned the barks Lenox and Texana, both bound to this port with assorted cargoes. Mobile papers of the 16th, received this morning, announce the arrival at that city of the Boston, with a number of prisoners reserved from the vessels captured.

Gen. Banks's army has been thundering at the gates of Port Hudson for some weeks, but to the surprise of all, that defiant nest of rebellion as yet refuses to give in. The "Bobbin Boy" is tenacious, however, and seems determined to have the place, at whatever cost. From here to Brashear; thence to Franklin, Opelousas, Alexandria; thence to Simmsport; thence to Port Hudson; surely the commander of the Department of the Gulf for the last two months has been "bobbin' around."

On Thursday last a band of guerrillas made a dash into Plaquemine, 'twixt this city and Baton Rouge, captured the guard there, burned the towboats Anglo-American and L. A. Sykes, and the steamboats A. Segur and Southern Merchant. About two miles up Bayou Plaquemine they burned the steamer barge Belfast. These proceedings caused an interruption of nearly two days in the transportation betwixt this city and Baton Rouge and Port Hudson, and caused fears of an attack on Baton Rouge. From the limited number of boats on this portion of the Mississippi, the destruction of the above will cause a serious inconvenience.

The marauders reported themselves a portion of Magruder's men, which is very probable, as a gentleman belonging to your city, direct from Matamoras, informs me that on the 13th ult. Magruder dispatched 10,000 men from brownsville, Texas, for Louisiana, and himself left three days subsequently, avowing his determination to recapture New Orleans. While at Brownsville he took occasion to visit Matamoras and was received by the Governor with high honors, a grand ball, etc.

On the line of the Opelousas Railroad the enemy are also becoming troublesome, and last evening the 26th Massachusetts (who came here with Butler, but who, I believe, have never yet been in a fight—doing naught but provost guard duty,) were sent to Terrebonne Station, about twenty miles from the city, to operate against the troublesome visitors.

The whole of the Teche country, which Gen. Banks had placed within the Federal lines, is now restored to Confederate control, and numbers of those who acted as pilots to the Federal forces are said to have suffered the extreme penalty therefor.

A detail of twenty men from the 16th New Hampshire, convalescents, left here on Friday for Key West, as guard for an invoice of prisoners. Two of them were from Capt. Thacher's company, and they informed me that the regiment now numbers but sixty men for active duty. While stationed at Bute a la Rose sickness made fearful inroads upon their ranks. Capt. Thacher and Lieut. Haven have both been in the city, on the sick list, for some time. Many of the company have been sick in one of the cotton-presses here, and more of them, including James Shaw, from your office, in the hospital at Baton Rouge. They begin to look forward to the time when they will once more breathe the pure air of New England.

Quite a bitter feeling prevails against the nine months' men among the three years' troops, and some of the latter have even told me they would turn round and fight the former, if necessary, to prevent them returning home when their term of enlistment expires. The great disparity in bounty money—favoring the short term men—seems to be a primary cause of this harsh feeling.

Mr. G., army correspondent of the Memphis Appeal, (called the "Moving Appeal" by the Mobile papers, from having been successively published in Memphis, Grenada, Jackson, &c.) informs me that Pemberton ordered the evacuation of Port Hudson. Joe Johnston arrived in season to countermand the order. Subsequently Johnston himself ordered its evacuation, but the order was too late. Banks had already invested it. Mr. G. was captured at Jackson, La., by Gen. Prince's forces, about three weeks since. A few days previous he paid $8 a pint for whiskey, in Jackson, Miss.

The appearance of a chain-gang sweeping St. Charles street, under the charge of the Provost Guard, attracted some attention Saturday morning. They were soldiers, had attached to their legs a 12 lb. ball and chain, and on the back of each a placard with the word "Marauder" in large letters told why they were thus degraded.

JUNE 23.—The U. S. transport Crescent, which arrived at this port yesterday, from Pensacola, brought news that on Sunday last the steamer Planter, with 600 bales of cotton, was caught while attempting to run out of Mobile Bay,—and the same day the Anglo Confederate steamer Neptune, from Havana for Mobile, with a cargo of liquors, clothing and munitions of war, was overhauled and captured; both prizes being made by U. S. steam-sloop Lackawanna. The Neptune is a beautiful Clyde-built steamer of 700 tons burden, side-wheel, light draft, and nearly new. The Planter is a sister steamer to the Swan, captured off Tortugas about a year since.

Accounts from the Opelousas Railroad are too conflicting for me to attempt to discriminate. IOX.

Communication.

FRAUD, BRIBERY AND FALSEHOOD in various forms, at elections, are not new things, nor are they confined to any one party, or any one country. They are always gathering round a good thing, and they follow it wherever it goes, as rats and mice are said to follow men wherever they go.

There are, besides, some usages, and some regulations, even, that seem to invite fraud, and pay a premium on falsehood.—We have been led to say this by reading the Legislative reports of the alleged frauds in Ward 5, Manchester, at the election last March.

The majority (republicans) reported to the House that Daniel Connor, Wm. Little and John Smith, returned as Representatives from that Ward, are not entitled to seats;—and the minority (democrats) reported that John Smith is not so entitled!—John himself seems to have thought so too, for he did not go to Concord and claim the seat. Yet the same John Smith appears to have been the Moderator of the meeting.

The majority report alleges a great number and variety of fraudulent and illegal acts, sufficient to invalidate the election.—Of those we take no further notice.

But the minority report contains some curious information, worthy of attention.—One item is, that William Little (one of the members whose seat was contested) "obtained naturalization papers immediately preceding the election, for 130 men, more than half of whom resided in Ward 5." A second item is, that the selectmen filed with the clerk, "the list of voters used at the meeting, numbering 708 names. The number of ratable polls was 703."

And a third item is—"Though the assessors in making the assessment in April last, found only 269 polls, yet the assessment was very imperfect; men refused to give their names, or gave a part only of the names of those living in the same tenement."

The imperfect assessment here mentioned is what usually takes place under such circumstances. Four years ago last Spring, we had in Portsmouth a wonderful increase of new voters, freshly naturalized, on purpose to carry the election. Our check list was copied into the list of ratable polls, which list was 200 larger than the year before, though all the people knew that the population had not greatly increased—When the Collector came round, we asked him how he found his new polls. The answer was, he did not find fifty of them, and did not expect to collect near so many poll taxes from that quarter.

Such events as these occasioned the passage of a law which obliged all such voters to show their papers three months before election. The law worked well: we had no such Swiss Guard of new voters two years ago. But last year, when it was desired to raise an Irish regiment, the law was repealed, in the vain hope to get recruits by the means. And this last Spring, an avalanche of new voters was found on our check list, (50 in one ward, and in the city more than enough to turn the scale in one very important case,)—and in Manchester what the minority report states, viz, 708 voters to 269 polls!

Voting by ballot is supposed to be one way of expressing public opinion: but what opinion, or whose opinions can be expressed by such voting as this? And what do these fresh voters know about our institutions?—They know absolutely nothing about the matter; and they express only the ardent desire of some office seeker to get elected.

The minority report further states that "William Knox voted five or six times. It also appeared by the statements of twenty-two men that they each voted for either Mr. Harriman or Mr. Gilmore, while but sixteen votes were declared by the moderator. The name of Timothy Teahan, deceased, was checked as having voted. Mr. Little the sitting member, made earnest and repeated efforts to induce the Ward Clerk to make a copy of the check list to be annexed to his deposition, but without effect."

Mr. Little, the sitting member, made a speech in his own favor. He admitted that there were some nine fraudulent votes cast, but disavowed any connection with these frauds. He did not deny that John Smith, the moderator, threw away votes, but he protested against being punished for the frauds of others.

The reader may make his own comment, remembering that all the quotations above are from those who wished to keep Connor and Little in their seats. They were ousted. U. T.

☞ When Gen. Burnside asked to be relieved, he recommended Gen. Meade for the place he had filled. Gen. McClellan also has spoken of Gen. Meade's military abilities in the highest terms.

☞ A Vicksburg letter says that "our men have been at work on the Indianola, and no doubt is now entertained that she can be refitted for service. She is afloat already."

☞ The question of rank between the Major Generals of our army has been decided. They rank in the following order; McClellan, Fremont, Banks, Dix, Butler

☞ It has all the time seemed to us one of the strangest and most inexcusable things, that the rebel privateers should have been allowed to board a U. S. Cutter without detection, as at Portland. Certainly not more than one boatload should have been permitted on board under any circumstances at midnight. But a selected paragraph of "Burleigh's," which we gave yesterday, states that the cutter's crew were a little too fond of their grog; and it is also hinted that the officers likewise were imbued with less military spirit, than with that of another sort.

☞ The Missouri State Convention passed an ordinance of emancipation, on Wednesday, by a vote of 57 to 30. By its provisions all slaves in the State July 4, 1870, are to be free, and slavery shall then cease. Those freed, however, are to remain under the control of their late owners, as follows:—those over 40 years of age during their lives; those under twelve until they arrive at the age of twenty-three; and those of all other ages until the 4th of July, 1776.

THE PRICE OF FUEL ADVANCING.—Coal in Boston has advanced to $12 per ton; hard wood to $11 per cord, and pine wood to $8.

☞ The steamers of the International Steamship Co. and of the Portland Steam Packet Co. are, in future, to go well armed, prepared for any emergency.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, when the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by such to restrain the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cured, was the point made in the valuable preparation. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be sacred, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION, and to prove the declarations by true results.

Local.

☞ Gov. Gilmore has officially given notice that the Company of Heavy Artillery now being recruited for Fort Constitution, according to the conditions of a recent order from the War Department, is not liable to be transferred to any other field of service, and those volunteering can enlist with the assurance of remaining at said Fort until discharged, by inserting this provision in their recruiting papers. The Governor adds that it is desirable that said Company be filled at once.

☞ "L," the Boston correspondent of the Ballot, has made up a list of the citizens of Rockingham County who enlisted in Massachusetts regiments previous to the last call. From it we extract the following names, given as those of residents of this city:—

Henry D. Gray, Co. A, 8th (3 mos.)
J. J. Newman, Sergt., Co. B, 1st.
Charles D. Hanscom, Co. I, 1st.
William H. Huntress, Co. C, 1st.
Wallace W. Gove, Co. B, 12th.
D. L. Boardman, Co. I, 12th.
William T. Merrill, Sergt., Co. F, 14th.
Foster W. Tripp, Co. A, 17th.
George S. Sides, Co. F, 17th.
Ezekiel Mann, Lieut., Co. K, 17th.
Robert Driver, Co. C, 17th.
George Wilson, Sergt., Co. D, 20th.
Harrison Cunist, Co. F, 24th.
John Flynn, Co. C, 28th.
Martin Barri, 1st Battery.

These are all the names which he gives as from Portsmouth. Several others are given in the list published in the last City Book. It will be noticed that L.'s list is almost wholly additional, containing very few of the names to be found in the other list.

☞ The enrolling officers in this, the first N. H. district, have completed their canvass, and the returns are now being copied at the Provost Marshal's office in this city. The whole number composing the first class, which includes all between the ages of 20 and 35 years, and unmarried men over 35 and under 45, except those who were in the U. S. service in March—the time of the passage of the act,—is 9550.

PERSONAL.—Ex-President Pierce visited Greenland on Wednesday, as the guest of Messrs. March.

Hon. Caleb Cushing was at the Atlantic House, Rye Beach, on Wednesday.

☞ Orders have been received at the Navy Yard to build all the gun carriages that can be constructed until further orders.

☞ A Charter has been granted, at the present session of the Legislature, to the "Rockingham Mills," by which name the Sagamore Mill in this city, now leased and operated by Charles Amory, Jr., & Co., will hereafter be known.

☞ Prof. Fernald, of Boston, the Composer, Balladist and eminent Pianist, has been engaged by Mons. Denier, and will appear at both of his classical soirees at the Temple on the 4th. The first entertainment takes place at 2 1-2 o'clock P. M., for the little children and for those residing out of town who cannot attend in the evening. Admission is only 10 cents for children, and undoubtedly all that can will avail themselves of attending. M. Denier's ventriloquia powers are great, and his entertainment on last 4th gave his audience much merriment and laughter. The grand evening entertainment commences at 8 1-4 o'clock, when a change of programme will be given.

☞ M. Denier requests us to state that the Cooking Stove performance takes place at 5 1-2 P. M., on the Fourth.

☞ Lieut. Joseph Amazeen, of the Revenue service, has been detached from service at Eastport, Me., and ordered for duty at Newbern, N. C.

☞ Capt. Wm. F. Parrott has purchased the ship North Atlantic, formerly Newburyport, built in Portsmouth by Mr. George Raynes. The N. A. is to be commanded by Captain Briard, is laden with ice, and bound for Calcutta.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.

There will be a Strawberry Festival, for the benefit of our sick and wounded Soldiers, at the Court House, Saturday, July 4th, from 11 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Strawberries, Ice Cream, Cake and other refreshments will be for sale.

The hall will be decorated, and every thing will be done to make it the most desirable place of resort to those who wish to pass a pleasant Independence Day.

It is hoped that the object of this Festival, exclusive of the many attractions offered, will induce the citizens of Portsmouth and our friends from out of town, to favor it with their patronage. Admission 10 cents.

☞ The Maine Union State Convention, at Bangor, on Wednesday, nominated Hon. Samuel Cony of Augusta, for Governor. Among the resolutions was one requesting Vice President Hamlin and Senators Fessenden and Morrill to repair to Washington immediately, for the purpose of urging upon the President the necessity of placing along the coast a sufficient naval and military force to protect our commerce from pirates.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— At Concord the 4th of July is to be celebrated by a democratic demonstration, and the intention is to make it equal to the late Union League convention. Many people will, doubtless, be in attendance from other States, desiring to hear the speech of Ex-President Pierce, who will preside on that occasion.

—— Eighteen pounds of wool were sheared a short time since from a merino buck, owned by Mr. John Wingate, jr., of Wolfborough.

——The Wolfborough News states that the Democratic representative from that town, A. H. Rust, Esq., has been elected one of the Committee for organizing a State Committee for aiding the National Freedmen's Relief Association at New York.

——The celebration at Manchester on the Fourth will afford our citizens a good opportunity to "cultivate that more intimate acquaintance" which has been so often wished for, and has been, in part, realized.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.—The House on Wednesday referred a petition in aid of the 1st N. H. Battery, to the Governor and Council, that they may take such action as is necessary to secure the additional men required to fill it to the maximum number. A bill, reported by the committee on military affairs, in relation to the organization of the militia, and re-enacting the old law on the statute book, after some discussion, was recommitted. A joint resolution donating $700 to Ex-Gov. Berry, for extraordinary services and expenditures during the past years, was referred to a select committee of ten, one from each county.

Mr. W. S. Stevens of Dover offered a joint resolution that it is expedient in view of the insufficiency of the present State House, that the seat of the State Government be removed to some other place, provided that such place first erect proper buildings; and also that towns or cities desirous of change be invited to make propositions to that end, and present the same to the Governor and Council to be laid before the next session of the Legislature. Referred to a select committee of ten, one from each county.

☞ The Baltimore correspondent of the New York Herald, who claims to have the confidence of leading rebels, can tell a big story. He says that if Lee should capture Washington he will not destroy it. It is whispered, says this correspondent, by those who know Lee best, that he never was a secessionist at heart; that he has no faith in the Jeff Davis oligarchy or in the stability of the Southern confederacy; that he loves the old Union and the old Constitution and wishes to see the integrity of the one and supremacy of the other restored; that in the great revolution through which the country is now passing he aspires to play the part not of Napoleon or Cromwell, but of Gen. Monk, and to effect the restoration of constitutional government in America!

This upright REFRIGERATOR combines every improvement. It is the most perfect article of the kind in the market, requiring less ice than any other, and keeping its contents sweet and free from any unpleasant odors.

Daniel T. Curtis, Fruit dealer, Boston, says of it, "I have preserved grapes and pears, peaches, and an extensive variety of plums and berries for five or six weeks in Schooley's Refrigerator."

Oren Peck, Boylston Market, Boston, says, "I find, on careful trial, that it will keep meats perfectly fresh and dry for ten or twelve days."

John Hunt, Butter dealer, Cincinnati, says, "I can keep butter sweet and fresh any length of time in reason, say six weeks."

C. E. Carpenter, Ice Dealer, Providence, says, "I have kept a cup of custard in one of Schooley's Refrigerators during the warm weather one week, when I ate it and found it perfectly good."

Thousands of similar testimonials can be shown in its favor.

SCHOOLEY'S ICE KING REFRIGERATOR. (Patented Jan. 6, 1863.) We present the ICE KING to our customers as the "ne plus ultra" of cheap Refrigerators, combining in its operation all of the great improvements necessary for complete ventilation. In the introduction of Patent Refrigerators to the public, the cost of construction has been necessarily so great as to prevent their sale to the "million." The consequence has been that those who could not afford to purchase a Patent ventilated Refrigerator, were compelled to procure one of the old style, or go without.

We are now happy to state that, by the introduction of our new patent ICE KING, we can offer to the million a complete ventilated Refrigerator, well made, lined throughout with zinc, at cheaper prices than ever before sold.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

From Henry Eder, a well-known merchant of Orono, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never yet one bottle which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As far as our popularity it, they agree that has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the medicinal virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged ten, had an affection of the tumor in her ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane E. Rice, a well-known and much-esteemed lady of Dennisville, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which we could not cure. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the widely-known firm of Gage, Berry and Co., manufacturers of enamelled paper in Newark, N. J.

"I had for several years a very troublesome tumor in my face, which grew gradually worse until it disfigured my features and became an intolerable affliction. I tried almost every thing a man could of medicine, but without any relief or apparent effect whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it might for a time; but in a few weeks the tumor began to form matter, which finally broke and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I enjoy perfect health, and without a doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Robt. Swain, Hoaston St., New York.

"Dr. AYER: I adhere full to remove Erysipelas and Scrofula Sores by the persevering use of your SARSAPARILLA, and I have just now cured an attack of Mallyson's Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to the profession as well as to the people."

From J. E. Schaefer, Esq., Wabenum, Ohio.

"I twice had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicines. The ulcers were so bad that the bones became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Moore, M. P. P. of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and to purify the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Sickler, Esq., the able editor of the Tamaqua (Pennsylv.) Democrat.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For three months we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the festering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. As a last resort, everything else having failed and hope from, we began giving your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the iodide of potash lotion, as you directed. In some hopeless cases the disease had gone the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease

From Dr. Hiram Sloat, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a valuable remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic disease from any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., who is a prominent member of Gov. Boutwell's Department of Health.

"DR. AYER. My dear Sir: I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary type, and effectual in some cases that were too obstinate to yield to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required."

Mr. Chas. S. Van Lieb, of New Brunswick, N. J., had scrofulous ulcers on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury and secondary disease, which grew worse and more aggravated for years, in spite of every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the perseverance of Ayer's SARSAPARILLA rendered him a sound man. It has cured his children of inveterate and distressing tetter, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness,

are generally produced by Scrofulous Humor PURIFIED and very often cured by the alterative effect of this SARSAPARILLA. Some cases require, however, to aid of the SARSAPARILLA, the skillful assistance of local remedies.

From the well-known and widely-celebrated Dr. Jacob Morrill, of Cincinnati.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cases of Irregularity, Leucorrhœa, Internal Ulceration, and bone debility, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, when all other means, that do not, when its effect is properly aided by local treatment."

A lady, unwilling to allow the publication of her name, writes:

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating Leucorrhœa of long standing, by two bottles of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia,

when caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by this REV. SARSAPARILLA.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

possess so many advantages over the other purgatives in the market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need but do more than to assure the public their quality is maintained equal to the best it ever has been, and that they may be depended on to do all that they have ever done.

Prepared by J. C. AYER, M. D., & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by warranted to restore gray or red hair to a dark brown, stop the hair from falling off, eradicates all humors and andruff from the head, when used according to directions.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some of Dr. SWETT'S INDIAN ROOT OF PEACE, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago, and no other medicine has equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and have received many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENKINS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with blotches on my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From EDMUND I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a period of 9 months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow worse and more distressed, without any relief, until I procured your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, without any disturbance. I consider your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may20ly

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven doors are covered with panels, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and air-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meat is prevented from passing out into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin reservoir, in which meat or vegetables can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using the Stove, can testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

"MAGEE'S PATENT" VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former models, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fire or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the stove can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Gilmore, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron R. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a sound tooth when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,

No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,

Has had four years of practical experience in making this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

Portsmouth, Jan. 1, 1863.

DENTISTRY.

No. 60 CONGRESS STREET, Portsmouth, Jan. 1st, 1863.

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully inform his patrons and the public, that he has not gone away to learn teeth upon VULCANIZED RUBBER, that he has purchased the best VULCANIZER in the market, and is now prepared to do all work upon RUBBER, as the other bases of GOLD and SILVER as formerly, if preferred.

The Rubber has several important advantages, viz.—It is very light and elastic, and consequently is perfectly easy to the molars of the palate and cheeks. There are no interstices or open joints to collect food, &c.; consequently they can be worn night and day, and are very easily kept neat and clean.

Beside all this, the most accurate fit is obtained, as the Rubber is Vulcanized directly upon the plaster model, and the suction is of course much stronger than in plates of Gold or Silver.

Any one who is waiting for their permanent teeth will, I am confident, be perfectly satisfied with the Rubber, as a base. The expense is but a little more than for Silver, and you get the same teeth (in blocks) that you would pay $60 00 for an upper or lower set on Gold.

In New York and Boston, and throughout the West, Vulcanized Rubber is used almost to the exclusion of the other bases, and by the best Dentists too. I will warrant a perfect fit and teeth from the best manufacturer in the country, S. S. White.

ALL OTHER OPERATIONS IN DENTISTRY I will do at the usual rates. I will here mention that my practice in EXTRACTING is 25 cents.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TREADWELL, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr OLIVER and Dr. CHAMBERLAIN, for particulars in extracting teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

☞ Please call and examine specimens of Artificial Teeth upon Vulcanized Rubber, Gold and Silver.

Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE, than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides the extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable as I successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and I have no hesitation in putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such uninstakeably proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

SATURDAY, JULY 4, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

We lost heavily in officers in the battle at Gettysburg, Pa., on Wednesday, but took a large number of prisoners. The rebels made a strong attempt to flank the position gained by our troops, but were repulsed. Their loss is regarded as fully equal to ours. Gen. Howard's 11th corps, which broke and run at Chancellorsville, regained their lost laurels most nobly, repelling two veteran corps of the rebel army. In the evening the whole army of the Potomac had reached the field, and Gen. Meade had all the corps strongly posted for a renewal of the fight the next morning. It was understood that Gen. Couch would aid him with troops. Gov. Curtin telegraphed to Gov. Seymour that the battle was not decisive, and asked him to send all the troops he could raise without delay. He also made a similar request of Gov. Parker, of New Jersey. The battle at Gettysburg seems to have been renewed sometime on Thursday, but we have no definite account of the result. One Harrisburg dispatch says that scouts report that the rebels were repulsed three times. Lee held South Mountain Gap as an avenue of escape to Virginia in case of defeat, but Gen. Pleasanton, it was supposed, was attempting to drive him from it.

Gen. Rosecrans officially reports the advance movement of his army. He reports that on reaching Tullahoma, Tenn., on the 18th, they found that the enemy had fled in the night, much demoralized, leaving strong fortifications and their siege guns in our possession. They took the direction of Winchester, Tenn.

Vicksburg advices state that on the 23d, Gen. Osterhaus was attacked at Big Black, and a severe battle ensued. The rebels fought with great obstinacy and spirit, and were, after a long engagement, repulsed with great slaughter. Official advices from Gen. Grant to the 28th state that the rebels are making a desperate resistance, hoping for an attack on our forces' rear. Reinforcements were said to be on their way from Bragg. Price, Marmaduke and Kirby Smith are combining to get some point on the Mississippi,—probably Milliken's Bend.

☞ The War Department, it is said, has definitely concluded to accept the commutation of three hundred dollars for drafted men. An order to that effect is prepared. Collectors of Internal Revenue are designated as agents to receive the money.

☞ The ship S. Gildersleeve, Capt. McCallam, was captured and burned by the Alabama, May 20, in lat. 12.10 South, long. 34.55 West. The barque Justina, from Rio for Baltimore, being a Maryland craft, was bonded for $7000, and the crew of the Gildersleeve were put on board of her.

☞ In Newark, N. J., the Union League, who were raising some thousands of dollars for a celebration of unusual proportions, propose to abandon the movement, and expend the money in raising a regiment for immediate service in Pennsylvania.

☞ Gov. Yates, of Illinois, was shot at through a window while writing in his office at his residence in Springfield, at a late hour on Wednesday night. He was not injured. There is no clue to the perpetrator.

☞ The iron clad frigate Roanoke left the Brooklyn Navy Yard on Wednesday having on board a full complement of officers, sailors and marines, and being provided with all the necessaries for active service of a hostile character. She is ordered to report at Hampton Roads.

The keeper of the Pond Island Light reports that on Monday last one of the pilots at the mouth of the Kennebec fell in with a portion of a vessel's top works, badly burned, on the "Hub" some ten miles S. E. of Seguin. A tompion, or gun stopper, was also picked up at the wreck, which suggests that it was an armed vessel and might have been the Tacony.—Portland Press.

☞ It is related that a prominent peace Democrat of York county, Penn., when he discovered a party of cavalrymen leading five or six horses and some cattle from his barnyard, endeavored to persuade them to take them back, assuring them that he deeply sympathized with the cause of the South, and was opposed to the war and to the administration, and had done all in his power to aid them. The lieutenant in command of the party thanked him heartily for his sympathy, but told him that he would take the horses and cattle as a contribution from a friend to the Confederate government.

☞ A woman was stung to death by bees at Unity, Columbian county, Ohio, on the 8th ult. Her children had tormented the bees with a stick, and they flew at the lady in such numbers and stung her so fiercely that she lived only fifteen minutes.

MEXICO.—It appears that the City of Mexico has been evacuated by the Mexicans and partially occupied by the French, President Juarez and his cabinet believing that the most effectual resistance to the French could be made outside the walls. On the 31st of May the government moved to San Luis de Potosi, taking all movable firearms and munitions of war. They also took $2,000,000 from the treasury. The force that garrisoned the city, over 20,000 men, were withdrawn to points round the city, for the purpose of guerrilla warfare.

June 18 a meeting was held in the city, at which the principal leaders of the church party were present. They sent to Gen. Forey to offer their allegiance to the Emperor Louis Napoleon. June 5 the French division under Gen. Bazaine occupied the main entrance to the city, and offered the church party protection against the excited populace.

Three papers had been established favoring the policy of the French. One of these states that the occupation of the City of Mexico settles with certainty that it is necessary to extirpate the democracy, and no longer need there be even a dream of popular sovereignty. Gen Forey had issued a decree confiscating the property of all parties who have been or are in arms against the French.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.—The Senate, on Thursday, passed the resolution providing for the appointment of a Commissioner at Washington to look after our soldiers.

The House passed a joint resolution appropriating $2000 for the assistance of disabled and discharged soldiers in reaching their homes, reporting the same with an amendment which was adopted. A bill has been introduced in the House providing for the appointment of a Surgeon General, and giving to him the right to nominate Surgeons and Assistant Surgeons, to be approved by the Governor and Council. A bill relating to the introduction of text books into common schools, was passed, after being so amended as to provide that no changes in books be made during the time provided, except by vote of the town. The Legislature will probably adjourn this, Saturday, morning.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Col. Lull's remains have been sent home from New Orleans, and should they arrive in season, his obsequies will take place at Milford, next Tuesday, at 21-2 P. M., with military honors.

—— A farmer in Boscawen writes :—The grass crop in this section—including Boscawen, Salisbury, Webster and Warner—will be exceedingly light. Much of the grass winter kills, and the protracted drought is using up what the winter spared. Some have commenced cutting already. Many farmers estimate their crop less than half what it was last year. The English grass will not exceed half a crop. Grain looks fair but needs rain. Apples drop off badly, but a fair crop is expected.

—— A valuable dwelling house, together with a large barn and outbuildings, in Concord, were totally destroyed by fire on Thursday evening. The property belonged to Edson C. Eastman. Loss not ascertained. Probably fully insured. Supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

—— Gov. Gilmore calls for forty-six men for the First N. H. Battery, and offers a bounty of Two Hundred dollars to each man who shall enlist.

—— Hon. Andrew S. Woods, formerly Judge of the Superior Court in this State, died at his residence in Bath, June 20th, aged 60.

—— Newspapers throughout the State are complaining of the drought. The thirsty earth cries for rain.

—— The Profile House at Franconia is to be lighted with gas, to be made upon the premises. The Flume House will not be opened this summer. It is owned by the same landlord as the Profile House.

—— Deacon John Gilman of Fisherville, was killed on Friday, June 26. While engaged in blasting stone a piece, which was thrown up, and striking him on the head and causing instant death. Mr. G. was a volunteer in one of the N. H. regiments, and had been in several engagements.

—— The Newark, N. J., Evening Journal notices new counterfeit 5's on the City Bank, Manchester.

☞ Gen. Meade is a tall, slim,, gray-bearded man. He wears glasses, an old slouched hat, a blue blouse, with corduroy pants tucked into his long jack boots. He is ungainly in looks and actions, plain of speech, familiar and free in conversation when not occupied with business. He has the confidence of the President in a high degree.

☞ The fireworks in New York to-night will be gorgeous. One piece will represent the fight between the Monitor and Merrimac.

☞ The captured rebel iron-clad Atlanta has been pronounced unseaworthy by an examining board of our navy. She leaks badly where the iron work is fastened to her hull.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated — By UNCLE TOBY.

Another Ursula Cutt; her Romatic History.—Some manuscript copies of old letters, just put into our hands, make it appear that besides the Mrs. Ursula Cutt, who was killed by the Indians, on her farm in Portsmouth, in the year 1694, there was a Miss Ursula Cutt, who was killed by Indians about 50 years before that time, at Kittery.

Mr. R. H. Cutts, in a Note dated March 9, 1844, says :—J. Wingate Thornton, Esq., from whom I took this copy, says that he visited Mrs. Wood, in Feb., 1840; and he describes her as a lady of old fashioned manners, very nice and formal, not very modern in her dress, conversing in fine language, and as smiling sometimes. She promised to write the story of the Cutt Family, which she averred to be strictly true, and said she recollected the visit of Col. Fowler's descendant, who interrupted her grandfather's family at their dinner table, and his unsuccessful search among the Probate Records.

The reader will perceive that no old dates are given, but making a loose calculation back from 1840, we suppose that Miss Ursula Cutt might have come to the Piscataqua Colony as early as 1640 or 50.

Extract from a letter written by Mrs. Sally Sayward Barrell, Keating-Wood, addressed to M. E. Keating.—"I was about twelve years old when my mother, as a reward for something she approved, proposed to take me to an old lady to whom she was distantly related and who resided in a part of Kittery called Long Lane.—The roads leading to it were execrable and our horse was not one of the fleetest, so it was nearly two hours before we arrived at the place. It was a low tumbling kind of building, having the appearance of a number of small tenements put together as suited the taste of the owner; the approach was at the back and we rode entirely around it before we came to the front. A large old gate admitted us to the garden, upon which the front lay. A servant came to the door, at which we had knocked for a long time with an old iron knocker, and conducted us thro' a semi-circular entry, very dark and narrow, to a small low parlour; the walls were hung with a dark velvet paper, and the wainscot was entirely black. At the farther end Mrs. Whipple was seated in a large old-fashioned easy chair. She appeared to me the picture of extreme old age, and yet I do not know that she had counted more years than I have. She had lost the use of her limbs and was entirely confined to her chair.—Her dress was a brown brocade with a nice lawn handkerchief and apron, short sleeves with a little ruffle just below the elbow, black mitts, a lawn cap with a rich lace border, and a black velvet hood upon the back of the head, tied with black ribbon under the chin. She must have been handsome in youth and was then a fine looking old lady. She received us with an affectionate welcome, embraced my mother and kissed me; then stifling her emotions, she exclaimed, "I see the daughter of Jonathan Sayward and Sarah Mitchell, two that I have loved from their birth. I am thankful that you, my dear child, have come to see me, an old woman, the inhabitant of an older house—this has been erected more than an hundred and fifty years. The kitchen is such as you will never see again." "That table," added she, "is as old as the house, and has never been removed from its station since it was built." It reached the whole length of the apartment, and the further end was raised two steps higher than the other. "At that table," said she, "and in that chair, the Lady Ursula was wont to dine, while her servants sat below." I presume they had the salt between them, but cannot say. "When you have seen the kitchen, look at that picture in the entry: it was the work of her hands, and although defaced by time, you will see that it was intended to represent the offering up of Isaac. You may then walk into the garden and see the summer-house. The Lady Ursula built it, and remember that the currant bushes, the roses and the tulips are the descendants of those she brought from old England, and the first planted in this province. Altho' thousands of seeds and roots have been taken from them, there is still a multitude remaining; and while you are enjoying yourself in running where you please, your mother and I will talk over old times, for I have many questions to ask."

I had never seen anything so beautiful as the garden—such a profusion of currants, fancy violets, roses and tulips were surely never collected in so small a space:—the summer house was literally worn out, covered with ivy, and propped up by posts—it appeared so old that I felt as if it was the work of an antediluvian. I could not be tired of wandering over and about it; the river washed its walls, and the boats passing and repassing rendered the scene so novel and delightful, that although time has obliterated many other things, this had too tenacious a hold to be effaced from the memory. After tea we set off on our return, and no sooner did I resume my seat in the chaise than I enquired of my mother who the Lady Ursula was of whom Madam Whipple talked so much.

The Lady Ursula whose name and doings have excited your curiosity, was the sister of my great grandfather and the daughter of Lord Thomas Cutt of Grondale Abbey in England. She was betrothed at an early age to a young gentleman by the name of Fowler. Her father disapproved the connexion and was glad when a war broke out which for a time prevented the nuptials, as the lover had chosen the military profession and was obliged immediately to join his regiment. The parting was painful on both sides, but for a year the frequent letters which she received rendered his absence less distressing. At length they ceased to arrive, and a report of his death in battle put an end to her hopes and her father's fears, whose ambition pointed out a more wealthy alliance. From all solicitation she was released by the death of her mother, followed by that of her father.

The family estate and honors descended by entail on the eldest son, but the large fortune of the mother became the portion of the younger children.

By a grant from Sir Ferdinand Gorges, Cutt and ———* Islands, with Long Lane, became the property of my great grandfather, his brother and this sister. When the young gentlemen decided to come to New England, the Lady Ursula determined to accompany them. Of their brother I know nothing.

*Probably Gerrish's Island.—U. T.

FROM THE FRANCONIA NOTCH.—Profile House, White Mountains, N. H., July 1. The following special and important dispatch was sent to the Transcript by that prince of operators and good fellows, Col. J. W. Robinson:

Weather very fine. Thermometer 70, at noon. It is reported that the "Old Man of the Mountain" was very indignant that such an innovation as the completion of a telegraph line should have been made in his immediate neighborhood without consulting his highness. As he has been placed on the "dead beat" list, it is presumed that he will hereafter keep "mum." It is rumored that the eagles inhabiting Eagle Cliff are making arrangements for a salute from the big gun on Mount Cannon, in commemoration of the event of telegraphically connecting the Profile House with the "rest of mankind."

☞ A young lady in Boston on Friday last took two spoonsful, by mistake, instead of two drops, of extract of yellow jessamine, and died in two hours.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, when the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by such to restrain the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cured, was the point made in this valuable preparation. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be sacred, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION, and to prove the declarations by true results.

Local.

THE FOURTH OF JULY.—The celebration to-day on the part of the City will be confined to the usual ringing of bells and firing of guns at sunrise, noon and sunset, with the addition of an out-door concert by the Portsmouth Cornet Band on Market Square, in the evening. Perhaps this latter feature will be as agreeable to many as any more extended and expensive way of celebrating the birthday of our country.

Mons. Denier will make two of his grand ascensions, as already announced, during the day,—at 10 1-2 and 5 1-2 o'clock. We do not know any one who has made greater exertions to please the public than Mons. Denier, and his exhibitions will, doubtless, prove highly satisfactory. Those who enjoy his public exhibitions should help fill the Temple for his "benefit."

The Strawberry Festival at the Court House is for so worthy an object that it ought to be participated in by every citizen: the attractions which such a social gathering in itself presents, when combined with that worthy object, are surely sufficient to convince every patriotic person that it is desirable to be present.

The fine new schooner Mary Willey will make a trip to the Shoals—leaving Pray's Wharf, at the North End, at 8 o'clock, and returning in the afternoon. A similar excursion to the Shoals is to be made from Newburyport in the yacht Princess.

☞ The 25th Maine regiment (9 months) passed through this city on Friday evening, on their return to the now historic city of Portland. The men were sun-browned and rugged, cheerful and happy. Their Colonel, Frank Fessenden, is a tip-top fellow, and as brave and patriotic a young soldier as ever drew a sword. He, with very many members of the regiment, wished to remain at Washington until the present crisis was passed. Their return to their native State, however, proves very joyful to them, personally, and as three regiments—the 23d, 25th and 27th—have returned within the past three days, very many families in Maine will pass a most delightful 4th of July,—rendered such by the presence of brothers, husbands and fathers, who have passed safely through the dangers of the camp and the field.

☞ Governor Gilmore has sent in a message to both branches of the Legislature asking for the examination of the defences at the mouth of the Piscataqua river. The Governor is awake to the demands of the hour, and whatever energy and perseverance can accomplish will be done.

A committee from the Legislature visited this city on Thursday, and in company with Mayor Dearborn inspected Fort Constitution, visited the Arsenal, &c. It is proposed to increase the garrison and to mount heavier rifled ordnance at the Fort, and to repair the Arsenal.

☞ We think our neighbors of the Journal must have been "sold," to give that yarn about a fellow's climbing into Fort Constitution on a pile of cement barrels!—"They" couldn't sell that to this Chronicle.

☞ Collector Upham gives notice, in accordance with orders from the War Department, that hereafter no vessel except regular packets and steamers will be allowed to enter or leave Portsmouth harbor between sunset and sunrise.

☞ In Board of Alderman, on Thursday evening, the Committee on the Haven medals reported that they had caused the dies to be made, and medals to be struck for distribution the present year.

D. L. Randall and Frank B. Johnson were appointed Truant Committee.

☞ Rev. Henry Wood, Chaplain in the U. S. Navy, has been detached from the Portsmouth Navy Yard, and ordered to the U. S. Naval Academy at Philadelphia.

☞ The special train for the Grand Democratic Mass Meeting at Concord to-day will leave the C. & P. depot in Portsmouth at 7 o'clock, A. M., returning in the evening. Fare half price.

☞ Linden street is well named—and one of the loveliest Linden trees in the world is now in the fullest blossom and fragrance there.

☞ Why not get that Arctic Hand Organ out to-day, as we are to have a sort of second-hand celebration?

☞ Messrs. Hoyt & Trask have very nicely fitted and furnished their new Saloon, on Congress street, and are all ready to wait on callers in good shape. They have very neat and pleasant rooms; and ladies or gentlemen, citizens or strangers, wishing refreshments, will be suited at the "Young America." See advertisement.

☞ The boys commenced to "celebrate" at an early hour last evening in their own inimitable style. Noises, loud, hideous and sleep-destroying, marked the night, and most tumultuously did they usher in "the day we celebrate."

☞ The name of Ann street, in this city, has been changed to Langdon street.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.

There will be a Strawberry Festival, for the benefit of our sick and wounded Soldiers, at the Court House, Saturday, July 4th, from 11 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Strawberries, Ice Cream, Cake and other refreshments will be for sale.

The hall will be decorated, and every thing will be done to make it the most desirable place of resort to those who wish to pass a pleasant Independence Day.

It is hoped that the object of this Festival, exclusive of the many attractions offered, will induce the citizens of Portsmouth and our friends from out of town, to favor it with their patronage. Admission 10 cents.

☞ This hot dry spell causes visitors to flock to Rye Beach. The "private boarding houses" are filling up, and the hotels are getting a good amount of "company."—Philbrick hangs out at the Atlantic House, as usual; Job Jenness & Son advertise the Surf House, near "the late lamented" Ocean House; and the Sagamore House at Frost's Point, and the Gerrish House at Kittery Point, are now open, after being long closed.

☞ The American states that a portion of the Portsmouth City Government will be in Manchester to-day, to participate in the celebration of the Fourth.

☞ We shall print no Daily Chronicle on Monday morning.

☞ The Hon. Charles J. Biddle has resigned the appointment of Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee of Pennsylvania, "in order to give, as a private soldier, or in any sphere that may be open to him, his whole exertions for the defense of our invaded Commonwealth." Why resign? Is it against any rule of the Democratic party that forbids its leading members to fight for the Union?

☞ Many of the worst secessionists in York, Pa., complain that they were treated worse than Union families by the rebel invaders, every horse and cow having been driven off. In only one instance the rebels paid, viz: $125 in Confederate money for a horse. Stuart afterwards returned a horse to a widow lady who proved that she was a secessionist herself and had a son in the rebel army.

☞ About three hundred army sutlers are in Washington without occupation at present. Some of them have been plundered by the rebel raiders, and others have been thrown out of employment by rapid changes of position of various corps. Being out of employment and patriotically inclined, they propose to organize as mounted home guards. It is believed that if the sutlers could be thoroughly organized no enemy could withstand their charges.

☞ A Chicago reporter speaks of "epicures who affect the hinder batrachian continuations." The man is talking of people who eat frogs' hind legs.

☞ The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has decided the Girard Will case in favor of the City of Philadelphia, all the judges concurring in the decision.

☞ Over a million dollars in gold has arrived in New York for safe-keeping, from Philadelphia, Baltimore and Harrisburg.

☞ It is now stated that Col. Montgomery's proceedings are unauthorized by the authorities in Washington.

From the Journal

The funeral services for the late JOHN HOWARD MARCH will take place at the family mansion in Greenland on Wednesday next, at 5 o'clock, P. M.—The relatives and friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend without further notice.

JOHN HOWARD MARCH, whose obsequies, as will be seen under our obituary head, are to be celebrated on Wednesday next at the old family mansion in Greenland, was born on the 10th of October, 1790, and died in Paris the 2d of February of this year. He was the youngest son of Dr. Clement March of Greenland, and was appointed by President Monroe in 1817, Consul General of the United States for the island of Madeira, and its dependencies; an office which he held during the administrations of Adams, Jackson, Van Buren, Harrison, Tyler, Polk, Taylor, Fillmore, Pierce and Buchanan. The duties of the position, seldom onerous but sometimes delicate, he discharged to the full satisfaction, as well of the country to which he was accredited, as of that which he represented. Indeed so highly was he esteemed by the Portuguese Government, that it offered him more than once titles of nobility—which Mr. March persistently refused. The last time, however, that he passed by Lisbon, the Portuguese Minister of Foreign Affairs, learning of his arrival, anticipated his landing, and, visiting him on board the steamer which brought him, requested, in a most and faltering speech, his acceptance of a golden medal in the name of the sovereign, the King of Portugal, as a slight tribute to his great philanthropy and generosity.

It is unnecessary to speak of his kindness to his countrymen, when the pursuit of health or other cause induced them to visit Madeira. There are persons here among us who would cheerfully bear eloquent testimony in the premises. But friendship has its delicacy, and the heart, however grateful, does not wish unsolicited, to obtrude its acknowledgements. Let it suffice to say that Mr. March used his ample fortune for others' gratification; that he sought the opportunity of doing good; and that no one more than he felt or acted more upon the conviction that it is more blessed to give than to receive.

During the five last years of his life, he suffered greatly from a painful and incurable disease. He knew his condition, and awaited, without repining, its certain termination. The only relief he sought to his sufferings was the alleviation of others' pain; and in his all-embracing charity he knew no sect nor country—nor did he stop to acquire whether misfortune was the consequence of crime or inevitable accident. He gave from his heart and the necessity of his moral organization.

Many men before Mr. March have acquired ample fortunes—but there are none within the reach of our present knowledge who have done greater good with equal means.

PORTSMOUTH AND DOVER RAILROAD.—As was anticipated, this subject has been the most exciting of the present session of the Legislature. It was violently opposed in the committee and in the House by the agents of the Boston & Maine Railroad. Mr. Christie of Dover, a Director of that road, used every effort to stop the grant of a charter—by his course directly misrepresenting the views and wishes of nine-tenths of his own constituents. The bill, however, went through the House, after much discussion, by more than a two-thirds vote. In the Senate, the Senator from whom opposition was expected was too sick to be in attendance, and the bill was passed unanimously, on Wednesday. Gov. Gilmore gave it his signature the same evening.

This road will probably be of no small importance to Portsmouth and Dover, opening a direct communication between two growing cities, which for many years have been more distant in modes of connection than Boston and Portsmouth. It will open a direct communication to the Lake and its rich region, and join, by a direct route, the Lake and the Ocean.

The route is probably not fully decided upon.—Three have been surveyed. The central is said to be the most likely to be taken—passing the river over Knight's Ferry to Dover Point. Noble's Island offers good facilities for a depot, where connections can be had with the other road without public detriment.

Mayor Dearborn is entitled to much credit for his close application and diligent attention to this matter of so much interest to the city. We might also give the names of Ex-Gov. Goodwin, Hon. Daniel Marcy, and several others, who have spared no pains in this matter.

ANOTHER VOLUNTEER GONE.

We are called upon to record the death of another one of Portsmouth's noble sons. GEORGE A. SPINNEY, son of the late Mr. Benj. Spinney, fell while in the discharge of his duty to his country, at the battle of Aldie, Va., on the 17th of June.—He was one of the first that responded to the call of his country, and enlisted in the Mass. 6th. He was slightly wounded on the 19th of April, 1861, in the attack at Baltimore.

At the expiration of about four months he returned home. But, urged on by the love of country, he re-enlisted in Co. D, 1st Mass. Cavalry, severing himself from all that was near and dear, and went forth to battle. He has been a participant in all the battles that regiment has been engaged in up to the time of his death, with the exception of one when he was confined to his bed in the hospital at Port Royal with typhoid fever. He was respected by all who knew him. His young wife and his aged mother, while they mourn his loss, have the consolation that he passed on while in the discharge of his duty to his country and to his God.—Com.

"How sleep the brave, who sink to rest."

A letter from a soldier recently at Aquia Creek, says, that the body of Mr. James E. Seavey, of this city, who was drowned there some months since, was recovered and buried at a hill-side, about three-fourths of a mile from the landing. He adds—"the clover, nature's emerald covering, begins to cap over his sacred dust—as green as the clover will his memory ever be in our hearts. It is fitting he should sleep 'neath the ground whereon he fought so bravely."

LIGHTWOOD TAPERS.—This is a new article, which promises to be useful for lighting gas.—One taper will last for use a dozen times. 100 cost 5 cents. For sale by Mr. J. H. Foster.

ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!

EYE, N. H., Feb. 25, 1848. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had this scalt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended by the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWAYNE'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and they say in many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1852.

I have for several years been afflicted with dilitress in my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWAYNE: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA AND HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I cannot but recommend one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may20u

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the ovens larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and steamer to the Magee, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin water-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling morning.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, constant and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches which complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe of Furnaces.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world.—Call and verify the truth of the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert E. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber.

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, easy in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,
No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,

Has had four years of practical experience in making this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

DENTISTRY.

NO. 60 CONGRESS STREET,
Portsmouth, Jan. 1st, 1853.

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully inform his patrons and the public, that he has of late many calls to insert teeth upon VULCANIZED RUBBER, that he has purchased the best VULCANIZER in the market, and is now prepared to do all work on RUBBER, or the other bases of GOLD and SILVER as formerly, if preferred.

The Rubber has several important advantages, viz.—It is very light and elastic, and consequently is perfectly easy to the muscles of the mouth and cheeks. There are no interstices or open points to collect food, and consequently they can be worn night and day, and are very easily kept neat and clean.

Besides all this, the most accurate fit is obtained, as the Rubber is Vulcanized directly upon the plaster model, and the suction is of course much stronger than in plates of Gold or Silver.

Any one who is waiting for their permanent teeth will, I am confident, be perfectly satisfied with the Rubber, as a base. The expense is but a little more than for Silver, and you get the same teeth (in blocks) that you would pay $60.00 for an upper or lower set on Gold.

In New York and Boston, and throughout the West, Vulcanized Rubber is used almost to the exclusion of the other bases, and by the best dentists. I will work as cheap, perfect fit and teeth from the best manufacturer in the country, S. S. White.

ALL OTHER OPERATIONS IN DENTISTRY I will do at the usual rates. I will here mention that my price for EXTRACTION is 25 cents.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TRUMAN, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr. OLIVER and Dr. BENNETT, for particular success in extracting Teeth: Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Elder. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

Please call and examine specimens of Artificial Teeth upon Vulcanized Rubber, Gold and Silver.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Canada, England, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, made to order on liberal terms, with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting the Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in the form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such uniform skill proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend my inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JULY 7, 1863.

THE BATTLE AT GETTYSBURG.

The following dispatch was received on Sunday by Messrs. Hutchings, Isley and others:

The Philadelphia Press received the following highly important dispatch on Saturday night, dated headquarters of the Army of the Potomac, July 4, 5 P. M.. There has been no fighting to-day up to this time. Last evening we drove the rebels back to Gettysburg. Our lines this A. M. extend 8 miles around Gettysburg. our batteries being on all the hills, looking on the town from the south, and we have cut off all lines of retreat. Our forces occupy the strongest possible position. A flank movement on our left is impossible. At about 8 o'clock on Friday night the Florida brigade of Gen. Longstreet's division, a Brigadier General in command, advanced within our lines and gave themselves up, with their colors. A bearer of dispatches from Jeff. Davis to Gen. Lee has been captured.—The dispatch ordered Lee peremptorily to return to Richmond, and states that the movement into Pennsylvania was wholly against his wishes. We have captured about 8000 prisoners. Best informed parties at headquarters at Harrisburg, Pa., are in excellent spirits at news from Gen. Meade. 16,000 men are in motion on the flank of the rebels.

Reports deemed reliable, received in Baltimore on Saturday night, from the battle-field, to 6 o'clock Friday evening, represent that the rebels were repeatedly repulsed with fearful slaughter. The battle lasted all day. 7000 prisoners were taken. The Union men of Baltimore are highly jubilant and excitedly joyous over the favorable news from our victorious army. The world never saw such fighting as Friday's battle. The rebel loss is estimated at 40,000. Everything looks encouraging. No estimate can be formed of our loss; the number of wounded is very large, and includes many officers. The 3d corps suffered severely.

A Harrisburg dispatch, 2 A.M., Sunday, states that most favorable news had been received there from Gen. Meade's army, but the details could not be obtained as the censor was silent. From the latest intelligence received there it was fully believed that Gen. Lee's army has been completely defeated. His army is endeavoring to retreat through South Mountain Gap and Boonesboro'. It is certain that Lee's retreat is already seriously interfered with, and his escape from our army will be a matter of great difficulty.

Monday morning's dispatches give additional proof of the truth of the report of the retreat of Lee's army, which commenced on Friday night. Lee sent in a flag of truce asking a suspension of hostilities, to bury his dead and exchange prisoners; but Gen. Meade replied that he intended to recapture all prisoners, and would bury his dead for him. Failing in this effort to gain time Lee retreated. Our cavalry went in pursuit. The recent rains have swollen the Potomac so that it is unfordable; and an expedition sent out by Gen. French has destroyed the enemy's pontoon bridge across the river at Williamsport. The captured dispatches from Jeff. Davis and the rebel Adj. Gen. Cooper to Lee are represented to be very important, revealing the object of Lee's campaign and the cause of its failure; also the present views of the rebel government.

Gov. Curtin, of Pennsylvania, has received a dispatch from Philadelphia confirming the report that Gen. Meade had captured 25,000 prisoners, and 118 pieces of artillery, and a pontoon bridge at Williamsport. The Surgeon General at Harrisburg has information of 12,000 rebel wounded in our hands. At present our forces hold all the mountain gaps in the line of the rebel retreat. There is a small rebel force on the Virginia side of the Potomac, trying to join Lee, but the river is so high that it is impossible for them to cross. Gen. Couch has joined Meade, and we are completely surrounding the rebels.

Each succeeding dispatch shows our victory to be more glorious. Gen. Couch's army is advancing in force, and Gov. Curtin telegraphs that he is satisfied the rebel army is in our power if we act promptly and vigorously. He says many troops have been hurried forward, but he asks for more, saying the crossing of the Potomac prepared by the enemy at Gettysburg, is destroyed, and Lee is short of ammunition. A Washington dispatch, 6th, says our whole army is in motion, and the highest hopes are entertained that but a small portion of Lee's army will be able to reach Virginia. Over 8000 prisoners have already reached Baltimore, and Gen. Schenck has orders to prepare for 20,000 more already captured. The road along the rebels' retreat is strown with wagons, cannon, small arms and camp equipage. The rout of the enemy is most complete and disastrous.

Gen. Meade has issued a congratulatory order to his victorious army for the glorious results of the recent victorious operations. He says:—"Our enemy, superior in numbers, and flushed the pride of successful invasion, attempted to overcome or destroy this army. Baffled and defeated, he has now withdrawn from the contest. The privations and fatigue the army have endured, and the heroic courage and gallantry it displayed, will be matters of history to be ever remembered. Our task is not yet accomplished, and the Commanding General looks to the army for greater efforts to drive from our soil every vestige of the presence of the invaders. It is right and proper that we should on suitable occasions return our grateful thanks to the Almighty Dispenser of Events, that in the goodness of His providence He has thought fit to give victory to the cause of the just."

THE REBELLION.

Vicksburg dates to the evening of June 29th state that our forces were withdrawn on that day to the outer side of the contested fort, to the front of Gen. Logan, in consequence of some advantages of position which enabled the enemy to throw shells into our lines. The withdrawal, however, is only temporary.

The rebels captured Brashear City, La., June 26th, with 1000 men, including a camp of 600 convalescents, and 18 or 20 pieces of artillery of heavy calibre.

Gen. Rosecrans' captures at Tullahoma were more extensive than at first reported. Bragg has been able to cross Elk river, burning the bridges,—and the dispatch states that on the 4th the rebels were entirely out of Tennessee, and our communications were intact.

The N. Y. Times has Tullahoma dispatches dated July 6, stating that Gen. Thomas with his corps and a division of cavalry, crossed Elk river and was closely pursuing Bragg's army with every prospect of capturing their wagon train and rear guard.

Gen. Sherman occupied Winchester, Tenn., on Sunday. Our loss during the campaign is 800. The enemy's loss is double that number. Besides, we have taken 1000 prisoners. The enemy has been driven out of Tennessee without a battle.

Morgan with 400 cavalry, on Sunday morning, attacked 400 Kentucky troops at Lebanon, and after 7 hours' fight, Morgan's forces having commenced burning the town, our troops surrendered.

Jackson, with seventeen hundred men and ten pieces of artillery, attacked Beverly, Western Virginia, on the 2d inst., but our troops repulsed him and are in pursuit. Gen. Dix's army on the 3d was at Baltimore Cross Roads, 15 miles from Richmond.

☞ The opinion of the Solicitor of the War Department in relation to the arrest of deserters, is published. It is to the effect that the Provost Marshal is to decline to produce a deserter to subject him to the process of a Court on the writ of habeas corpus, for the reason that it would be inconsistent with and in violation of the duty of respondent, and that it is his legal duty to deliver deserters to the nearest Military Commander or Military Post.

☞ It is reported that the Niagara, Susquehanna and Shamrock have been ordered to the Mediterranean to look after our commerce in those waters, in view of the depredations of the Rebel privateers, which, rumor says, will soon be witnessed in the waters above named.

☞ The barracks which were burnt at Carlisle, Pa., by the rebels, have a historic memory attached to them. They were built in 1777, chiefly by a number of Hessians, made prisoners at Trenton. Major Andre was for some time held there as a prisoner of war, and Washington had his headquarters there, 1794, during the whiskey insurrection. Nothing but the walls of the old structure are now left standing.

DIDN'T GET OUT.—The steamer Gen. Banks, of which so much has been said, having obtained her cargo at Halifax for Dixie, started out but was met by one of Uncle Sam's gunboats and put back. They now lie in the harbor a short distance from each other, the gunboat keeping a watch on the N. P. Banks.

☞ A draft for 1350 men has been ordered in Rhode Island. The Provost Marshals of four or five districts in Massachusetts have been ordered to proceed with the draft immediately. The 3d district is to furnish 3000 men.

☞ The Supreme Court of Maine has decided, unanimously, that cities or towns have no authority to raise money by taxation, for the purpose of paying the commutation of such of their citizens as may be drafted into the United States service.

☞ At a destructive fire in South Wayne, Me., on Wednesday, the dwelling house of the town clerk was destroyed, including all the town records of the town. The fire caught from burning shavings near the shovel factory.

☞ A new clock, with a dial over six feet in diameter, has been placed on the eastern tower of the Eastern Railroad Station in Salem.

THE CONTINENTAL MONTHLY, for July contains an article entitled "the third year of the war," by Hon. Frederick P. Stanton, besides several others of great interest at the present time.

THE REBELLION RECORD, Part 32, contains portraits of Gen. Butterfield and Com. Davis. The documents are brought down to the battle of Stone River, Tenn., in February.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Strafford Bank, Dover, has declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent.

—— Among the wounded at the recent fight at Port Hudson were Lieut. John O. Wallingford, 16th regiment, of Dover; Lt. Lyman Locke, of Barrington, and Lt. Jas. R. Newell, of Wolfborough, of the 8th regiment.

—— Thomas S. Worthley, of Antrim, recently sheared 80 full blooded merino sheep in two days, for Daniel Perkins, of Hillsborough. Pretty smart work.

—— We have received a copy of the 1st annual report of the N. H. Soldiers' Aid Society, at Washington, to which are added lists of those who have contributed, soldiers who have been visited, towns from which articles have been received, &c.—The Association seems to be doing a great amount of good, and people at home should generously aid it, especially at this time, when a great battle renders their work so important. The report says:

It may also be added that it is well known to the members of the Association that New Hampshire soldiers place an additional value upon articles coming to them directly from the towns and districts of New Hampshire with which they have in their minds the dearest associations, presented to them by sons of New Hampshire, in the name and in behalf of mutual friends at home, many of whose gifts bear the familiar names of those who made or sent them. It is not the gift alone which carries balm to the soldier's wound, or gives a solace to his severed frame; the kind and sympathizing words with which it is presented, and the associations connected with it more than double its value.

—— Col. Cross, of the 5th regiment, the brave and able officer who has been wounded so many times, was killed at Gettysburg on Thursday.

—— The boys in Dover wanted to have a good time on the night before the Fourth and devoted Wednesday afternoon to collecting a large pile of brush in one of the streets. But on Wednesday night some hard-hearted wretch set it on fire and the boys came to grief.

—— John Barnard, in New Boston on Wednesday while alone in his room, attempted to take his life by placing the muzzle of a loaded musket under his chin and discharging it by pulling the trigger with his foot. The household were alarmed, and found him in a terrible condition. His under jaw was broken, and his tongue, roof of his mouth and nose were all blown away. They went for a bed, and on returning found him with a jack-knife in his hand trying to cut his throat. He made a frightful wound but it did not prove fatal as the jugular vein was not served. He is a well-to-do farmer, but has shown symptoms of insanity for two or three months.

—— The large balloon Star Spangled Banner, which ascended from Boston Common on Saturday, landed safely about 11 o'clock Saturday night in the southeasterly part of Deering, having traveled about 65 miles in a little less than five hours. Here the balloon was anchored until four o'clock Sunday afternoon, when another trip was made to Farmington, a distance of sixty miles, which was reached at seven o'clock in the evening. The highest altitude attained during the first trip was 1800 feet, most of the time in the clouds, and part of the time in a heavy rain storm.

☞ "The grand democratic Mass Meeting in the Granite State," was held in Concord last Saturday, and is fully reported in the Boston Post and Courier. 25,000 people are said to have been present. Ex-Pres. Pierce presided, and made the leading speech. Hon. Abner Greenleaf of Portsmouth heads the list of Vice Presidents.—Col. Whipple read the Resolutions, condemning the administration, and sustaining Edgerly and Vallandigham. After the speeches, a contribution was made for the relief of sick and wounded soldiers. Cheers were given for Col. George, Capt. Marcy, the democratic party, the constitution and the union.

DUTCH GUIANA.—By a decree of the government of Holland, fifty thousand slaves in Dutch Guiana were made freemen on the first day of July. The Dutchmen are supposed to be good merchants, and to understand dollars and cents very well. Yet with the results of emancipation in the British West Indies before them, they make their working men all free at once, though they have been told over and over again, that Jamaica is ruined by the same process. Why, then, did they emancipate. Answer; either the Dutchmen were great fools,—or else they don't believe that Jamaica is ruined. They are probably quite as wise as we are,—and they know that the British West Indies were never before so quiet and happy as now;—and her working population never so comfortable, contented and prosperous. Therefore, they emancipate. The item is a lesson for us. U. T.

☞ The pirate Alabama is reported to have been, June 15, off the coast of Jamaica, coming close into land, in the track of the Aspinwall steamers.

☞ The Boston Courier appears in a new dress.

"AN AGE ON AGES TELLING."

We are living, we are dwelling
In a grand and awful time—
In an age on ages telling;
To be living is sublime!

Will ye play, then? will ye daily
With your music and your wine?
Up! it is Jehovah's rally:
God's own arm hath need of thine.

Worlds are charging, heaven beholding,
Thou hast but an hour to fight;
Now the blazoned cross unfolding,
On, right onward: for the right!

On! let all the soul within you,
For the truth's sake, go abroad;
Strike! let every nerve and sinew
Tell on ages, tell for God!

THE SWEETBRIAR.

Modest plant, in silent greenness
Creeping o'er the darkling hedges,
Twining thy young leaves in spring-time
O'er dear nooks and moss robed ledges;
Sweetening the air, and perfuming lone places
With thy mild breath and nature gladdening graces.

Genial shrub, so richly dowered,
Breathing deep untrodden mazes,
Stretching out thy arms maternal
Over sunshiedes and dalesses;
Like Virtue shielding hearts oppressed with sorrow,
Or lingering angels painting Truth's to-morrow.

Welcome, then, frail hedgerow climber,
Shadowing forth the path of duty;
Thou crownest souls, by pride unnobled,
Sheltering germs of deathless beauty.
Unseen, like thee, till heavenly light discloses,
World-buried worth, and wreathes God's own with roses.

—JOHN BLACKMAN.

☞ The Richmond Enquirer says it denounces and spits upon all such propositions as gradual emancipation to recommend the South to the favor of foreign powers.—The same paper sneers at the "Yankee Democracy" but says "it will aid us (the rebels) in stimulating disaffection among the Yankees to their own government. In this sense these democrats are truly our allies." And the rebel paper adds; "we hope to so disorganize society in their country, that they will rush into armed rebellion and anarchy. We spit upon their ballot-box."

☞ There are now about 20 vacancies in the West Point Military Academy, in consequence of the failure of some of the members of the present classes to stand the last examination. These vacancies are to be filled by candidates appointed by members of Congress, and the cadet goes to the Point either in June or September.

☞ There lately appeared among the inebriates at the court in Brooklyn, N. Y., a soldier named John Hoffman, who had nine bullet wounds, five bowie-knife stabs and three sabre cuts, all received in the present war. He was with the 13th New York Volunteers, and claims to be as good as new.

THIS IS GOOD.—The Haverhill Publisher says—"The Constitution as it is, and the Union as it was, and let the accursed institution of slavery share whatever fate the fortunes of war and the moral revolution of the age may settle upon it, is the only true patriotic and safe doctrine."

☞ The City Council of Portsmouth, Va., utterly repudiate the issue of notes by the former Councils of the city. The rebel City government, previous to their evacuation of the place, issued $50,000 in city scrip.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, when the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by such to restrain the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cure, was the point made in this valuable preparation. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be scored in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION, and to prove the declarations by true results.

Local.

☞ Saturday, the 4th of July, was a joyous day, for the good news from Pennsylvania caused many happy faces, and occasioned many hopeful words. There were a large number of strangers in the city, attracted thither by the exhibitions of Mons. Denior. He was quite successful in carrying out his entire programme, and his feats in mid air were enjoyed by thousands.

The Strawberry Festival, at the Court House, was continued throughout the day and evening, and quite a respectable sum was realized for the benefit of the soldiers. The ladies who devoted so much time to this good work, on a day when all are selfish enough to desire their own enjoyment and freedom from toil, deserve much credit.

The Concert by the Portsmouth Cornet Band, on Market Square, in the evening, was enjoyed by a large crowd, although the heavy mist did not add materially to the enthusiasm.

☞ Some of the ladies of this city on Friday evening presented the Democratic Organization with a beautiful blue silk banner, fringed with gold lace; and inscribed on one side, "The ladies of Portsmouth—we go for peace, compromise and union;" and on the other, a portrait of Vallandigham, with the, "Resistance to tyrants is obedience to God. Time makes all things even."

The Club carried it with them to Concord, where it attracted much attention.

☞ Patrick and Michael Lawrenson, brothers, were arrested on Saturday for an assault on Margaret Holland, wife of John Holland, at the house of the latter on Bow street. It seems that Michael had had a fight there on Friday evening, and on Saturday noon, with his brother, again went to the house. Finding the door locked they kicked it open, and Mrs. Holland going to close it, Patrick inflicted a violent blow on her head with a loaded cane, making two severe and dangerous wounds. Officer Johnson subsequently arrested them, Patrick in a house on Edwards street, and Michael near the post office.

One account is that Patrick went alone to the house to rescue his brother.

They were placed in the lock-up, and on Sunday noon, while the officers were absent at dinner, managed to escape. They had been given the liberty of the bridewell, the doors of their cells being unlocked. The windows are secured by iron bars set into the wood work. By cutting out one of the bars from the sill, they were enabled to pull it from its position and to get out. Benj. Lake, who was confined for an assault on an officer, on the evening of the 4th, escaped with them. They have not since been arrested. Another man, who was there for drunkenness, preferred to stand his trial, and did not attempt to escape.—He stated that he was asleep, however, and could not tell at what time the others left!

Mrs. Holland was quite low on Monday afternoon. The reports of her death which were current on Sunday, were incorrect.

POLICE COURT, Monday.—Thomas Dutton, for an assault on a stranger in Fleet Street on the 4th, was fined $5, and costs, $3 80, which he paid.

Another man, who celebrated by getting drunk, paid the usual fine.

☞ The Portsmouth Cornet Band were out a little while last evening, and their music had an unwonted charm even, after our glorious victory. Shall we not have those out-door concerts now?

☞ No orders have yet been received by Capt. Godfrey, Provost Marshal of this District, to proceed with the draft. Those liable must, therefore, exercise due patience.

☞ Capt. Charles E. Beck, of this city, has been appointed Acting Ensign in the U. S. Navy, and ordered to the Savannah at New York.

☞ Morris Brothers, Pell & Trowbridge's celebrated troupe of Minstrels are to give one of their inimitable concerts at the Temple on Saturday evening next. See advertisement.

☞ Turner's Brass Band accompanied the Democratic Club from this City to Concord on Saturday. The Club went up in large numbers.

☞ That bell on the North Church finally succumbed on the 4th, and now gives forth a dull, uncertain sound. Where is its successor?

☞ The examination of the Boys' High School will take place on the afternoon of Thursday, July 9th.

☞ A much needed and most welcome rain fell on Sunday.

☞ The U. S. steam sloop of war Tuscarora, Commander W. A. Parker, from Hampton Roads, arrived at Boston on Monday.

☞ Side-wheel steamer Sabago, Com't Beaumont, from off Yorktown, has arrived at New York for repairs.

NEW TWO-CENT STAMP.—The new two-cent stamps which have just been issued by the Department, to meet the demand created by the new law fixing the rate on drop letters, circulars, transient printed matter, &c, at two cents, are black in color, and bear a finely engraved head of Gen. Andrew Jackson. The portrait occupies nearly the entire surface of the stamp, and the character of the engraving is such that the process of defacement, to which it must be subjected, is easily and effectually performed. They have been received at the post office in this city.

☞ Col. Mark F. Wentworth, of Kittery, with every other officer and 550 men of the 27th Maine regiment, remained at Washington some days to guard the National Capital, although the term of their enlistment had expired. By direction of the President, the Secretary of War made an urgent request to the 25th and 27th regiments to remain a few days over time, until their places could by filled by other regiments. They are now on their way home, and when they come, the people will give them such a welcome as the others did not receive.

☞ Rev. George W. Burnham of Newburyport, who enlisted as a private in Co. D, first battalion of heavy artillery now at Fort Warren, has been made Postmaster and Librarian of the Fort. He also acts as Chaplain, preaching every Sunday. He is a very useful man, and popular with officers and privates.

NEW METHODIST CAMP MEETING GROUND.—The Methodists of this section of the State have changed their camp meeting ground from Newmarket Junction to a spacious grove in Epping, about two miles east from Epping Corner. A large tract of land has been purchased and a charter obtained at this session of the Legislature incorporating the "Hedding Camp Meeting Association," the name being taken from Bishop Hedding, who was a much beloved and prominent member of this denomination. A stand for preachers and comfortable seats for 5000 hearers are to be erected, together with baking ovens and other conveniences for culinary purposes. A gushing spring will supply the grounds with most excellent water at the rate of a barrel per minute, and the location in every respect is superior to any other in New England. The R. R. Company will have a special station distant about fifteen minutes walk from the grounds, and every convenient arrangement for transportation of passengers and baggage without change of cars at Newmarket Junction from the Boston & Maine Road to the Concord & Portsmouth Road will be adopted.

☞ The Portsmouth Virginian of the 2d says: "Reliable information has been received here that the return of North Carolina to the Union is an event which may be daily expected. A disaffection towards the government of Jeff. Davis is radical and wide spread, and overtures have been made to Gen. Foster, which will shortly lead to important results."

☞ The Times' Washington correspondence says that on Friday the President received a dispatch from Gen. Grant, dated June 27. He says he learns that Johnston would be reinforced by ten thousand men early this week. He thought we would have Vicksburg ere that time, but if not, he could take care of both Pemberton and Johnson.

☞ Owing to the glorious news from the army of the Potomac, gold in New York at 1 o'clock Monday, had fallen to 137 7 8. Government securities were quoted as follows: Sixes, 107; Seven-Thirties, 106 1-4.

SCHOOLEY'S NEW IMPROVED
ICEBERG REFRIGERATORS.
This upright REFRIGERATOR combines every improvement. It is the most perfect article of the kind in the market, requiring less ice than any other, and keeping its contents sweet and free from any unpleasant odors.
Daniel T. Curtis, Fruit dealer, Boston, says of it, "I have preserved grapes and pears, peaches, and an extensive variety of plums and berries for five or six weeks in Schooley's Refrigerator."
Oren Peck, Boylston Market, Boston, says, "I find, on careful trial, that it will keep meats perfectly fresh and dry for ten or twelve days."
John Hunt, Butter dealer, Cincinnati, says, "I can keep butter sweet and fresh any length of time in reason, say six weeks."
C. E. Carpenter, Ice Dealer, Providence, says, "I have kept a cup of custard in one of Schooley's Refrigerators during the warm weather one week, when I ate it and found it perfectly good."
Thousands of similar testimonials can be shown in its favor.
SCHOOLEY'S ICE KING REFRIGERATOR. (Patented Jan. 6, 1863.) We present the ICE KING to our customers as the "ne plus ultra" of cheap Refrigerators, combining in its operation all of the great improvements necessary for complete ventilation. In the introduction of Patent Refrigerators to the public, the cost of construction has been necessarily so great as to prevent their sale to the "economical" purchaser. Consequence has been that those who could not afford to purchase a Patent ventilated Refrigerator, were compelled to procure one of the old style, or go without.
We are now happy to state that, by the introduction of our new patent ICE KING, we can offer to the million a complete ventilated Refrigerator, well made, lined throughout with zinc, at cheaper prices than ever before sold.

"HIGHLY CONCENTRATED" COMPOUND

FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

A Positive and Specific Remedy

For Diseases of the BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the ABSORBENTS into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcerous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for Men, Women, or Children.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

FOR WEAKNESSES

Arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, or Abuse,

ATTENDED WITH THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS:

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,

Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,	Flushing of the Body,

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which the medicine here offered for sale is intended to remove, INSANITY, FATUITY, EPILEPTIC FITS. In one of which the patient may expire. Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "dreadful diseases."

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION.

Many are known of the untimely end of their suffering, but most will confess. The records of the Insane Asylums and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

THE CONSTITUTION, ONCE AFFECTED WITH ORGANIC WEAKNESS,

Requires the aid of a Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most skeptical.

Females, Females, Females,

ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1848. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—was much bloated, lost all appetite, and could not labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by them since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1852.

I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that the previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without being able to walk a step, or sight. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA AND HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to read quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The inner plates are covered with mortar, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats will be prevented from pervading the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, so that no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be sustained day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would also invite those about remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, it is enabled to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The above aims at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fine or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot be carried, and are consumed by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large part of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 20 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building on the depressions which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,

No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,

Has had four years of practical experience in making this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

DENTISTRY.

No. 60 CONGRESS STREET,
Portsmouth, Jan. 1st, 1853.

DR. GOODALL.

Would respectfully inform his patrons and the public, that he had of late made calls to insert teeth upon VULCANIZED RUBBER, that he has purchased the best VULCANIZER in the market, and is now prepared to do all work upon RUBBER, or the other bases of GOLD and SILVER, as formerly, if preferred.

The Rubber has several important advantages, viz.: It is very light and elastic, and consequently is perfectly easy to the muscles of the mouth and cheeks. There are no insertions or open joints to collect food, and consequently they can be worn night and day, and are very easily kept neat and clean.

Besides all this, the most accurate fit is obtained, as the Rubber is Vulcanized directly upon the plaster model, and the suction is of course much stronger than in plates of Gold or Silver.

Any one who is waiting for their permanent teeth will, I am confident, be perfectly satisfied with the Rubber, as a base. The expense is but a little more than for Silver, and you get the same teeth (in blocks) that you would pay $60.00 for an upper or lower set on Gold.

In New York and Boston, and throughout the West, Vulcanized Rubber is used almost to the exclusion of the other bases, and by the best Dentists too, I will warrant a perfect fit and teeth from the best manufacturer in the country, S. S. White.

ALL OTHER OPERATIONS IN DENTISTRY I will do at the usual rates. I will here mention that my price for EXTRACTION is 25 cents.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. THADDEUS PRENTISS, Dr. BOARDMAN and Dr. BENNETT, for particular success in extracting Teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Gold Fillings, Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent issued, by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere. The Testimonials bel ow given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in the form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 8, 1863.

OUR GREAT VICTORIES.

A Harrisburg dispatch, 6th, states that the Potomac had risen six feet within the past 48 hours, necessarily destroying all fords, and there were no bridges within striking distance of Lee's army. Gen. Gregg, with a force of Gen. Pleasanton's cavalry, had an engagement on Monday at Fayetteville, in which he took 4000 prisoners. Rebel deserters, from the mountains, still continue to deliver themselves up in large numbers.

A person representing himself to be Longstreet's Adjutant General, who was captured at Hagerstown, has arrived at Harrisburg. He states that Longstreet and Lee were opposed to the invasion of Maryland and Pennsylvania, fearing that it would be disastrous, but Davis would not listen and gave orders promising to send 30,000 reinforcements under Beauregard. When the adjutant was captured he was on his way to Culpepper to ascertain what had become of Beauregard's troops.

Gen. Halleck is in possession of several recent dispatches from Gen. Meade, and from their tone declares that Lee has suffered a disastrous defeat.

The slaughter among the rebel general officers has been very great. Gens. Ewell, Longstreet, Armistead, Barksdale and Garnett are reported killed; Gens. Hood, Beth, Pender and Pickett wounded; Maj. Gen. Trimble, wounded and a prisoner, and Brig. Gen. Kemper also a prisoner and in a dying condition.

The Washington Star has strong hopes that Lee will be able to get back into Virginia neither his artillery nor his transportations, and the men with which he may himself get off with a whole skin will not number a fourth of his boastful and overconfident army.

The N. Y. Herald's dispatch states:—Gen. Buford, who set out with the intention of meeting Stuart, had a fight with him on Monday, somewhere in the vicinity of Boonsboro', and whipped him badly.—Stuart's force, numbering 2000 strong, commanded by Stuart in person, passed thro' Mechanicstown on Sunday. He had eight pieces of artillery with him, which he sent by another road for fear of losing them.—This is supposed to be the force that met Buford. Our loss is very slight and that of the rebels heavy, although they made but a faint show of resistance after Buford's artillery was planted in direct range.

A Harrisburg dispatch states that Gen. Couch received information on Tuesday that Gen. Lee intends occupying and holding the Maryland Heights, until his army can cross the Potomac. Every available soldier in Baltimore and Washington is being hurried to Frederick to intercept Lee's flying and demoralized troops. General Meade's army, reinforced by Gens. Couch, Schenck and Heintzleman, it is said, will nearly double Lee's army.

Vicksburg surrendered to the United States forces on the 4th of July. Pemberton in the morning offered to surrender if his men were allowed to march out. Gen. Grant replied that not a man should leave except as a prisoner of war. Pemberton then, after consultation with his officers, unconditionally surrendered. The announcement has been received with the most enthusiastic demonstrations of joy throughout the North. In Philadelphia the State House bell of old Independence Hall rang out a joyful peal. In Newburyport the bells were rung, and a salute of 100 guns were fired. But it were idle to attempt to enumerate the places rendered doubly jubilant by the glorious news.

It is reported that Pemberton had constructed a great number of row boats, intending to cross to Young's Point with his army and escape, but Gen. Grant, being informed by deserters, checkmated him.

THE REBELLION.

A steamer from New Orleans, 1st, reports the bombarding of Port Hudson still going on when she left. Our steamers are running up the river regularly with Gen. Banks' supplies. There is no truth in the report of his supplies being cut off.

The Richmond Enquirer reports another raid by the Federal troops into East Tennessee, saying that a strong force was at Sequatchie Valley on the 2d and there has been no rebel communication with Knoxville or London Bridge since.

The alarm bells were rung in Louisville, Ky., on Tuesday noon, calling the citizens together for the defense of the city, rumors being prevalent of the approach of Gorman's forces, estimated at from 2000 to 4000.

Adm. Dahlgren arrived at Port Royal on the 4th.

☞ A cannon, improperly used, was burst in Market Square, Newburyport, on the 4th, and two men wounded: William Hewett had a leg broken; and William Sullivan, passing at the time, was badly wounded in the hand and calf of the leg.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

——It is proposed to hold a great meeting in Concord on Monday evening next, to express our joy over the late important victories.

—— Gov. Gilmore has received a dispatch from Capt. W. A. Crafts, of the 5th Regiment, dated Washington, July 4th, stating that Col. Cross of his Regiment was killed, Capts. Ains, Ricker and Goodwin, Lieuts. Dana, Austin, Lowe and Sanborn, wounded and missing, and that most of the officers of the Second are killed or wounded, and that the Regiment is terribly scattered. Capt. Crafts left the battle field on Friday morning. He represents our troops victorious. The dispatch was for help for the wounded.

—— By direction of Governor Gilmore, Mr. Rollins, Representative to Congress, has arranged a commission from Concord and Manchester to visit our 2d and 5th regiments, which, with the Battery, were engaged in the recent battles near Gettysburg. Many are wounded, and need special attention. By appointment of the Governor, Senator Clark, Hon Frederick Smyth, Dr. Geo. A. Crosby, of Manchester, Dr. Willard, and others from Concord, have gone on.

—— The remains of Col. Edward Everett Cross, of the N. H. Fifth, killed at the Gettysburg battle of Thursday, arrived in Boston on Tuesday morning, on the way to the town of his nativity, Lancaster, for burial. At the time of his death he was in command of the First Brigade of the First Division of the Second Army Corps. He has been connected with the Army of the Potomac since the commencement of the rebellion, and has fought bravely in nearly all the battles of the Virginia and Maryland campaigns, having been several times severely wounded. He at one time published a paper in Arizona, and fought a duel there with one Sylvester Mowry, but escaped injury. He was wounded by a minie ball in the abdomen, at about six or half past six o'clock, and lived six hours.

—— The reports in Manchester papers show that the celebration of the 4th in that city was highly satisfactory to those who participated in it.

—— More than 2000 persons attended the celebration at New Boston on the 4th of July, being the centennial anniversary of the incorporation of that town. An elaborate and eloquent oration was delivered by the Hon. Clark B. Cochrane of Albany, N. Y., and a poem was pronounced by Warren R. Cochran. In the afternoon speeches were made on various topics relating to the early history of the town by Judge Fairfield, of Hudson, N. Y., Perley Dodge, Esq., of Amherst, Dr. J. H. Cochran of Rutland, Vt., and others who are proud to claim New Boston as the place of their nativity.

—— The Port Royal New South states that "Lieut. Charles L. Brown, of Co. I, 4th N. H. regiment, died at Folly Island, on the 3d of June, very suddenly, of diptheria, after an illness of only a day or two. Deceased was a very young man, but a fine officer and amiable in his character. His father is Surgeon of the 7th N. H. Vols., and a younger brother is hospital steward of that regiment. The body was put on board a steamer, in charge of Lt. John W. Brewster, of Co. B, to be taken to Port Royal, but had to be buried at Edisto. Lt. Brewster subsequently procured a metallic burial case, disinterred the body, and sent it to Manchester, the home of the deceased."

—— The clergymen of Concord have decided to make no announcements from the pulpit which do not pertain to the affairs of their respective societies.

—— The Mirror states that on Friday afternoon, at Concord, as Mrs. S. S. Hunting, wife of the clergyman, was entering the cars, she felt some one picking her pocket. She turned upon the person, caught him by his clothes, and charged him with it. He denied it, but rushed out of the cars, a gentleman following and crying out, "stop thief." He was finally caught and turned over to the authorities. Mrs. Hunting found her wallet in the cars, where he had dropped it.

—— It is stated that a draft has been ordered in this state for about 9000 men. Brig. Gen. E. W. Hinks has been ordered to the command of the depot for drafted men, to be established at Concord. Captains F Winthrop, of the 12th Infantry, and H. F. Bronson, Asst. Adj. General of Volunteers, have been detailed to assist Gen. Hinks.—The number stated is much too large.

—— Moses A. Cartland of Lee, died at North Providence of pneumonia on Sunday evening. He was a man of great literary ability and fame as a teacher. He leaves a wife and five children.

☞ An arrival at Bermuda, from Barbadoes, reports on the 24th an unknown bark was burned off Barbadoes by the crew. The crew stated she had a cargo of coal from England for the pirate Florida, had been to the Equator, but not finding the pirate and getting short of provisions, concluded to burn her to keep out of the hands of Federal cruisers. They did not give her name.

Communication.

PEACE—OR WAR.—About three months ago, the Boston Post had an able editorial, entitled "the Democracy and the War," rejoicing in the Conservative elections of last Fall, and praising Gov. Seymour's position; but expressing a fear that the conservative host would drop to pieces, as there are signs of the mischiefs of disunion among them." The Post then goes on to specify one of the bad signs, thus:—

"But since these elections, the extremists, representing the few who are at heart opposed to the war, and perhaps at heart in favor of recognition of the Confederacy, have come forward with Peace propositions and in various ways, in Congress and out, have been forcing their views on the public. An instance of this has just occurred in New York, at a meeting called at the Cooper Institute to express, among other things, opposition to the Conscription Law, at which Fernando Wood, J. S. Carlisle and others made speeches. The resolutions declare the war to be a failure: declare for peace: and pronounce those who oppose their programme "to be either mistaken zealots or traitors without patriotism." The speeches were of like tenor."

Then follows this strong condemnation of the Wood and Vallandigham party, and of the revolt and civil war waged by the rebels:

"This is the voice but of a faction, it is true;—and—" because it is wrong in itself, ought it to be condemned and repudiated by Conservatives everywhere. Certainly the Secessionists opened and keep up this war; certainly it is right to repel force by force; certainly there must be war for the present or the National Capital will be in possession of the Confederates; certainly, according to the acts passed pursuant to the SUPREME LAW, the Constitution, the law of the land is a state of war on this rebellion; and those who say that not a dollar more of money, and not another recruit for the army" shall come from them or their party, are condemned as not true men, conservatives or patriots.

The Post then recommends the Conservatives to keep together, but not to take up the Woods' notions, and says:—

"These is but one course for Democrats. It is to live up to their professions, of placing country and the things that belong to it, before the strictly partisan, as they always have done. The question is one of preserving the nationality and transmitting Republican Government, not of a policy under a Government; and certainly if the people abandon the war they must give in to a dissolution of the Union and the destruction of the Contitution."

Three months have passed; the Conservatives of New-Hampshire have been called together, and they came by thousands. On the list of speakers invited, and by which this throng was to be moved, was the name of Wood, as chief! and with him seven other kindred spirits.

Wood did not come; but Pierce, Voorhees and Parker came, and made speeches. Did they forget party? Not for a moment. There was a great talk about liberty of speech, which must be maintained! and after this, Col. George introduced a remark about George Thompson, an English Abolitionist, who was mobbed in Concord, years ago, to prevent him from speaking against slavery. Col. G. wanted to have a "wedge driven into the life-blood of the Abolition party." Pres. Pierce followed, recommending charity to the soldiers, and saying,—'Make your own arrangements; but whatever you give, let it [be seen to] come from this (Democratic) party. Let no man say we are behind that party in looking to a philanthropic object.'

The substance of all the speeches, was: to say as much as possible against the administration, against the conduct of the war, and against the free north as the cause of the war, and to speak as favorably of the rebels and the rebellion as their warmest friends could wish:—then to express pity for the poor soldier, dragged into a wicked, useless, disastrous war: and to recommend PEACE—to be obtained, as Pierce says, by moral power!

The Post very cautiously says of him and his speech, 'Having enjoyed the highest honors—he can be influenced by none of those selfish and ambitious motives which may—bias the opinions of others in discussing the political questions of the day. His purpose, all must admit—whether his judgment be deemed correct or not—can be only to promote the general good, and see the Government be transmitted in all its pristine power and purity to his successor, &c."

The people of New-Hampshire understand that Mr. Pierce is a candidate for Senator. If not elected, it will be for want of votes, and not because he neglects to pull the wires. The mass meeting at Concord was got up and managed by what the Post calls a faction, and its spirit was that of Wood & Co. It does not agree with the Post as to who made the war. As to the purity of the Pierce administration, some people may remember that Jeff. Davis was Secretary of War, and that the guns were transmitted to Floyd, both these puritans plotting armed rebellion all the while. U. T.

☞ Some fifty lost babies were picked up by the Police of Boston on the 4th of July and carried to the Station House. They were reclaimed by their anxious parents during the day.

☞ The Rockland people are waking up to the importance of having their harbor and city protected from pirates.

☞ A mass meeting of abolitionists was held in Framingham, Mass., on the 4th; and the freest kind of free speech was indulged all round. Mr. Garrison, who presided, was for the government, against slavery. Mr. Phillips was severe on the administration. Mr. Evans, from England, made a speech in favor of the north and liberty; Remond attacked him in a speech which the chair denounced as mean and contemptible—to which Remond replied with much anger. Stephen S. Foster spoke against the war, and against all war, and said he would discourage enlistments. Some speaker called him a copperhead; and debate ran high. The convention passed resolutions against Conway's overture to Mason: and when the news of our Victory at Gettysburg came in, the assembly broke out into loud applause.

☞ A bark, with gilt work upon her stern and a yellow billet head, but too much burnt to show her name, was seen on fire on the morning of June 25, 50 or 60 miles to the west of Cape Sable. A fishing schooner was also seen to leave the bark,—it was supposed with the officers and crew. The private journal kept on board the Tacony, alleges that she was destroyed about that time, and there can be but small room for doubt that the burning bark was the Tacony, and that the fisherman seen to leave her was the Archer.

☞ The Newburyport Herald states that the conscription will be commenced in that district to-day, Wednesday. Some 1800 men are needed, and Newburyport will have to furnish 158. To provide for that number certain, fifty per cent. more will be drawn, or in the whole city—237.

☞ The special emergency for which the militia of the District of Columbia were called out having ceased, owing to the recent victories, the order for mustering them into the service has been suspended for the present. The militia were officially complimented for the promptness with which they responded.

☞. Hon William Whiting, the Solicitor of the War Department, is a descendant of Oliver St. John, chief justic in Cromwell's time, who married, for his second wife, a cousin of Cromwell.

☞ The Provost Guard of Portsmouth, Va., on Monday last, ordered the new city watchmen off the streets, as no citizen had a right to be out of doors after nine o'clock.

☞ The iron-clad battery Roanoke sailed from New York on Monday.

"Abstemious" and "Facetious" are the only two words in the English language in which the five vowels follow each in order.

The word "Tick," meaning credit, is a word at least as old as the 17th century, and is corrupted from ticket, as a tradesman's bill was formerly called; and the phrase was originally on ticket, i. e., things to put in the bill.

☞ We learn from the Portland Press that Mr. Wm. F. Laighton, U. S. N., of this city, had a narrow escape in the recent contest with the pirates in Portland harbor. It has been discovered that the steamer Chesapeake was hit, two minie balls having passed through the blind and window of the Captain's room on the upper deck.—The Press says it is supposed they were fired for the purpose of picking off Capt. Laighton, who was in a prominent position on the deck.

The City Council of Portland on Monday passed a resolution tendering their "thanks to Mr. William F. Laighton, U. S. N., Geo. J. Barry, U. S. N., Col. E. C. Mason, U. S. A., and his command, and Capt. Liscomb, of the Forest City, for their most valuable services in the successful attack on the pirates who seized the cutter Caleb Cushing."

☞ Orders have been received at the Headquarters of the 1st N. H. District, in this city, to proceed with the draft immediately. The number required from the district is 1968, which is about one-fifth of the First Class, from which the draft is to be made. In order that the required number may certainly be obtained, 50 per cent. additional will be drafted, to provide for the loss occasioned by exemptions. The consolidated lists have been completed, and will be sent to Washington to-day. The draft for the entire district will be made at the Headquarters in this city.

☞ There is a most urgent, pressing need for hospital stores, &c, for our wounded soldiers. The Sanitary Commission appeals to the country for help. We feel assured that Portsmouth will not be backward in the good work, and that the ladies especially will do their utmost to answer the call.

☞ Third Assistant Engineer Joseph B. Upham, jr., U. S. N., who has recently been on duty at St. Louis, Mo., has been ordered to the iron-clad Agamenticus, now building at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

☞ Capt. J. H. Thacher, of this city, Co. K, 16th N. H. regiment, has so far recovered his health that he has rejoined his company, at Port Hudson.

☞ The glorious intelligence of the surrender of Vicksburg, which a brief dispatch brought on Tuesday afternoon, was received with cheerful voices. And all the Star Spangled Banners, that were not up before, were run up then.

☞ The Portland Courier states that Mr. Brown, the artist, has closed his studio in that city, and gone on his summer vacation, which he will spend in making marine sketches along the coast, as far as Portsmouth.

IRON FENCES.

Mr. Henderson of the well known firm of Henderson & Co., Iron Fence contractors, of Boston, is again in our city for a few days, and will be happy to exhibit his beautiful drawings and receive any orders, at the Franklin House. Parties leaving their address there in his absence will receive prompt attention.

☞ A party of delegates from the Historical Societies of several states are to charter a steamer and start from New York on the 24th of August, visit Newport, Boston, Bunker Hill, Cambridge, Savage Rock, and reach Portland on the evening of the 26th, where a grand Promenade Concert will be furnished for the entertainment. On the 27th they will proceed to Bangor and attend a Ball in the evening at Norambega Hall. On the 28th they will visit Castine, Fox Island, and Mount Desert, and reach Fort Popham in season to attend the celebration on the 29th.

☞ In Salem on the 4th a beautiful little girl, aged 10 years, daughter of Ripley Ropes, Esq., was burned so badly that she died in a short time, by her dress taking fire from the smouldering remains of a slow match, at the door step on which she was sitting. Two boys on the same day exploded a quarter of a pound of powder, by which one, John Devine, was so injured that it is feared his sight and hearing will be impaired.

☞ The intercepted dispatches from Jeff. Davis and his Adj. General Cooper, reveal the plan of Lee's campaign, wherein and wherefore it was not carried out, the points to which the rebel government is sending reinforcements, and the precarious condition in which it considers its capital to be. According to these dispatches, as reported in a Washington telegram, Lee invaded Pennsylvania without the knowledge or approval of Davis. The object of the campaign was the capture of Washington, which was to be effected in this wise: Lee was to draw Hooker into Pennsylvania sufficiently far to uncover Washington, which Beauregard, with 30,000 men, to be concentrated at Culpepper Court House, was then to attack and take. But Jeff. Davis felt unable to spare Beauregard 30,000 men, or any number of men, to co-operate with Lee.—The rebel President said that he considered the need of Johnston, who was constantly calling for reinforcements to make his army sufficiently strong to relieve Vicksburg, "the vital point," decidedly more imperative than that of Lee, and he had, therefore, sent him all the men that could be spared by Beauregard or Bragg. Nor could reinforcements be sent from Virginia. Richmond, as Gen. Lee is officially assured, is seriously threatened, and so small is its garrison that the citizens are organizing for its defence. The rebel Adj. Gen. Cooper gives the number of troops in Richmond, at Petersburg, and on the Blackwater, and undertakes to state the strength of the National army, by which he conceives the rebel capital to be threatened.

☞ The N. Y. Herald's Washington correspondent asserts that he has learned from sources beyond all question as to the truth of the statement, that the rebel Vice President, Alex. H. Stevens, and Mr. Commissioner Guld came down the James River on board of the rebel gunboat Dragon on Saturday, under a flag of truce, and requested permission of Admiral Lee to proceed to Washington to present in person an important communication from Jeff. Davis to President Lincoln. Admiral Lee at once despatched to Washington for instructions. A Cabinet Council was accordingly held on Monday morning, and it was decided that permission should not be granted to these gentlemen to fulfil their mission, whatever it was, to Washington. Admiral Lee was instructed to inform them that the ordinary channels of communication would suffice for the transmission of any message they might have to send to Mr. Lincoln.

SINGULAR FATAL ACCIDENTS.—An elderly woman residing in London got up from the dinner table to correct a refractory grandchild, when one of her hands was pierced through by a long knife which the child was holding in his hand. An artery was severed, and she died from loss of blood. A man named Darbyshire was standing in Flixton churchyard listening to the bells, when his dog, in jumping up to him, knocked against the trigger of a gun he carried; it exploded, and Darbyshire was shot dead.

☞ The Forest City has the 12-pounder of the pirate Tacony which was found aboard the Archer, and the gunner of the Caleb Cushing is employed to serve it. She is also well supplied with ammunition and small arms. The Montreal and Lewiston are similarly equipped.

SCHOOLEY'S
NEW IMPROVED
ICEBERG REFRIGERATORS.
This upright REFRIGERATOR combines every improvement. It is the most perfect article of the kind in the market, requiring less ice than any other, and keeping its contents sweet and free from any unpleasant odors.
Daniel T. Curtis, fruit dealer, Boston, says of it, "I have preserved grapes and pears, peaches, and an extensive variety of plums and berries for five or six weeks in Schooley's Refrigerator."
Oren Peck, Boylston Market, Boston, says, "I find, on careful trial, that it will keep meats perfectly fresh and dry for ten or twelve days."
John Hunt, Butter dealer, Cincinnati, says, "I can keep butter sweet and fresh any length of time in reason, say six weeks."
C. E. Carpenter, Ice Dealer, Providence, says, "I have kept a cup of custard in one of Schooley's Refrigerators during the warm weather one week, when I ate it and found it perfectly good."
Thousands of similar testimonials can be shown in its favor.
SCHOOLEY'S ICE KING REFRIGERATOR. (Patented Jan. 6, 1863.) We present the ICE KING to our customers as the "ne plus ultra" of cheap Refrigerators, combining in its operation all of the great improvements necessary for complete ventilation. In the introduction of Patent Refrigerators to the public, the cost of construction has been necessarily so great as to prevent their sale to the "million." The consequence has been that those who could not afford to purchase a Patent ventilated Refrigerator, were compelled to procure one of the old style, or go without.
We are now happy to state that, by the introduction of our new patent ICE KING, we can offer to the million a complete ventilated Refrigerator, well made, lined throughout with zinc, at cheaper prices than ever before sold.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

EYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended for the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla, Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWAYNE'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have said it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT, Permit me to testify, as I have in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow worse till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I think your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named. ISRAEL CHESLEY

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats is prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dirt can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 50 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to compare with this one, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Allen "Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron B. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.
1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.
2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.
3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.
4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.
5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.
6th. While in all ways it is better, saves in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,
No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,
Has had four years of practical experience in making this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

DENTISTRY.
No. 60 CONGRESS STREET, Portsmouth, Jan. 1st, 1863.
DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully inform his patrons and the public, that he has left his office in the rear of his house, and is now using the VULCANIZED RUBBER, that he has purchased the best VULCANIZER in the market, and is now prepared to do all work upon RUBBER, or the other bases of GOLD and SILVER as formerly, if preferred.

The Rubber has several important advantages, viz.: It is more durable, and consequently is perfectly easy to the muscles of the mouth and cheeks. There are no insertices or open joints to collect food, &c.; consequently they can be worn night and day, and are very easily kept neat and clean.

Beside all this, the most accurate fit is obtained, as the Rubber is Vulcanized directly upon the plaster model, and the suction is of course much stronger than in plates of Gold or Silver.

Any one who is waiting for their permanent teeth will, I am confident, be perfectly satisfied with the Rubber, as a base. The expense is but a little more than for Silver, and you get the same teeth (in blocks) that you would pay $60.00 for an upper or lower set on Gold.

In New York and Boston, and throughout the West, Vulcanized Rubber is used almost to the exclusion of the other bases, and by the best Dentists too. I will warrant a perfect fit and satisfaction to the best manufacturer in the country.
S. S. White.

ALL OTHER OPERATIONS IN DENTISTRY I will do at the usual rates. I will here mention that my price for EXTRACTING is 25 cents.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. Treadwell, Dr. Boardman, Dr Oliver and Dr Dolbeer, for particulars relative to extracting teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Conveyances, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of an invention unknown to, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANCE AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable & successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse"
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents
Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN Applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability in his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be served, having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JULY 9, 1863.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.—In the House, on Friday, a resolution was passed postponing the bill to secure the right of suffrage to the soldiers, and the reports thereon, to the next session, and ordering the opinion of the S. J. Court as to the constitutionality of said bill, to be placed on file for future reference. The majority of the committee on National Affairs presented a series of resolutions, and the minority another. Ordered to be printed. The committee on the Judiciary were instructed to consider the expediency of submitting to the people the question of altering the Constitution so as to allow qualified voters in the militia or naval service the right to vote.

The Senate, on Tuesday, passed a resolution authorizing a bounty to be paid to soldiers of certain regiments now in the field; also a resolution appropriating two thousand dollars for sending disabled and discharged soldiers to their homes. An act relating to the immediate enrollment of the militia of the State was passed.

The House passed a joint resolution, introduced by Mr. Walker of this city, appropriating $3000 for the repair of the house once occupied by Gen. Stark, the property being now owned by the State. A resolution appropriating $1000 for a hospital for sick and wounded soldiers, was referred to the committee on military affairs. A message was received from the Governor, calling attention to the fact of the necessity of the establishment of a general hospital for the benefit of sick and wounded soldiers, to be maintained at the expense of the General Government.

A bill authorizing cities and towns to aid the families of drafted men, or their substitutes, and for other purposes, was passed.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The 1st N. H. Battery was not in the late battles. They were some 26 miles distant.

—— Nathaniel Hawthorne, the author, attended the Democratic Mass Meeting in Concord on the 4th.

—— The "Ladies' Soldiers' Aid Society, Concord, acknowledge the receipt of $350, collected at the Democratic Meeting in Concord on the 4th, for our sick and wounded soldiers. More contributions are promised by the committee.

—— On Saturday evening, 4th inst., John McCann was run over by the cars near Newmarket, on the B. & M. Railroad, and instantly killed; he was in the employ of Sam'l Neal, of South Newmarket.

☞ Our friend Moses A. Cartland of Lee, N. H., died at North Providence, R. I., of pneumonia, on Sunday evening. He was a man of great literary ability and fame as a teacher, was for many years connected with the educational interests of this state, and during that time he was a constant contributor to various public journals. He was an easy and graceful writer, and a most estimable man;—a friend of liberty, equality and true religion. Born in the Society of Friends, his friendship and fellowship were never bounded by their pale, but extended to all christian philanthropists, and with them he did what he could to elevate the laborers of all nations and colors into the rank of christian men. He rests from his labors, and his works do follow him. The memory of the just is blessed.

☞ During the recent battle near Monticello, a soldier of the 7th Ohio, who was fighting during the close of the day on our left, had used up all his caps, and asked a man by his side to let him have a part of his. The reply was that he had no more than he needed for himself. With that, a poor wounded rebel, no doubt a conscripted Union man, exclaimed, "Boys, I've got caps," and, running his feet le hand into his pocket, pulled out what he had and handed them to the Federal soldier. "Now, boys," said he, "can't you give me some water?" Unfortunately, their canteens were empty, and they had none to give. "Well," he exclaimed, "won't you raise up my head and place something under it, for it seems too low." In the midst of the fight, the soldier raised up the dying man's head, and made him as comfortable as he could, and then went on in the discharge of his duty.

☞ Vice President Hamlin and Senators Fessenden and Morrill, together with Senator Wilson, had a conference with the government authorities on Tuesday, which resulted in the ordering of five vessels to protect the entire coast from Nantucket to Calais, one of them to cruise especially to protect the fishing vessels.

☞ The Provost Marshal of the Eastern district of Rhode Island on Tuesday began the drafting. The names in four wards were drawn. The announcement of the names of the drafted was received with good humor. The drawing began on Wednesday in the Western district.

THE REBELLION.

A rebel force under Gen. Green, which demanded the surrender of Donaldsonville, La., June 28th, was repulsed with heavy loss, after three hours' fight. Our loss was 10 killed and 14 wounded. Our gunboats participated in the fight. The rebels left 100 dead on the field, and their entire loss was nearly 600. We took 120 prisoners, including 11 commissioned officers.

Rebel newspapers state that the Federals captured Panola, Miss., destroying a large amount of rebel property and cutting off Johnston's communications and supplies.

The alarm at Louisville, Ky., on Monday night was groundless. Morgan's forces are said to be retreating.

Holmes, Price and Marmaduke, with 8000 or 10,000 rebels, attacked Helena, Ark., on the morning of the 4th, but were gallantly repulsed. Their loss was 1500 killed, wounded and prisoners. Our loss was not over 100. 850 rebels were surrounded at one time and captured.

A Government train of wagons, horses and stores, valued at over a million and a half, said to have been captured and destroyed by the rebels on Gen. Milroy's retreat, reached Baltimore safely on Tuesday.

The Port Royal New South of June 22, says:—

We understand it has now been fully declared that there will be no active operations in the Department of the South this summer. There are not troops enough here for Gen. Gilmore to assume the offensive, while there are many more than will be necessary to defend the positions we now hold. None of these will be given up for the present, but no effort will be made to extend our lines materially. The surplus troops, aside from the army of defence, will, it is understood, be sent to some other Department. Several regiments have already been called and concentrated at St. Helena Island. Folly Island will be retained for the present, and sufficient force will remain to render its capture by the rebels impossible.

Gen. Grant reports that the rebels at Vicksburg were paroled as prisoners of war. His detailed report of the capture is on its way.

A Washington letter says Adm. Wilkes is there having been relieved from duty in the West India Squadron; and that every Major General is to be called into active duty, McClellan being the first one, in in a place where his engineering abilities can be displayed.

The Baltimore American estimates Gen. Meade's captures in prisoners at 9000 or 10,000. To this number add the badly wounded, who will be gathered up all along the line of Lee's retreat, and stragglers and deserters who it is reported are all ready gathered up by hundreds, and it can hardly fall below twelve or thirteen thousand, which will swell the total loss to twenty five thousand, or one third of the whole army Lee brought over the Potomac with him. Of prisoners we lost none except a few officers whom Lee was able to carry off. Three thousand of our men whom Lee had paroled fell into our hands, but this parole under the terms of the cartel is of no effect because Gen. Meade fortunately refused to agree to it. It is reported that after Gen. Meade refused to accept the parole, Gen. Lee sent them to Gen. Couch who did accept the paroles. Our troops are said to hold undisputed possession of the South Mountain pass.

A Washington special says our wounded at Gettysburg are estimated at the Surgeon General's office at 12,000; 5000 are to be sent to Philadelphia, 5000 to New York, 1000 to Baltimore and 1000 remain in improvised hospitals at Gettysburg. 3000 or 4000 rebels were left in our possession.

The latest dispatches say Lee is between South Mountain and Hagerstown; that he will probably give Gen. Meade battle between Hagerstown and the Potomac, on Friday or Saturday. Imboden is at Williamsport with from 7,000 to 10,000 troops; Lee's wagon train of from 4000 to 5000 wagons, is there making its way into Virginia as fast as their limited means will admit. The Government is throwing troops up the valley as fast as possible.

☞ There were great rejoicings in Washington on Tuesday evening, over the fall of Vicksburg. A long procession, with bands of music, proceeded to the executive mansion, and repeated cheers were given for the President, Meade, Rosecrans and Grant. The President made a congratulatory address. During the evening, speeches were made by Sec. Stanton, Gen. Halleck, Sec. Seward, and others. Gen. Halleck spoke briefly, saying it "had been nearly two years since he took command of the Army of the West. Gen. Grant was under his command and had fought fifteen battles and won fifteen victories. Now he is three-fourths of the way down the Mississippi river, and to-day or to-morrow he will be in Port Hudson."

☞ A paper is to be started at Presque Isle, Me., under the somewhat astounding title of "The Loyal Sunrise." It will strive not to eclipse the thirty-five stars.

☞ Gold was offered at private sale in New York City on Tuesday afternoon at 125, but found no purchaser.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated — By UNCLE TOBY.

Another Ursula Cutt; her Romantic History

Extract from a letter written by Mrs. Sally Sayward Barrell, Keating-Wood, addressed to M. E. Keating. [Concluded.]

Major Cutt took possession of both Islands, one of which still remains to his descendants, and his sister became mistress of the place you have just seen. She built the house and planted the fruit and flowers, rendering a wilderness a garden of beauty and delight. She brought from England twenty men servants, and several female domestics, who delighted to follow their young lady to a new country, finding her a kind friend and protectress. Wealth gave her ample means of displaying her taste; the house was richly furnished, the grounds beautifully cultivated, and the situation became the admiration of the few who visited her. Piety and love for one lost to her forever were the prominent traits in her character. She instructed her family in their religious duties; read prayers every morning and evening;—and as there was no settled minister nor place of public worship the Sabbath was devoted to religious exercises and no labor nor amusement was permitted. One of the girls who came over with her had received a good education and her understanding was more cultivated than usual. She became a great favorite with her lady, and was her chosen companion in her evening walks. The early disappointment and fate of her lover were often the subject of conversation, and finding one evening her mistress more desponding than common, the girl exclaimed,—"cheer up my lady, 'tis a long lane that has no turning." The lady smiled and replied, "I have been thinking what name to call my domain by, for a long time, and you have given it one. I now call it 'Long Lane'"; and by that name it has ever since been known. A few days after this conversation letters were received from England, and lady Ursula had the happiness to receive a packet from her long lost lover. He had been for a year a prisoner of war, removed from one place of confinement to another, and denied the privilege of correspondence with his friends. But the war being ended an exchange of prisoners took place, and he had returned to his country in the joyful expectation of meeting his mistress. Disappointed in this expectation he determined to embark in a few days for the new world, would arrive in all October to claim her as his bride, and to her devote the remainder of his life. You may judge of the surprise and delight at this welcome and unhoped for letter.—All was bustle and preparation. "We shall have a most joyful thanksgiving," she exclaimed, "and a more joyful Christmas.—The harvest shall be got in, and no labor exacted for a month." It was proposed that Thanksgiving be passed at Long Lane and Christmas at Cutt Island. Joy reigned in the household, and visions of bliss filled the hopes and heart of the lady, giving brilliancy to her cheek and elasticity to her step. But who can tell what a day will bring forth?

A few days after this delightful intelligence she went, as she often did, with an attendant in a low carriage to take refreshment to her work people who were employed in a distant part of the estate; the food was placed upon the ground, the men had all assembled—she blessed the viands she had brought, and while the pious effusion was upon her lips, she fell—by the tomahawk of an Indian, to rise no more. All who were about her shared the same fate—excepting one whose speed outstripped his pursuers. The drawbridge was not down; he swam the river and gave the alarm to the Major's family, who in haste rushed to this dreadful scene to behold the bleeding body of the sister and those of all her attendants; the savages had plundered the house and set fire to the outbuildings, but fled before their pursuers could come up with them. But who can describe the dreadful scene!

The murdered lady and her attendants were interred on the spot where the massacre took place, and a stone was raised to her memory, which I believe still remains. In a few days Col. Fowler arrived, but disappointed and heart broken he returned to his native country, lamenting the sad conclusion of all his hopes and the tragical fate of a lovely woman, who had proved sincere and faithful in her attachment to him—and an honor to her sex.

I have only to add that at the commencement of the war that rendered America free and independent, a descendant of Col. Fowler came to this country and visited my grandfather, who was Judge of Probate.—He applied to him to search the records for a will made by this unfortunate lady, as soon as she had ascertained the existence of her lover, bequeathing to him all her property. Time had passed without any demand, and the estate had been purchased by Col. Whipple, to whose widow it now belongs; the will could not be found, and the gentleman returned no richer than he came.

[The above letter is signed "Sally S. Wood:"—and the reader may take it for so much history, as we did, if he can find it corroborated by other evidence. But it is rather a Romance, founded on the Facts of the other Ursula's history—richly embellished, and worth reading. We have another letter almost as good, which we may give another day.]

☞ The Mass. 55th regiment (colored) is under orders to leave the camp at Readville next week for active service. The regiment will report to Maj. Gen. Foster.

Whenever a Spaniard eats a peach or a pear, he makes a hole in the ground and plants the seeds; thus by all the way sides in Spain there are fruit trees, of the product of which the traveller may freely partake. There is a beautiful unselfishness about this that is worthy of emulation; but who would think of stopping to plant a seed and run the risk of losing a dime by being a minute too late?—Gloucester Telegraph.

☞ Solomon Sturgis, the wealthiest man in Chicago, has gone to the Hartford Asylum, a raving maniac. During the first year of the war he made a million dollars.

The whole creation is made of books and eyes, of bitumen, of sticking plaster, and whether your community is made in Jerusalem or in California, of saints or wreckers, it coheres in a perfect ball. Men as naturally make a state as caterpillars a web.— Gloucester Tel.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, then the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by such to restrain the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cure, was the point made in this valuable preparation. To prevent adding attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be sacred, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION, and to prove the declarations by true results.

Local.

☞ Portsmouth sustains a great loss in the decease of PHINEHAS NICHOLS, Esq., who died in this city on Wednesday morning, aged 62. Mr. N. has been in the City Government some years, and at the time of his death was an Alderman, in which capacity, and in all the relations and business of life, he was prompt, active, and deservedly respected. But it was in his office as a Teacher of Youth, that he was best known and most highly valued. He came to the town of Portsmouth about thirty-four years ago, and has ever since been engaged in our public schools; the last half of the time as Principal of the High School for girls, in which position he has been eminently successful. In his character were blended purity and zeal, activity and caution, quick perception and sound judgment; and in his management of a school he was at once dignified and familiar, self-possessed and faithful.

☞ At a special meeting of the Board of Mayor & Aldermen, held Wednesday, it was voted

That the Mayor and Aldermen Adams & Rider be a committee to prepare suitable resolutions on the death of Alderman Nichols.

Resolved, That as a token of respect for the deceased, the members of the Board of Aldermen wear black crape on the left arm for thirty days; and the Mayor and Aldermen's room be draped in mourning for the same period.

Resolved, That the City Council be invited to attend the funeral in a body.

☞ Our recent glorious victories were enthusiastically celebrated by our citizens last evening. These victories have been so decided, and have reflected so much honor upon the brave soldiers of the East and the West, that a quiet manifestation of gratification seemed impossible, even had it been desirable. A large and joyous crowd collected on Market Square and listened to the soul-stirring music of the Portsmouth Cornet Band, without whose invaluable assistance no public jubilee could be complete; while the glad peal of the bells and the deep booming of the cannon added to he people's expression of their great joy. All the church bells were rung from 8 till 9 o'clock, except the Episcopal, which was stopped by request on account of sickness in the immediate vicinity.

A huge bonfire meanwhile threw its lurid light across the Square, the boys being evidently determined to get up an enlarged and improved edition of the night before the 4th of July. And well did they succeed.

Congratulatory and patriotic addresses were made by Hon. E. H. Rollins, of Concord, and Rev. Messrs. Paterson and Holman, and G. J. Prescott, Esq., of this city, the speakers being frequently interrupted by cheers. At a late hour the crowd dispersed to their homes.

☞ The St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Society, of Manchester, made a visit to "the quiet old seaport of Portsmouth," as the Mirror hath it, on Wednesday, coming in an extra train over the Concord & Portsmouth road. Two schooners had previously been chartered, to afford the party an opportunity to visit the Navy Yard, Forts, and other points of interest to our friends from the interior. We suppose, therefore, their "ride in the harbor," as the Mirror again hath it, was eminently satisfactory.

The party was quite large; and having arrived in good season they were enabled to pass a most delightful day on the river. The weather was remarkably pleasant; there was a good breeze, and everything was propitious. We trust that other excursions from Manchester and other towns in the State, of a similar character, will be made hither, during the summer, feeling assured that they will be productive of kindly feelings and a more intimate acquaintance, beneficial alike to those who come and those who welcome them.

Conductor Langley landed his train of seven cars on the wharf in good style; and the two schooners in which the party went were near by. Rev. Jonathan Hall had charge of the party, and of course nothing was lacking.

☞ William A. Rand, of this city, and Rufus L. Jones, of Stratham, members of Co. K, 16th N. H. regiment, were among the volunteers for the 1000 "forlorn hope" called for after the last general assault on Port Hudson. There were seven volunteers from the regiment.

☞ Thanks again to our old friend and neighbor over the way, Mrs. Hodgdon, for her annual remembrance in the shape of a plate of the handsomest and most delicious cherries we ever saw. Notwithstanding the very rare quality of the fruit, the kind donor will please be assured, that the spirit which sends it is yet more esteemed.

☞ The verses to "The Fallen Hero," on the death of Col Cross, sent us by "G. B. G.," are hardly up to the mark of publication, though they breathe the right spirit toward the gallant dead, and the cause for which he so readily gave his life.

☞ A correspondent of the Portland Press states that orders have been received at the Portsmouth Navy Yard to build a frigate of 3000 tons and a tugboat.

The same correspondent makes the following mysterious statement:—

I doubt not that the officers of the Archer received information to govern their movements in their recent raid in your harbor, via this city, as I learn that a citizen left here to see the "fun."

☞ Gov. Gilmore gave a splendid social levee at his residence in Concord, on Tuesday evening, to members of the closing Legislature and other friends. Of course they all had "a good time." His Excellency never allows any guests of his to fail to enjoy themselves.

☞ Mr. Avery, who seems to have a faculty of getting the good things early, received the first blueberries, and good ones at that, on the day before the 4th of July, and has had them daily since.

☞ At the Commencement at Tufts College, Mass., on Wednesday, the honorary degree of Master of Arts was conferred upon Rev. Massena Goodrich, of Rhode Island.

☞ The draft in this District will, probably, not be made before the beginning of next week.

☞ J Hamilton Shapley, Esq., of Exeter, has been appointed Pension Agent for this city.

☞ The Portland Frees learns through a correspondent at Waterville, that a gentleman of high political and social standing in a neighboring county, has recently been detected in heavy forgeries, and that about $12,000 of his forged paper has been discovered in various banks in Maine. The implicated individual has absconded.

☞ The Northern Central Railroad was opened on Tuesday afternoon from Baltimore, to Gettysburg, and necessaries and comforts are being fowarded for the wounded in large quantity.

☞ The European papers are filled with speculations upon the probabilities of a war growing out of the Polish question. It is believed that the notes of three powers were presented to Gortschakoff on the 25th. The Russian answer is anxiously awaited.

☞ An army letter says there have been hundreds of instances where the rebels have thrown shells with lighted fuses by hand over the Vicksburg parapets at our men, and our boys would gather them up and toss them back to burst inside the rebel works.

IRON FENCES.

Mr. Henderson of the well known firm of Henderson & Co., Iron Fence contractors, of Boston, is again in our city for a few days, and will be happy to exhibit his beautiful drawings and receive any orders, at the Franklin House. Parties leaving their address there in his absence will receive prompt attention.

DEATHS.

Funeral this (Thursday) afternoon, at half-past 4 o'clock, at the North Church. The Young Ladies of the High School are requested to meet at the school house at 4 o'clock.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS.—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent paying such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this developer more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

NEW IMPROVED
ICEBERG REFRIGERATORS.

This upright REFRIGERATOR combines every improvement. It is the most perfect article of the kind in the market, requiring less ice than any other, and keeping its contents sweet and free from any unpleasant odors.

Daniel T. Curtis, fruit dealer, Boston, says of it, "I have preserved grapes and pears, peaches, and an extensive variety of plums and berries for five or six weeks in Schooley's Refrigerator."

Oren Peck, Boylston Market, Boston, says, "I find, on careful trial, that it will keep meats perfectly fresh and dry for ten or twelve days."

John Hunt, Butter dealer, Cincinnati, says, "I can keep butter sweet and fresh any length of time in reason, say six weeks."

C. E. Carpenter, Ice Dealer, Providence, says, "I have kept a cup of custard in one of Schooley's Refrigerators during the warm weather one week, when I ate it and found it perfectly good."

Thousands of similar testimonials can be shown in its favor.

SCHOOLEY'S ICE KING REFRIGERATOR. (Patented Jan. 6, 1863.) We present the ICE KING to our customers as the "ne plus ultra" of cheap Refrigerators, combining in its operation all of the great improvements necessary for complete ventilation. In the introduction of Patent Refrigerators to the public, the cost of construction has been necessarily so great as to prevent their sale to the "million." The consequence has been that those who could not afford to purchase a Patent ventilated Refrigerator, were compelled to procure one of the old style, or go without.

We are now happy to state that, by the introduction of our new patent ICE KING, we can offer to the million a complete ventilated Refrigerator, well made, lined throughout with zinc, at cheaper prices than ever before sold.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcerous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for Men, Women, or Children.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

Arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, or Abuse,
ATTENDED WITH THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS:
Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Flushing of the Body, Hot Hands, Eruptions on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Dryness of the Skin.

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION.
Many are aware of the Weakness of their Offspring, but none will confess. The records of the Insane Asylums and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜
EYE, N.H., Feb. 28, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter Jane had the misfortune to lose for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Lanpariller, Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my neighbourhood, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1852.
I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my rising, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.
From ELDER J. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound, that your Panacea has effected wonderful cures in my family. My daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA AND HUMOR WASH, since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicines one of the greatest blessings of the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay or it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26o

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.
There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room, and the extensive top, there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.
The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.
For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.
We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would call those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.
The ventilation aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.
To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little merit, and over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The considerable masses being lighter than air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.
No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.
This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.
These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 20 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.
For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.
They give entire satisfaction wherever used.
We have in store and different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert H. Balch, Esq.,
Aaron B. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.
1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.
2d. It can two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.
3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.
4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.
5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as any set of teeth, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.
6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.
DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,
No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,
Has had four years of practical experience in this, and other material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

DENTISTRY.
No. 60 CONGRESS STREET,
Portsmouth, Jan. 1st, 1863.
DR. GOODALL
Would respectfully inform his patrons and the public, that he is now prepared to insert teeth upon VULCANIZED RUBBER, that he has purchased the best VULCANIZER in the United States, and is now prepared to put up on RUBBER, or the other bases of GOLD and SILVER as formerly, if preferred.
The Rubber has several important advantages, viz.: It is very light and elastic, and consequently, is perfectly easy to the muscles of the mouth and cheeks. There are no insertions of open teeth to collect food, to decay, consequently they can be worn night and day, and are very easily kept neat and clean.
Besides all this, the most accurate fit is obtained, as the Rubber is Vulcanized directly upon the plaster model, and the suction is of course much stronger than in plates of Gold or Silver.
Any one who is waiting for their permanent teeth will I am confident, be perfectly satisfied with the Rubber, as a base. The expense is but a little more than for Silver and you get the same teeth (in blocks) that you would pay $60.00 for an upper or lower set on Gold.
In New York and Boston, and throughout the West, Vulcanized Rubber is used almost to the exclusion of the other bases, and by the best dentists there I will warrant a perfect fit and teeth from the best manufacturer in the country.
S. S. WHITE.
ALL OTHER OPERATIONS IN DENTISTRY I will do in the most skillful manner. I will here mention that my price for EXTRACTING is 25 cents.
I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TRASKWELL, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr OLIVER and Dr. BRIGHT, gentlemen for whom I have inserted Teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All wholesale and retail Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

VOL. 23. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. FRIDAY JULY 10 1863. NO. 8

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
Throughout the world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—It is common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of no popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
5 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents executed on liberal terms and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—also legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere. The Testimonials below given show that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; EXPERIENCE IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add he has abundant reason to believe, and prove, that at no other office of the kind are charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents issued in the United States and Europe, render him capable, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
The necessity of a journey to Washington, to secure a patent, and the usual great delay there, have saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and faithful, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability in his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be assured having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of large practice, made to the Patent Office SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JULY 10, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

The surrender of Vicksburg saved both armies from great loss of life, as an attempt was to be made the next day to carry the works by storm. There were 12,000 troops and 15,000 civilians in the place.—They had suffered terribly during the siege. Gens. Grant and Pemberton had a long private interview, at the latter's request, previous to the surrender. Gen. P. asked that, while the surrender in other respects was unconditional, the garrison which had so long and so bravely resisted our army, should be spared unnecessary humiliation, and be paroled in Vicksburg.

It was arranged that the Federal forces should enter at 10 A. M., July 4. The rebels were all to be paroled, the officers to retain their horses and four days' rations, and to be considered as prisoners liable to be exchanged. The enemy, numbering from 25,000 to 30,000, by this arrangement fell into Gen. Grant's hands, along with small arms, forts, defenses, &c. Cannon are plenty, and in quality equal to the best in the Confederacy. At 10 A. M. of the 4th, Gen. Stuter's division marched into and garrisoned the city, the bands playing the national airs. The scene was witnessed by thousands of Federal and rebel soldiers, who for the first time in weeks showed themselves with impunity above the rifle pits, and during all these weeks they have been within 5 yards of each other.—Gen. Grant came slowly to the place of rendezvous, smoking a cigar, and apparently the only unexcited person in the vast assemblage.

Gen. Pleasanton's cavalry has been operating with the greatest success during the retreat of Lee's army. We had cavalry in their rear, front, and on both flanks, and it is stated that they have taken not less than 6000 prisoners, including wounded rebels, who have been picked up everywhere along the road and in farm houses, where they have been abandoned by their friends.—They have also captured or burnt hundreds of wagons and run off the horses.

A New Jersey Captain says that before he left his regiment, Gen. Meade made an address to his army, in which he stated that the rebel loss in the late battles was 35,000. Gen. Meade had captured in all, 60 pieces of artillery.

11,800 prisoners, from Lee's army, had arrived at Frederick, Md., up to Wednesday night. Brig. Gen. Paul, reported killed, was alive on Tuesday night, with some hopes of his recovery. A dispatch says hundreds of rebel deserters are in the country around Gettysburg, having changed their clothes and turned farmers in the harvest fields.

Another desperate battle is imminent; Lee is concentrating his troops to resist an attack; our army is moving with remarkable celerity; our forces occupy South Mountain and Harper's Ferry. It seems certain that we have taken little if any artillery from the rebels.

Gen. Foster reports that cavalry sent from Newbern, 3d, had destroyed, by twisting the rails, 2 miles of the Weldon & Wilmington R. R., and for 5 miles further all the culverts, and the telegraph: at Kenansville an armory was destroyed, with a lot of stores, small arms, &c. 150 animals and 20 prisoners were captured, and 400 negroes followed the troops in.

Gen. Prentiss reports that in the rebel attack on Helena, Ark., on the 4th, although we took 1200 prisoners, and the rebel loss in killed would reach 500 or 600, we lost not over 60. He thinks that although the rebels were badly whipped, they will attack again, as they were massing their troops for that purpose. The rebels captured six of our guns, which were afterwards recaptured.

Gens. Grant and Meade were on Wednesday promoted respectively to Major and Brigadier Generals of the regular army.

GEN. LEE AND THE PENNSYLVANIA COAL FIELDS.—The Richmond Whig of July 2, expressed the hope that Lee would occupy the Pennsylvania coal region, cut the railroads, destroy the mining machinery, and then set fire to the mines, leaving "the heart of Pennsylvania on fire, never to be quenched until a river is turned into the pits or the vast supply of coal is reduced to ashes." As Pennsylvania is the great dependence of our manufactories and workshops for coal, the Whig rejoices in the idea that "Northern industry will thus be paralyzed at a blow."—The Whig's rejoicing was rather short-lived; our industry is not paralyzed;—and the coal mines are not a volcano.

☞ The steamers Alice Dean and J. S. McComb were captured by about 200 rebels at Brandenburg, Ky., on Tuesday afternoon. Gunboats are in pursuit.

Heterodoxy is any doxy but our own; just as nonsense is sense that differs from our own.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Merrimack County Conference of Congregational Churches held its annual meeting in Webster, June 23 and 24. The opening sermon was preached by Rev. J. L. Armes, and the sermon before the communion by Rev. E. W. Cook. The next meeting is to be held at Dunbarton. Resolutions were passed in relation to the state of the country, on intemperance, and on Dartmouth College.

—— The bell on the City Hall, Manchester, which has been out of tune for some time, got excited over the good news from Vicksburg, and cracked on Tuesday.

—— The Third N. H. Regiment (at Port Royal) has contributed eight hundred dollars to the relief of the destitute of Ireland.

—— James M. Lovering, Esq., Collector of Internal Revenue, has been appointed Receiver of Commutation Money for the First Congressional District in New Hampshire, under the "Act for Enrolling and calling out the National Forces and for other purposes." Drafted men who prefer paying three hundred ($300) dollars to entering the service will please take notice.

☞ "The difference" is thus explained by the Philadelphia Press:—

When our Union generals went into Virginia, they placed guards round the property of the rebels, gave them permits to pass through our lines, and sent soldiers to return fugitive slaves to their owners. This was called conciliating our brethren of the South. When Gen. Early took possession of York he demanded contributions from the people to the amount of $150,000, saying that if refused they would be taken.—This is called supporting an army upon an enemy's country. The rebels do not make war a sentimentalism.

☞ In Massachusetts, 15,519 men are called for by the War Department. The Traveller says:—

"This draft indicates that Government requires 600,000 to speedily put down the rebellion. The order for the draft was made before the news from Pennsylvania was received at Washington."

If our government puts on an overwhelming force, at every important point, the struggle will be shorter, and cost less of blood and treasure, and the peace be better kept afterwards. Show a rioter that you are stronger than he, and he wilts. Show the rebellion that the United States are strong and in earnest, and that will collapse in like manner.

☞ The Vermont Union State Convention was held at Burlington on Wednesday, and was largely attended. Hon. John G. Smith, of St. Albans, was nominated for Governor; the present Lieut. Governor and Treasurer were re-nominated. The resolutions pledge the men and means of Vermont to the government in putting down the rebellion, endorse the lawful and necessary use of all martial as well as civil power of the government to that object, declare that Northern traitors deserve greater reproach than Southern rebels, and tender every tribute of gratitude to the brave soldiers in the field, camp and hospital.

GLOUCESTER FISHERMEN.—The Gloucester Telegraph says, "An arrangement has been made among our fishing owners, by which they have mutually agreed to insure each other's vessels against all losses that may arise from the hazards of war.—It is a good arrangement.

"Some of our fishermen, since the depredations of the pirate, intend to arm themselves with muskets, if they cannot get anything better, that they may have something on board with which to defend their property from piratical cruisers. They should all do it."

We learn by a friend who is familiar with the Gloucester fishermen, that the late burning expedition of the rebel pirates, now at Portland, has opened the eyes of some of them, so far that they feel rather indignant at their treatment by their Southern brethren, the pirates—who would not regard their pleas of sympathy.

VICKSBURG.—Now that Vicksburg has fallen into the hands of the American army and Government, the following item is in good place:—

Long ago the leading organ of the rebel government, in speculating upon the possible fall of Vicksburg, said: "Then indeed will come the tug of war. Then will also come the political crisis. Whatever of imbecility and faintheartedness and downright latent toryism and treason exists in this Confederacy will at once receive a new accession of weakness; many will again cry out for 'an honorable peace,' as they call it, by means of submission to one section of our invading foes."

Right. It would be the most honorable thing they would do, to submit to good government, and begin to pay the workingmen honest wages for toil: more honorable than anything they ever did.

☞ Mrs. Ellen McCafferty, of Chicago, a "young and rather handsome woman," met the enrolling officers at her door with flourish of bootjack and carving knife, and sweetly suggested that if the "infernal abolitioners" did not leave her house, she would accommodate them with "a grave on her own door step." Ellen was last heard of seeking surety in the sum of $1000 to answer for her valor before a United States Commissioner.

A WESTERN FESTIVAL.—We clip from the Milwaukee Sentinel, a few paragraphs of a long and interesting notice of a Ladies' Soldier's Aid Festival, held in a grove at Watertown, Wisconsin and which must have been a grand time. After a good dinner:

Gen. Pope being present addressed a few well chosen remarks to those present. He said that he had not come among them to make a speech, but because he felt interested in the work in which they were engaged; to mingle with them and take them by the hand. After remaining awhile, he slipped a note of a high denomination into the hands of the treasurer, and took his departure.

The first in the regular course of speakers was M. MacAlister, Principal of the Fourth Ward School of Milwaukie who, in a masterly speech of twenty minutes, kept the audience enchanted by his eloquence. He took the ground that the present rebellion was the result of a broken moral law, and when the nation took the ground of moral rectitude, then we should be successful in quelling the rebellion.

E. J. Hill, Esq., of the firm of Buttrick & Hill, was the next speaker. His remarks were very pertinent to the occasion, being upon the influence of woman in the pending national struggle for existence. He paid the patriotic women a just and eloquent tribute.

Mr. S. M. Hewlett, well known as the great advocate of temperance, was next called for, and came forward. A storm of applause greeted him at intervals throughout one of his characteristic speeches.

R. N. Austin, Esq., spoke for a few minutes in a very happy vein, calling from the audience frequent demonstrations of applause.

Last but not least of the speakers, was Judge Hubbell. We have heard him speak many times before, but never with more thrilling effect. The winds were playing with his gray hairs, and the "starry banner" which hung suspended just over his head waved to and fro as if in commendation of the noble sentiments to which he gave utterance.

After the close of the speaking, there was some rare sport in the way of auctioneering. A fruit cake was sold by a gentleman whose name we did not learn. When that article was disposed of, the next thing that was put up was a stuffed lamb, decked off with a profusion of blue ribbons. The gentleman crying it created a good deal of amusement, and being a stranger to us, we naturally inquired what his name was, and learned that it was Mr. A. Gus. Paine, of the house of Allen & Paine of Broadway, New York. He was a natural genius, and managed the sale in a very shrewd manner. Some one started the sheep at two or three dollars, when a rivalry sprung up between several gentlemen, among whom we noticed Messrs. J. L. Davis, Chas. Bigelow, Skinner, and Hurlburt of Milwaukee. The bids went up to ten and fifteen dollars, and then rather hung fire, when Mr. Paine, raising the sheep upon his shoulder, appealed in the most pathetic terms for a higher bid.

He said it was a shame that the animal should be sacrificed for any such price; the wool was worth something, the hide something, and the meat—something; but the whole was worth untold sums to the cause for which they were laboring. His plea was effectual. The price was raised, and he called for three cheers for the highest bidder, which being given called out another bid from one of the parties, and then the sum named was twenty-five dollars.

Here the thing stuck, when Mr. P. raising the sheep to the top of his head, went on to say that it was a shame, that he, A. Gus. Paine, should come all the way out from New York (that great State that had sent 130 regiments to the field, and which although he was sorry to say she had some men of questionable loyalty, had done nobly for the Union cause,) to sell that sheep, and it about I bring only the paltry sum of twenty-five dollars!

It was worth millions to the cause in which they were engaged. His speech brought the bid up to $30 00. The auctioneer then went on to say that Mr. J. L. Davis had bid $30, and wanted to know if those assembled were going to let a Milwaukee rag man outbid them. He knew Mr. Davis was rich, but saw dozens of men around him who were able to give more for the sheep. His appeal was once more successful, and a higher figure was named by some one in the ring, when Mr. Davis bid $35, and it was struck off to him. Three rousing cheers were given for Mr. D., and a vote of thanks to Mr. Paine passed. The fun during this bidding was immense, and we have only touched upon what the racy auctioneer said during his effort of twenty minutes to sell the sheep.

The next article put up was a small elephant, which was bid off to Mr. Frank R. Sherwin, of the new and enterprising firm of Sherwin, Nowell & Co., who are soon to open a wholesale dry goods house here in Milwaukee. We haven't heard that he and Mr. Davis propose to open a zoological garden.

N. B.—Mr. Winslow A. Nowell, of Portsmouth, from New York city.

☞ General Pleasanton, the dashing cavalry officer, who has ridden over Stuart's rebels, is described by a correspondent as follows: "Pleasanton is a keen-eyed, middle-sized man, on the bright side of forty, whose short brown hair is prematurely tinged with gray. His face is pale, and his features sharply chiselled. He is polished and affable, and thoroughly a man of the world."

☞ The Court hair dresser in attempting to dye the Empress's hair, changed its golden lustre first to deep black, then to auburn and finally brown. Eugenie was furious and the gossips much elated in consequence.

☞ Nine thousand dogs are annually registered in St. Louis. The registry for the present year has already reached seven thousand. Probably at least three thousand dogs go unregistered—making a canine total of about twelve thousand.

SUMMER.

June to-day has been unbinding
All the beauty of her hair;
The pure fragrance of her tresses
Floats through all the golden air,
And the greenness of her garment
Lies about us, everywhere.

There is folded down on odor
In each bud the sun unlocks;
There is laid a rosy garland
On the brown and rugged rocks;
All along the brooks meander
Gleams the purple of the iris.

One would guess that late last evening,
While the sky hung calm and blue,
An unlooked-for wind had shaken
All the stars in clusters through,
And had bathed the sleeping meadows
In a shower of golden dew.

For the buttercups are flashing
All about you as you pass;
Far adown the vale the cowslips
Are one lush and golden mass,
And the dandelion blossoms
Shine like gems among the grass.

Where the birds, like painted shadows,
'Neath the branches come and go;
Where the brooks, with river music,
Through the vale melodious flow;
'Ne-th the elm tree's swinging branches
Bloom the lilies like the snow.

Here I've sat for full an hour,
Gazing round me like a child,
Where the brook and river mingle
With a rapture strange and wild—
Where, about the cottage window
High the lilac bloom is piled.

And a sadness, like the dimness
Coming o'er a twilight sky,
Steals upon me. I remember
That the beauty which doth lie
Like a golden dream about me,
Like a dream will soon pass by.

But a spirit falls upon me,
Even as erst the passing seer
Cast the glory of his mantle
O'er his brother's grief and fear,
And a voice is speaking to me
Which my soul alone may hear.

And I sit as I were dreaming,
Till the soft melodious tone
Of the waters to a murmur
Low and liquid, seems to swoon;
In the spirit of thy beauty
Is my soul baptized, O June!

☞ Gen Early, who is at the head of one of the divisions of Lee's army and who recently made the demand of money and supplies from the town of York, Pa., is a native of that State. He was born in Carlisle. His father was a poor shoemaker, who lived in the outskirts of the then village, and brought his only other son up to his trade. This one, the General, left home at an early age, made his way to Lynchburg, Va., established himself there as a dentist, was successful, married a wealthy girl, and soon became one of the F. F. V's. He is familiar with the Cumberland Valley, and no doubt aided in perfecting Lee's plan of invasion.

☞ Fernando Wood was drafted in the 8th Ward, Boston, on Thursday.

HUNNEWELL'S TOLU ANODYNE.—The most wonderful and reliable preparation which has earned its true name and fame, by results which had baffled every other attempt already in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Nervous Head Ache, Tooth and Ear Ache, Bowel Complaints, Hysteria, Distress after Eating, Loss of Sleep, General Nervous Debility; Paroxysms in Whooping Cough and Asthma, now declared to be largely Nervous, and also declared to be one of the most important points in Materia Medica. This valuable preparation should be in every Family, as no description equals its real necessity, or its splendid results.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, when the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, yet by man to overcome the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cure, was the point made in this valuable preparation. To present such strong attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be sacred, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION, and to prove the declarations by true results.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

Local.

☞ The funeral services of Mr. Nichols were performed on Thursday afternoon in the North Church, by Rev. Mr. Adams, the pastor. His remarks were brief, founded on the fact that in this case as in many others, there are no last words; but the impression on the world which we leave behind us, is made by our whole course of life and action: the extraordinary assemblage showed, as the speaker remarked, the estimation in which the departed was held, far better than words could do it. An appropriate prayer closed the services, which were opened with a hymn and select scriptures. The house was filled with scholars, city government and friends, all desiring to express respect for the deceased and sympathy with the bereaved.

We are reminded by a friend, that besides Mr. Nichols' term of 35 successive years in our schools, beginning in 1828,—he was here at a former period, being made a teacher of the LaFayette School by a Committee of which Messrs. Putnam and Streeter were members, about 40 years ago. And that he was after that, and before his return here, the Principal of Dummer Academy.

☞ The funeral services of Hon. John Howard March were quietly, but appropriately and impressively observed at the family mansion in Greenland, on Wednesday afternoon. There was a large gathering of the family and friends. Rev. Mr. Davies, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church in this city, read the beautiful Church burial service in his usual finished and grateful style; and the pall-bearers were ex-President Pierce of Concord; Col. Joshua W. Peirce and Wm. F. Parrott, Esq., of Greenland; Capt. Pearson and Dr. Delaney, from Portsmouth Navy Yard; and Hon. John Elwyn, of Portsmouth.

The remains of the noble old man—the almost regal gentleman, who would no other title—were laid to rest in the family tomb, built by his ancestor, Clement March, in 1759, we believe, and rebuilt by Messrs. Clement and Charles W. March, his great-grandsons, a hundred years later—beneath the waving trees, and amid the fresh verdure and fair flowers of that charming scene, on that lovely summer afternoon. A fitting repose for one so beloved.

☞ A private letter, dated Headquarters 3d Army Corps, Westminster, Md., July 5, received in this city on Thursday, from Mr. Hiram F. Spinney, a member of the 2d N. H. regiment, states that that regiment lost very heavily in the recent battle, 29 officers and 225 men being killed or wounded. The letter states that Maj. Sayles, of Dover, recently stationed at Fort Constitution, Capts. Hubbard, of Manchester, and Metcalf, of Keene, and Lieut. Roberts, of Dover, were reported killed; Capts. Gordon, of Allenstown, and Platt, of Manchester, Lieuts. Ballard, of Littleton, Shute, of Concord, Richardson, of Lancaster, and Sides, wounded or missing. The letter also states that the 5th and the 12th were badly cut up, the latter, which suffered so terribly at Chancellorsville, now having one-half its members either killed or wounded.

The Manchester papers report that of the 2d, Lieut. Cooper, of Concord, was killed, and Lieut. Charles W. Patch, of this city, wounded.

This is a sad record, which renewedly attests the tried valor of this noble regiment; yet as it is made up from letters which were hastily written soon after the battle, there is a strong probability that many now reported killed or wounded, will yet be found to be unharmed.

☞ As a token of respect to the memory of Ald. Nichols, the regular meeting of the Board was adjourned last evening, no business being transacted.

We most sincerely hope that vessel will get loaded and sail soon, as the above item has been going the rounds of the press for we know not how many months.

☞ Count Zippelin, officer of the staff and aid to the King of Wurtemburg, who witnessed the cavalry fight at Aldie, says that he could not imagine more thorough and perfect generalship than that displayed by Gen. Pleasanton there; that charges by whole regiments, as well as fights hand to hand, were executed by our cavalry with skill and undoubted bravery; that the superiority of our cavalry in every respect over that of the rebels is incontestible; that during the whole fight he did not observe a single case of skulking, either by a squad or a single soldier, nor one of retiring or avoiding an encounter.

☞ One of the editors of the Providence Journal has been honored by being drawn to serve his country. He takes the matter very philosophically, and thanks his numerous friends who in the kindness of their hearts have offered to serve as substitutes—in the editorial chair.

"VISIT TO THE REBEL PRISONERS AT PORTLAND.—Mr. Wm. F. Laighton, U. S. N., the hero of the Chesapeake, accompanied by Mr. Hallett, of Hyannis, Mass., a passenger on board the Tacony when she was captured by the pirate Clarance, visited the rebel officers and crew at Fort Preble, Portland harbor, Tuesday. Mr. Laighton was recognized by Lieut. Brown as one who was on board the U. S. frigate St. Lawrence, of the Paraguay expedition in 1859, of which expedition Lieut. Brown was on board the U. S. sloop-of-war Preble.—Mr. Hallet was immediately recognized by the rebel officers. On visiting the crew this gentleman found his watch on one of the number, which was delivered up to Lt. Inman. On his return to Portland he found about one half of his personal effects at the Custom House, consisting of clothing, books, &c., which were captured of him by Lt. Reed."

So say "the papers"; and all right, no doubt. And we will add, that Mr. Laighton (not Leighton, as all the papers have it—and didn't somebody call him a "copperhead" once?) was also on board the San Jacinto, in the Trent affair. And besides, that inasmuch as the said Mr. Laighton and others did destroy the Tacony's successor, a privateer ten times as fearful as she herself, and capture her crew, we think the Boston people who offered ten thousand dollars reward for the capture or destruction of a privateer, ought to send some of their change to them Portland chaps, who, no doubt, saved them ten times ten thousand dollars.

☞ Gen. Meade was frequently under fire at Gettysburg, though he does not appear to have exposed himself unnecessarily. He rode along the lines, attended by his orderlies, guiding every movement, and halting and sending to the front demoralized officers and men. At one time his horse was killed under him, the canister shot passing through the flap of the saddle, grazing the leg of the General.

☞ A severe drouth of six weeks' duration has prevailed in the country to be traversed by Gen. Sibley's Indian expedition, and prairie fires having burnt up the grass, it will be almost impossible for him to subsist his animals, and it is said to be probable the whole enterprise will have to be abandoned.

☞ An English astronomer has discovered that we are several million miles nearer the sun than has been supposed. A cotemporary thinks this is very satisfactory when coal is $12 a ton, and wood is $10 a cord, and scarce at that.

☞ Mr. Cony, who was nominated by the Union Convention in Maine for Governor, is a loyal Democrat: the next morning after the nomination, the Democrats of the town of Skowhegan called a meeting to ratify the nomination.

☞ Army letters state that praises of Gen. Meade are on the tongue of every officer and soldier. In the victories won he has shown masterly generalship. During all the fighting he has made the front his headquarters.

"I cannot remember a night so dark as to hinder or prevent the coming day; nor a storm so furious and dreadful as to prevent the return of warm sunshine and cloudless sky."

☞ A despatch from Halifax, dated 6th inst., states that the remains of the privateer Tacony have been towed into Cape Cove. So there is no longer doubt of her destruction.

☞ Vallandigham arrived at Halifax on Sunday. It is expected that he will proceed to the Clifton House, Niagara Falls, were he will remain for the present.

The fountain of true politeness is a good and generous heart. It consists less in exterior manners, than the spirit developed in conduct in the intercourse of courtesy.

☞ Brokers in Richmond are paying six dollars premium in currency for gold, but do not sell any.

☞ The British Minister to Japan complains that Americans are selling arms to the Japanese.

SCHOOLEY'S
NEW IMPROVED
ICEBERG REFRIGERATORS.

This upright REFRIGERATOR combines every improvement. It is the most perfect article of the kind in the market, requiring less ice than any other, and keeping its contents sweet and free from any unpleasant odors.

Daniel T. Curtis, fruit dealer, Boston, says of it, "I have preserved grapes and pears, peaches, and an extensive variety of plums and berries for five or six weeks in Schooley's Refrigerator."

Oren Peck, Boylston Market, Boston, says, "I find, on careful trial, that it will keep meats perfectly fresh and dry for ten or twelve days."

John Hunt, Butter dealer, Cincinnati, says, "I can keep butter sweet and fresh any length of time in reason, say six weeks."

C. E. Carpenter, Ice Dealer, Providence, says, "I have kept a cup of custard in one of Schooley's Refrigerators during the warm weather one week, when I ate it and found it perfectly good."

Thousands of similar testimonials can be shown in its favor.

SCHOOLEY'S ICE KING REFRIGERATOR. (Patented Jan. 6, 1863.) We present the ICE KING to our customers as the "ne plus ultra" of cheap Refrigerators, combining in its operation all of the great improvements necessary for complete ventilation. In the introduction of Patent Refrigerators to the public, the cost of construction has been necessarily so great as to prevent their sale to the "million." The consequence has been that those who could not afford to purchase a Patent ventilated Refrigerator, were compelled to procure one of the old style, or go without.

We are now happy to state that, by the introduction of our new patent ICE KING, we can offer to the million a complete ventilated Refrigerator, well made, lined throughout with zinc, at cheaper prices than ever before sold.

The various sizes of the above are for sale by the subscriber—also, ICE PITCHERS, ICE AWLS, &c.

GENUINE PREPARATION,
"HIGHLY CONCENTRATED"
(COMPOUND)
FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU;

A Positive and Specific Remedy
For Diseases of the
BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbent Vessels into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcerous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is especially adapted for Men, Women, or Children.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU
FOR WEAKNESSES
Arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, or Abuse,

Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,	Flushing of the Body,
Hot Hands,	Eruptions on the Face,
	Pimples on the Face,
	Dryness of the Skin

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which Immediacies invariably removes, soon follow IMPOTENCY, MATRIMONY, INSANITY AND FITS, In one of which the patient may expire. Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those dreadful diseases?

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION.

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the Insane Asylums and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

THE CONSTITUTION, ONCE AFFECTED WITH ORGANIC WEAKNESS,

Requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, when HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most skeptical.

Females, Females, Females,

ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!

EYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla, Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. Swayne's PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine can equal Dr. Swayne's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1852.

I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWEET'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Penn ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWEET: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humors, and that previous to your visiting our home in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named. ISRAEL CHESLEY

Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWEET, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may25tf

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top they use a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelfuls of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove in the country, of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The Plans adopted by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat by the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 30 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume gases of the kind, without burning with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world.

We would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the mouth is prepared, we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th No bad taste or smell in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. Which is in all respects better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,

Has had four years of practical experience in making this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

DENTISTRY.

No. 60 CONGRESS STREET,
Portsmouth, Jan. 1st, 1863.

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully inform his patrons and the public, (having had of late many calls to insert teeth upon VULCANIZED RUBBER,) that he has purchased the right to use the same, and is now prepared to do all work upon RUBBER, or the other bases of GOLD and SILVER as formerly, if preferred.

The Rubber has several important advantages, viz. It is very light and elastic, and consequently is perfectly easy to the muscles of the mouth and cheeks. There are no insertices or open joints to collect food, &c.; consequently they can be worn night and day, and are very easily kept neat and clean.

Beside all this, the most accurate fit is obtained, as the Rubber is Vulcanized directly upon the plaster model, and the suction is of course much stronger than in plates of Gold or Silver.

Any one who is waiting for their permanent teeth will I am confident, be perfectly satisfied with the Rubber, as a base. The expense is but a little more than for Silver, and you get the same teeth (in blocks) that you would pay $60.00 for an upper or lower set on Gold.

In New York and Boston, and throughout the West, Vulcanized Rubber is used almost to the exclusion of the other bases, and by the best Dentists too. I will warrant a perfect fit and teeth from the best manufacturer in the country, S. S. White.

ALL OTHER OPERATIONS IN DENTISTRY I will do at the usual rates. I would mention that my price for EXTRACTION is 25 cents.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TRASK, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr. BOARDMAN, and Dr. BENNETT, for particular success in extracting Teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

I would call and examine specimens of Artificial Teeth upon Vulcanized Rubber, Gold and Silver.

GRACE'S CELEBRATED SALVE

A SURE RELIEF FOR THE SUFFERER.

This Salve is a vegetable preparation, invented in the 17th century, by Dr. Wm. Grace surgeon in King James's army. Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Burns.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Scalds.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Flesh Wounds.

Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Sore Lips.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Erysipelas Sores
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Abscesses.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Ulcers.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Chapped Hands.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Ringworms.

And from Sores and Wounds of the most serious nature down to a common Pimple. It eradicates Pimples from the face, and beautifies the skin. There is no preparation before the public that can equal this Salve in prompt and energetic action for the speedy cure of external diseases, as those who have tried its virtues testify. Soldiers, Sailors, and Fishermen, will find this Salve their best friend.

It has none of the irritating, heating properties of other remedies, but cools, cleanses, and heals the most serious Sores and Wounds. Every family, and especially those containing children, should keep a box on hand in case of accident, for it will save them much trouble, suffering, and money. All it wants is a fair trial to cure old and inveterate Sores.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fear with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the above. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that to me, MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, it would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy to secure for them their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN Applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unimpeachable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, JULY 11, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

On Sunday Gen. Kilpatrick captured a rebel train at Monterey, taking 2876 prisoners, 179 of whom were commissioned officers. On the same day he had a fight with Stuart at Smithsburg.

It is said that fully one third of the transportation of the rebel army has been destroyed. The rebels on Tuesday pressed our cavalry back upon Boonsboro'. Pleasanton dismounted his men and fought them two hours, finally driving them clear back to Antietam creek. The rebels have run the greater part of their trains into the valley near Williamsport, and covered them by artillery posted on the south side of the river.

Gen. Oglesby says the terms of capitulation of Vicksburg were that enlisted men be paroled, while the commissioned officers be retained as prisoners. Pemberton gives the number of men fit for duty 12,000, and 6000 in the hospital.

A Washington dispatch states that the operations of Gen. Dix's command at the White house and on the peninsula are successful, having cut off all direct communication from Richmond and Gen. Lee's army, and detained a large number of troops in and around Richmond which would otherwise have gone to reinforce Lee.

Morgan's forces of infantry, cavalry and artillery, numbering about 4000, on Thursday crossed into Indiana and captured Corydon. Our forces are falling back. The rebels, it is supposed, are marching on New Albany and Jeffersonville, where large quantities of supplies are stored. Troops are being organized throughout the State and sent forward as rapidly as possible.

The Richmond Enquirer gives a rumor that Magruder and Dick Taylor have crossed the Mississippi river at Kenna, ten miles above New Orleans, have captured 7000 Federal troops, and are marching on that city.

It is stated that Gen. Meade learned on Friday last that Stuart was preparing to make one of his raids on our rear, to cut off our trains and prevent communication with Westminster, Baltimore and Washington. Gen. Gregg was ordered to intercept him. Having two brigades and a battery, he met Stuart about two miles from our lines, already on his way. Gen. Gregg charged the rebels, and was at first repulsed. He rallied his men and charged again, and routed Stuart's force, who left their dead and wounded on the field. Among the killed were two rebel Majors. Our loss was from 30 to 40 killed, and 110 wounded. Artillery was used on both sides.

In regard to the battle at Gettysburg, the rebel papers are perpetrating some of the tallest kind of lying that even they ever achieved. They claim that they took 40,000 prisoners, and that we lost 60,000 in killed and wounded on Sunday!

A rebel force is said to be operating on the Ohio river, between Cincinnati and Louisville, with the intention of capturing passing boats.

One rebel Lieut. General, four Major Generals, and 15 or 20 Brig. Generals, it is said, were captured at Vicksburg.

Gen. Nagles, with troops from Gen. Foster's command, has reported to General Meade, and has been assigned to the command of Harper's Ferry. Heavy firing is reported to have been heard near Frenkstown, Md., on Thursday.

☞ The pirates are again off our coast, a barque-rigged steamer of about 600 tons having been seen off Nantucket on Friday. She is supposed to have burnt a large ship loaded with deals, and reported as belonging to Kennebunk, Me. All the vessels at Charlestown Navy Yard, ready for sea, have been ordered to sail without delay, to cruise for pirates. The pirate fired several shots at the chartered steamer Ericsson, which arrived at New York on Friday.

The pirate on Thursday burned a brig and a fishing schooner.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.—In the Senate, on Wednesday, the act for the reception of a grant of land by Congress to create a fund for the promotion of Education in Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, and the act for the better preservation of shade trees, were passed. The bill regulating the introduction of text books in Schools, was indefinitely postponed. Notice was subsequently given of an intention to move a reconsideration.

In the House, the bill for the complete reorganization of the militia of N. H. was passed. A resolution in favor of the establishment of a hospital in N. H. for the reception of wounded and enfeebled soldiers was passed. The bill in relation to the sale of drafted men was ordered to a third reading. The Adj. General was requested to fire a salute of one hundred guns in commemoration of the Gettysburg and Vicksburg victories.

☞ The Machias, Me., Union says that there have been rebel spies, genuine ones, in that town, observing its topography, &c.

SOME DIFFERENCE.—The New York Copperhead, (i.e. a newspaper by that name,) says:

"Had all professed Democrats been sound at the Core, we should never have heard of Democrats 'nobly exposing their lives and shedding their blood on the battle-field.' They would have left the Black Republicans to carry on the war which they have inaugurated."

According to this platform, our townsman Laighton, who went out of Portland after the pirates, being unsound at the Core, cannot be a copperhead nor even a democrat, but must be cast out into outer darkness, among black republicans and other bloody minded barbarians who make all the wars, and who are not lambs of peace like Marshal Kane and Gen. Pierce and Mr. Pugh.

But hold! here is another kind of a democrat, with another kind of platform; he does not believe that every democrat must be a copperhead or a non-resistant. This is the Boston Post; which says:

"Certainly the Secessionists opened and keep up this War; certainly it is RIGHT to repel Force by Force; certainly there must be war for the present—and certainly if the People abandon the War they must give in to a Dissolution of the Union and the Destruction of the Constitution!"

These two platforms not only differ; but they also contradict each other. The Post truly states that the Rebels made war upon our National Life; and that we ought to defend it;—while the Copperhead holds the contrary, and its allies do the same.

A few days ago, when the rebels were rampant in Pennsylvania, when traitors were lively in all our cities, and when the Pennsylvanians seemed slow to muster, the New-York News said:

"The people of B. like the other Central States, are utterly disgusted, not only with the manner in which the war has been prosecuted, but also with the War Itself."

The News is the organ of Ben. Wood; and the meaning of this utterance at that time was, to discourage defence, to encourage and aid their invasion, and ultimately to submit the whole land to their sway. The speeches at Concord, July 4, were of the Wood Peace pattern.

Every person can see, in these brief extracts, a radical difference in principle; and yet the Post only three months ago, urged all Conservatives to keep together in the coming elections, and especially mentioned the Conservative majority in New-York for Gov. Seymour. He had 10,000 majority in the State; but all this majority and 20,000 more, came from N. Y. city; and without the 30,000 peace vote, Gov. Seymour would not have been elected, and Charleston not illuminated.

The progress of the war is rendering old party lines useless. And practically there are only two, viz. those who favor the rebels, and those who oppose them. Their names are of little consequence. But it would not be strange to see the Copperhead run one ticket, and the Post another. U.T.

☞ It would seem to be desirable, when any and every State is liable to invasion, that we should have a militia, not only on paper, as it now exists in the pamphlet laws,—but in reality, something as it was forty years ago, when every man was expected to own a gun, to know how to load and to fire, and to be drilled so as to perform marches and simple evolutions.

To be sure we have the United States enrollment, or as they call it by an outlandish name, Conscription,—on the basis of which the President can call for troops:—but we ought to have besides, our State military, which would include for home defence a large number of persons who are very properly exempted from being mustered into the U. S. Service.

In our our last war with Great Britain, Portsmouth had a regiment of ten companies, well armed for that day. Among them were two companies of Artillery; one the Portsmouth, with 2 brass 4 pounders; the other Sea Fencibles, with 2 brass 9 pounders, bought by the town! There were two Uniformed Infantry companies, and six Ward Companies. That force was 500 man at least. Besides, we had the Company of Engine Exempt, over 100 men, armed with State muskets.

If Pennsylvania, a month ago, had had a State management like this, the rebel army would not have paid her their late unwelcome visit, nor have levied contributions on her towns.

Under existing laws, the Governor of New-Hampshire has power to call out the Militia;—but a militia ready made, is better than an embryo concern.

☞ The Secretary of the Navy has ordered the semi-annual examination of naval apprentices at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. Rear-Admiral Paulding has detailed the following officers to constitute a Board of Examiners: President, Commander Fillebrown; Members, Mr. Dodge, Mr. Cecil, Mr. Dickson, and the Surgeon of the Yard. Boys between the ages of 15 and 18 are eligible for examination. The Board will be in session daily from 10 to 1 o'clock.

—— The ladies of St. Andrew's Church in Claremont, from a Fair held on the 4th, netted about $325.

☞ Isaac Pierce, a hand on board a schooner, fell from the vessel on Monday noon into the Kennebec river, at Augusta, and immediately sunk to the bottom. A boat was lowered and search made for him with a boat hook, which fortunately proved successful. When taken from the water he was entirely insensible, but soon recovered by the aid of the usual restoratives.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to reduce the dose to 1 PILL to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, ILLIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

NOTICE OF THE DRAFT.

PROVOST MARSHAL'S OFFICE,
Portsmouth, N. H., July 11, 1863.

Notice is hereby given that the Draft ordered in the First Congressional District in N. H. will be commenced on Tuesday, July 14th, at ten o'clock, A. M., at the office of the Provost Marshal, corner of Daniel and Penhallow streets.

JOHN S. GODFREY,
Captain and Provost Marshal, 1st Congressional District, for Board of Enrollment.

GOTTSCHALK, THE UNRIVALLED PIANIST.—Our musical and fashionable circles will rejoice to learn that Mr. L. M. Gottschalk, the king of pianists, will visit us again and give his last concert on Saturday evening, July 18. Signor D. deVivo, the agent, is in town making the necessary arrangements for the forthcoming musical event.

MORRIS MINSTRELS.—Among the countless good things in this world, which is by no means half so bad as it is represented, is music; and among the best musicians of their class are Morris Brothers, Pell and Trowbridge. But, then, to say this is only repeating what is well known. Were they not here a few months ago, and have they not been here repeatedly? They will be here again to-night.

☞ There will be a public service in the Court St. Christian Church to morrow evening, commencing at a quarter before eight o'clock. Sermon by the pastor, Rev. I. F. Waterhouse, from John, 18th chap., 36th verse.

☞ In our notice yesterday of the obsequies of the Hon. John Howard March, we should have said that the service was performed by the venerable and Rev. Dr. Burroughs, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Davies. Our report was made up from the memory of a friend—sickness preventing our attendance.

☞ Mr. Cyrus T. Lane, of Candia, sold 200 boxes of strawberries in this city on the 4th of July for $100. On account of the severe drought this fruit has been scarce in the market this year. Mr. Lane is an enterprising horticulturist.

☞ We understand that the town of Newington, at a meeting held last Saturday, voted to pay $300 for each drafted man in that town.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Dr. A. C. Burnham, of Hillsboro' Bridge, has just performed an interesting and critical surgical operation: the case was that of a man whose foot had been crushed by the wheel of a locomotive passing over it. The amputation of the fore part of the foot at the instep, between the tarsal and metatarsal bones, was successfully performed. The complicated nature of the wounds on the heel and ankle, made it extremely difficult to manage them, but by his unremitting care and attention, he has been enabled to save the heel, which will be of great use to the patient.

—— The N. H. Battery was in the fight at Gettysburg, and came out with no loss of life. They went into it Thursday afternoon, July 2d, and fought till 10 at night, and then stood by their guns till 4 next morning, when the battle was renewed and kept up till 11 1-2, when it ceased for half an hour. Then the rebels opened the whole length of their line with 162 pieces of cannon. The battery had 3 men wounded. The cannonading was kept up until 4 o'clock, P. M., when the rebels made a charge. Our battery opened on one brigade of four regiments and cut them to pieces so badly that they were obliged to surrender with five stands of colors and battle flag. They stood by their guns all the next night, and on the morning of the 4th were relieved by another battery. The battery did nobly and was praised by Gens. Howard and Tyler. They stood their ground while another battery limbered up their guns and run.

—— While celebrating the fall of Vicksburg, in Claremont on Tuesday, a boy, Edwin Johnson, was blown from the mouth of a cannon, having excitedly thrust in a cartridge before the gun was swabbed out. He was hurled some distance, the skin of his face and neck filled with powder, his hair and eyebrows singed off, and his hands dreadfully mutilated. Under the influence of chloroform the right arm was amputated at the wrist, and the thumb, forefinger and little finger of the left hand.

—— The resolutions passed at the Merrimack County Conference, while they express a sincere personal regard for President Lord, of Dartmouth College, declare it to be "the duty of the Trustees of the College seriously to inquire whether its interests do not demand a change in its Presidency, and to act according to their judgment in the premises."

—— On Wednesday evening, at the Phenix Hotel, Concord, a presentation of silver service was made to Senator Smith of Manchester. It was contributed by his friends in the House and Senate. It consisted of some ten pieces, the common service with the addition of gobblets and ice pitcher.

☞ Thirty-one new rebel flags, captured at Gettysburg, have been received in Washington and deposited in the War Department. Most of them are much torn by balls, and many are very bloody. One of them is a silk flag, with the device of a rising sun upon it. They were taken mostly from Virginia and North Carolina regiments.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

From our Regular Correspondent.

NEW YORK, July 8.

The "day we celebrate" (the Fourth) could hardly be considered especially designed for the occasion, although it was as cloudy as the times. The military display was very meagre, owing to the absence of many of the regiments at the seat of war—and the chief commemoration was by the fireworks and small arms. There were during the day twelve fires against twenty-one last year. Thirteen persons were shot, four additional were burnt by the discharge of powder, and three besides killed—one by a pistol ball, and two by falling from windows. There were displays of fireworks at many private dwellings, and at all the principal parks.

At the City Hall the scenic pieces were quite extensive,—the closing one representing the great naval conflict in Hampton Roads between the Monitor and Merrimac, being thirty by fifty feet. The piece was worked by manufacturer Edge, and assistants.

When first lighted, Fortress Monroe, with the starry banner waving at the staff-top, and the United States frigates at anchor, alone were seen in the darkness; then the Merrimac shone forth, in her approach from one side, and as the fire spread the Monitor made her appearance at the other. By the mechanical arrangement the vessels were made to collide, then recede from each other for a repetition of the attack, with a discharge of broadsides and all natural commotion. During the combustion the Cumberland disappears, followed by the Merrimack, and then the whole piece ends in smoke. The delineation lasted nearly ten minutes, and was the very summit of pyrotechnical excellence.

The whole city was gaily decked in flags, all the public buildings, banks and insurance offices, and a majority of the private dwellings displaying one or more of some shape or proportion,—while the heavy boom of the cannons, and the merry peals of the bells greeted the sun at its rising, setting and meridian.

The Metropolitan Hotel is to be refitted at an expense of $25,000.

One hundred guns are being fired in honor of the capture of Vicksburg. The news is received here with satisfaction by all parties.

On a friend's centre table I noticed last evening a copy of Head's "Jewels from the Quarry of the Mind." A recurrence to its pages reminded me of the omission of an intended mention of it at the time of its publication. The volume is so deserving that an allusion to its merits even at the late day may not be inappropriate. Breathing the poesy which sparkles in such selections as Hiawatha, Maud Muller, Goldsmith's Deserted Village, and The Baby, or which floats more subdued in the presence of Laighton's Found Dead, Gray's Elegy, Over the River, Angel of the Rain, and In Reverie, with contributions by Fields, Shillaber, Burns, Byron, Holmes, and Alice Cary, one can but feel that they are indeed "chimes that ring out sweet melodies, and find an echo in the chambers of the soul." I can only add the suggestion that could the compiler have found room in the setting of these pearls for Laighton's Beauty, Aldrich's Piscataqua River, and a few other gems, the effect would have been to beautify the whole collection, and render the volume, if possible, still more attractive.

I am informed that the book meets with a ready sale with all our first class publishing houses, and is eagerly sought after by all who can appreciate "a good thing when they see it."

NEWINGTON.

☞ Politicians are strange fellows. We have been considerably amused at the savage way in which the editor of the Ballot berates Concord managers for dividing up the State offices among themselves. Considering that the Ballot is published in Exeter, it seems that this is like "Satan rebuking Sin." There is probably no town in the State that, in proportion to its size, its importance, or the talents of its people, appropriates to itself so many paying offices as does Exeter. For years the now vacant office of Attorney General has been held by one of her citizens. When the Democrats have not had the member of Congress from this District, Exeter has had the member two-thirds of the time. She has now the Naval Office of Boston, with its Deputy and Clerks, worth more than the entire amount of the patronage which Concord enjoys!

One of her mail route agents runs thro' Portsmouth every day. She has the U. S. Collector of Internal Revenue of this District, and Deputy; an U. S. Assessor, a Master Mason at the Navy Yard, and a whole batch of small appointees.

Her regard for the County of Rockingham appears in the self-sacrificing manner in which she yields up her best men to the service of the county! She gives us the Judge of Probate, the Register of Probate, the Clerk of the Courts, and County Solicitor; and has just lost the office of Register of Deeds; made up, however, in the appointment of Pension Agent for this city. To be sure, she has no Judge of the Supreme Court, but is to have, as soon as one of her lawyers can convince the State Administration that he ought to be appointed.

On the whole, Exeter is just the place to lecture Concord upon selfishness in office-taking, and we trust the Capitol City will allow that she is handsomely rebuked by our amiable cotemporary.

From the Journal

A RACE AND THIEF CAUGHT.—Last Friday evening, after the hard-working Representative from Ward One, our Ex-Mayor Horton D. Walker, had completed his week's work in the Legislature, and had comfortably seated himself in the cars for a return to Portsmouth and a few days' rest, he was suddenly and unexpectedly called upon to perform a physical feat which well nigh eclipses the honors he has achieved in successfully combatting the opposition to the Dover Railroad, and in pressing forward other measures for the good of the State.

A lady near him announced with a scream that her purse was stolen; and the thief, finding himself discovered, at once commenced a stampede through the cars, crying "Stop thief! Stop thief!" like any good Christian.

As it was pretty evident who was the "Thief," the Representative from Ward One fell into the line of the chivalric pick-pocket and at once commenced a stern chase, such as he had not undertaken since, two scores of years ago, he used to race down the boys at Hinsdale—down the car, out on the platform, up the street, leading away ahead of the crowd, thrusting aside, perhaps rather summarily, a gaping spectator who occupied the car steps as soon as the thief passed. He came up with the rascal at the end of twenty rods and collared him. The rogue was strong, but excited nerve and indomitable will were stronger, and his efforts to escape were fruitless; the crowd coming up he was speedily placed in the lockup by the police. The portmonnaie was found in the cars where the man has thrown it down when he began his flight. The lady was from Manchester.

Mr. W. always runs well on election days, for whatever office his friends put him up—for he never seeks any office—but this was probably one of his hardest efforts to run down an opponent.

DRY SEASON.—From the 25th day of April to the present time, July 8, about eleven weeks, only about three inches of rain have fallen—and in the last eight weeks, since May 14th, not quite one inch has fallen. The average of the year is about 8 1-2 inches per month.

On the 7th of May about an inch fell; on the 14th of May another inch of rain fell; on the 12th of June half an inch; all other falls of rain put together would not exceed half an inch. Notwithstanding this lack of rain, the foliage is fresh, fruit is growing well, and the ground does not appear parched. Haying has come on earlier than usual—the hay is good, but the crop is generally not more than two-thirds the average.

P. S.—Since writing the above, we had a refreshing shower of rain on the 9th, amounting to nearly an inch.

Mr. Brewster:—The Ladies of Portsmouth were astonished and indignant to learn that a small clique of Southern sympathizers had assumed to represent them, and to declare to the world that they were in favor of sentiments which they utterly repudiate. The Ladies of Portsmouth go for no compromise with traitors, for no peace which is not founded on the eternal laws of right, for no union which requires the cession of everything which gives that union any value.

The Ladies of Portsmouth, as a body, are ready and willing to give their money, their time, and their labor to help the cause of truth and liberty, or to succor those who are helping the same cause with their blood; but they are not disposed to make heroes and martyrs of foul-tongued traitors, like him whose portrait was emblazoned on the banner falsely displayed in their name.

A LADY OF PORTSMOUTH.

CARVED WORK.—A new ship of 1000 tons burden, building by Messrs. Toby & Littlefield, is to be launched about the first of August. The figure head and stern piece by Mr. Woodbury Gerrish, are very handsome specimens of carved work. The design of the former is an alligator, and needs only life to make it real. Mr. Gerrish has taken the stand formerly occupied by Mr. Joseph Henderson on Bow street. He has already an established reputation as a carver, and will give satisfaction to those at home or abroad who may call upon him, in this or any other department of his business.

RELEASED FROM THE DRAFT.—Under the Conscription Law persons drafted will be notified of the same within ten days. A person not exempt drafted in the first class may show that he should be enrolled in the second, and thus be released by the Board or Courts on habeas corpus. He may furnish within ten days an acceptable substitute. He may pay $300, or he may show physical or mental disability. Not being entitled to release under either of these provisions, the drafted man must report himself at the time notified to him for military duty. Failing in this, he is to be deemed a deserter, and may be arrested by the Provost Marshal and sent to the nearest military post for trial by court martial.—Traveller.

[A conscript who pays $300 will undoubtedly be clear from the present draft, but would be liable upon a second distinct call from the President. The second class liable to draft will not be called upon until the first class is entirely exhausted.]

Beyond his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of groin, loins, and kidneys, Seminal Weakness, Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as healthy as ever, and free from all taint of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes his great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate victim for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, symptoms of Consumption, &c. The mental effects are those which are to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

EYE, N. H., Feb. 25, 1858. "I hereby certify that my wife had been in the last sickness for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her lands very much. She found no relief until she tried the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some from your agent, Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintance, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give me any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CRESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify my to feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our houses in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health, is able to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CRESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may20o

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE,

The subscribers, having received their Fall Stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible has a much lighter than the air, passes off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, using the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Rice, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is required, we can by building up the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. Where a full set with gums is better, even in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,

No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,

Has had four years of practical experience in making this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

Portsmouth, Jan. 1, 1863.

DENTISTRY.

No. 60 CONGRESS STREET, Portsmouth, Jan. 1st, 1863.

DR. GOODALL,

Would respectfully inform his patrons and the public, that he has of late many calls to insert teeth upon VULCANIZED RUBBER, that he has purchased the best VULCANIZER in the market, and is now prepared to do all work upon RUBBER, or the other bases of GOLD and SILVER as formerly.

The Rubber has several important advantages, viz.: It is very light and elastic, and consequently is perfectly easy to the muscles of the mouth and cheeks. There are no fastenings or open joints to collect food, &c., consequently they can be worn night and day, and are very easily kept neat and clean.

Beside all this, the most accurate fit is obtained, as the Rubber is Vulcanized directly upon the plaster model, and the suction is of course much stronger than in plates of Gold or Silver.

Any one who is waiting for their permanent teeth will, I am confident, be perfectly satisfied with the Rubber, as a base. The expense is but a little more than for Silver, and you get the same teeth (in blocks) that you would pay $60.00 for an upper or lower set on Gold.

In New York and Boston, and throughout the West, Vulcanized Rubber is used almost to the exclusion of the other bases, and by the best Dentists. I will warrant a perfect fit, and teeth from the best manufacturer in the country, S. S. White.

ALL OTHER OPERATIONS IN DENTISTRY I will do at the usual rates. I will here mention that my price for EXTRACTION is 25 cents.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TEAGUE, Dr. DOWNES, Dr. BOYNTON and Dr. BENNETT, for particular success in extracting Teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

☞ Please call and examine specimens of Artificial Teeth upon Vulcanized Rubber, Gold and Silver.

And from Sores and Wounds of the most serious nature down to a common Pimple. It eradicates Pimples from the face, and beautifies the skin. There is no preparation before the public that can equal this Salve in prompt and energetic action for the speedy cure of external diseases, as those who have tried its virtues testify. Soldiers, Sailors, and Fishermen, will find this Salve their best friend.

It has none of the irritating, heating properties of other remedies, but cools, cleanses, and heals the most serious Sores and Wounds. Every family, and especially those containing children, should keep a box on hand in case of accident, for it will save them much trouble, suffering, and money. All it wants is a fair trial to cure old and inveterate Sores.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all:
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

☞ When Mr. Conway, in London, proposed to Mr. Mason, of Virginia, that the Confederacy should abolish slavery, and suggested that Northern abolitionists would agree to a separation on that ground, Mr. Mason asked for his credentials; and it is said Mr. Conway promised to send for them. Some paper, we think the Traveller, imagined he might get such documents from Messrs. Phillips and Garrison, and from the N. Y. Tribune.

But it is not so. Conway appears to have thrown out a feeler; and Mason treated it seriously, giving a virtual answer.—Garrison, Phillips, and the abolition convention disprove the whole thing; and the Tribune laughs at the plan, calls it Conway's folly, and says:—

Surrender slavery to save the Confederacy? Why, the Confederacy is slavery and slavery is the Confederacy. Were the Confederacy recognized and Peace fully established on that basis to-morrow, with slavery abolished, there would be no Confederacy five years hence—hardly a remaining trace of it. The law of gravitation is not stronger than that by which the States composing our Union are mutually attracted: slavery is the sole repelling, centrifugal, disintegrating force in our system.

Individuals might possibly be willing to save the Confederacy by abolishing Slavery; but they might just as well cut off a man's head to cure his ear-ache. The rebels, being rebels, are not to blame for clinging to slavery; they must for their own safety's sake, cease to be rebels whenever they give it up.

☞ Several years ago the Sheriff of a frontier county was also the proprietor of a tippling shop, at which, during one of the sessions of the Court for the county, it was observed that several members of the Grand Jury were good customers. Afterwards the Sheriff was prosecuted for selling liquor contrary to law, and one of the jurors aforesaid was called to testify to the fact of his having, during the session of the Court, purchased liquor of the defendant; but he declined answering questions put to him, on the ground that he had taken an oath to keep the secrets of the grand jury!

☞ The first two of six new Revenue cutters have just been launched at Williamsburg. They are: Length, 130 feet; beam 26 1-2 feet; depth of hold, 11 feet. Their armament will comprise for each vessel, one 30-pound Parrott rifle, one pivot forward; four 24-pound guns in broadside, and a pivot gun aft, probably a 24-pounder. They will be rigged as topsail schooners, and are to have double vertical or oscillating engines.

MONDAY, JULY 13, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

Morgan captured Salem, Ind., on Friday morning, burned the depot, and took 500 prisoners. He is moving eastward, to strike the Indianapolis and Louisville R. R. at Vienna. Our forces are in pursuit.

Gen. Rosecrans' army retains its position on the line of the Elk river. The campaign is virtually ended. The army of the Cumberland now hold Winchester and Shelbyville.

Gen. Dix and staff arrived at Fortress Monroe on Thursday evening, and report that the expedition has been a perfect success. They have effectually destroyed all communication between Richmond and Lee's army. Our troops have evacuated White House, in conformity with orders from Washington.

Gov. Shepley has called for a brigade of Louisiana volunteers, for 60 days, for special defence of New Orleans. Gov. Shepley will take command himself.

New Orleans letters report the capture by rebel cavalry of Gen. Neal Dow, at a farm house back of Baton Rouge, where he was convalescing from a wound. It was generally believed at New Orleans that an assault would be made on Port Hudson on the 4th. Gen. Banks had reviewed the storming party and addressed them in fitting terms.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

——Of New Hampshire Paymasters, Maj. Geo. Marston has been ordered to San Francisco, and Maj. Simeon B. Marston to some department in the West. Maj. Farnsworth was recently in Manchester, preparing to go to New-Orleans, to which city he has been ordered. Maj. Folsom has charge of all paymentsin the Department of North-Carolina; Maj. Hazeltine pays in the army under Rosecrans; Maj. McFarland in the army of the Potomac. Maj. Woodman has resigned. Maj. Hoyt has recently returned from New-Orleans.

——The Littleton Journal states that on Friday afternoon, July 3d, a very severe thunder shower visited Littleton and vicinity, damaging the roads so much as to render them in many places impassible for loaded teams. Considerable injury was done to crops. The Palmer brook was so much swollen that it swept out one-half of a dam, leaving not a vestige for some rods of the massive stones of which it was built, many of the largest of them being carried twenty or thirty rods. It also carried away a causeway built of large logs below the dam—a small shop, with all the machinery and tools, and a shed—depositing a large share of the logs and rubbish in a field fifteen or twenty rods easterly from the brook, and at right angles with it. During the shower the lightning struck in a field, tearing up the earth and stones in different directions a distance of nearly 60 rods.

—— The Second, Fifth and Twelfth N. H. Regiments are in the Army of the Potomac, and were all engaged in the recent terrific battle at Gettysburg. The Third, Fourth and Seventh are in the Department of South Carolina. The Eighth, Fifteenth, and Sixteenth are with Gen. Banks. The Sixth, Ninth and Eleventh are in Grant's army. The Fourteenth is in the Department of Washington, under Gen. Heintzleman. The Tenth and Thirteenth are under Gen. Peck.

—— In the battle at Gettysburg, Corp. W. C. Beard, of Co. F, N. H. Sharpshooters, was killed, and J. H. Moody and D. W. Buckingham, wounded. In Co. G, Corp. Kent and private White were killed, and John Bailey wounded.

—— A serious conflagration occurred in East Concord, on Friday night, destroying the extensive tannery of Cyrus Farrar. A large amount of leather, bark and other materials were destroyed. Loss $15,000. Insured for $9000. Soon after a fire broke out in the city stable, which was also destroyed.

—— Gen. Hinks arrived at Concord on Friday evening. He was serenaded the same evening, and made an eloquent and patriotic speech. He will enter at once upon his duties in connection with the conscription in this State.

—— Col. A. B. Jones, who raised the First Company of Sharpshooters in this State, is now on the staff of Gen. Schenck in Baltimore.

—— Col Bailey of the Second, went through the fight safely. He was slightly injured by the fragment of shell but in no way disabled.

—— The Statesman says it is understood that William C. Clarke, Esq., of Manchester, is to be Attorney-General.

☞ A new and elegant Congregational church in Saco, was dedicated Wednesday, July 8th, it being the anniversary of the destruction of the former church by fire, July 8, 1860.

☞ A lad, 13 years of age, committed suicide in Hingham, Mass., by hanging himself, on Thursday.

VICKSBURG.—The captures at Vicksburg are reported to be over 20,000 prisoners, besides about 4000 non-combatants, 122 field pieces, 30 siege guns, 50,000 stand of arms, ammunition, locomotives, cars, a few stores and 57 stand of colors. Among the prisoners are Lieut. Gen. Pemberton, Maj. Gens. Stevenson, Smith, Forney and Bowen, 14 Brigadier Generals and about 130 Colonels. There are 5600 in the hospital, half of whom are wounded. Only 150 of the garrison are reported fit for service. The stock of provisions was almost exhausted, and for four days a number had been eating nothing but mules' flesh. They had a fair supply of ammunition for heavy guns, but for field guns and musketry they were nearly out. Eight caps to a man were allowed. They had an excess of sugar, molasses and rice, and a little unground corn. Vicksburg is much damaged by shell. Hardly a house escaped. Pemberton denies the authorship of the speech attributed to him about holding out till the last day's ration was eaten.

THE CAPTURE OF BRASHEAR CITY.—The capture of Brashear City by the rebels proves to have been an unfortunate affair, as a vast amount of ammunition, sutlers' stores, medical supplies and thirty pieces of artillery fell into their hands. The officers in Gen. Banks' army at Port Hudson had left their baggage at Brashear City, and this was also captured, together with an enormous quantity of flour, sugar, beef, pork and other commissary stores. The Ironsides Regiment from New York was taken almost entire. Our forces were surprised, and it is said in a manner not at all creditable to the commanding officer. A great contraband camp at Brashear City contained at the time of the surprise a large number of negroes, old and young, and the infuriated Texans dashed among them, slaughtering them without mercy.

THE BEAUTIES OF SECESSION. — A Vicksburg letter says that a man living near Snyder's Bluff, who was lately the owner of seven large plantations, and estimated to be worth six millions of dollars before the war broke out, and who lavishly used his princely fortune in the cause of secession, recently applied by letter to Gen. Washburne for subsistence for himself and family. Secession and starvation are nearly synonymous terms. The downfall from opulence to beggary is a heavy but deserved penalty for secession.

☞ N. Y. Herald's Washington correspondent says that the question of peace is already being considered in cabinet circles, growing out of a proposition by Seward for a proclamation by the President, offering amnesty to the people of the South, suspending the liabilities of the Confiscation Act and offering pardon and protection to the people of the South except the military and civil leaders in the rebellion. Even these, Mr. Seward suggests, should be allowed their property, but not be eligible to office under the Government.

☞ Dr. Mackay, the New York correspondent of the London Times, describes our talking wonder, Miss Dickinson, as a "spinster of twenty-five, from the city of Philadelphia, fresh, fair and blooming, with an amazing volubility and power of vituperation, somewhat improved by the nasal twang and the Yankee mispronunciations."

☞ A pair of communion cups, formed of the feet of two altar candlesticks, belonging to the ancient church of Kilallan, those which John Knox used in dispensing the first sacrament of the "new faith," are still in existence, and in possession of the house of Glencairn, patrons of the church, and the first recipients of the sacramental cup from Knox's hands as Protestants.

☞ The N. Y. World says the converted iron-clad steam frigate Roanoke, has proved a failure as a sea going vessel. She obeyed her helm well, and made good time, eight knots an hour, but rolled heavily and proved so shaky in this particular that the pilot refused to take her to sea. She will remain as a guard to New York harbor.

☞ The Portland Argus states that the person in Maine who is reported to have recently forged paper to the extent of some $12,000, is Chas. F. Jordan, of Poland, State Senator from Androscoggin county. He is under arrest. Last winter he drove a span of fine horses at Augusta and flourished pretty extensively—it would seem on capital not his own.

"Who goes there?" said an Irish sentry of the British Legion at Saint Sebastian. "A friend," was the reply. "Then stand where you are, for by the powers you're the first I've met with in this murtherin country."

☞ Maj. C. E. Blunt U. S. A., was in Gloucester on Tuesday last, for the purpose of selecting suitable sites for fortifications. The work is to be commenced immediately.

"By doing good with his money," says Rutledge, "a man, as it were, stamps the image of God upon it, and makes it pass current for the merchandize of heaven."

A Western editor was lately shot in an affray. Luckily the ball came against a bundle of unpaid accounts in his pocket. Gunpowder couldn't get through that.

☞ The Manchester Mirror gives a list of the killed, wounded and missing in the 2d N. H. Regiment, in the late fight at Gettysburg, sent by Sergt. Major A. S. Wiggin, who said it was as correct a list as could be obtained at the time. The list contains the names of 10 killed, 102 wounded and 45 missing. From it we extract the following:—

Col. Edward L. Bailey, slightly wounded, Maj. Sam'l Sayles, in leg badly.

Co. A—Lt. L. N. Convers, arm amputated.

Co. B—Capt. Joseph A. Hubbard, killed. Lt. Ballard, severely wounded.

Co. C—Lt. G. W. Roberts, severely wounded and left on the field; 2d Lt. F. C. Wasley, wound in hand.

Co. D—Capt. Albert M. Perkins, wounded in arm.

Co. E—1st Lt. Jacob Hall, severely.

Co. F—Capt. Henry F. Metcalf, killed; 1st Lt. Hugh R. Richardson, severely.

Co. H—Capt. J. W. Patterson, wounded slightly.

Co. I—Capt. George Gordon, severely wounded; 2d Lt. Chas. Vickery, severely wounded.

Co. K—Capt. Geo. Sides, wounded in hand; 2d Lt. Chas. W. Patch, mortally; Corp'l Wm. Mix, slightly; Corp'l W. S. King, missing; Privates Geo. A. Alton, slightly; Richard Turner, severely; Daniel Nelligan, John F. Dearborn, Joseph D. West, Corp'l James T. Gammon, all missing.—These are all that are reported in this company

Hon. F. Smyth, of Manchester, who went out to look after the wounded of the regiment, telegraphs that 165 members were killed or wounded, and 35 are missing. He requests that hospital stores, &c., be sent him for the use of the regiment. More medical aid is to be sent on immediately.

THE N. H. LEGISLATURE adjourned sine die on Friday afternoon. The majority report of the committee on national affairs was adopted, with the addition of a resolution affirming the importance of the freedom of speech and of the press, and the necessity of preserving the purity of the ballot box. The long-expected debate upon national affairs did not come off.

The Adj. General was allowed $700 in addition to his regular salary.

Selectmen were directed to insert in the warrants for the next annual election, articles to take the sense of the people as to the expediency of calling a Convention for so amending the State Constitution as to allow soldiers to vote at their respective posts.

A series of resolutions were unanimously adopted, commemorative of the patriotic services of the lamented Cols. Gove and Cross, Lieut. Col. Lull, Majs. Sturtevant and Sayles, and the long list of line officers and privates who have died in defence of the flag.

It is reported that an act was passed authorizing cities and towns to give drafted men, within 10 days after being mustered into the U. S. service, a sum not exceeding $300.

☞ Suwarrow, even in peace, slept fully armed, boots and all. "When I was lazy," he said, "and wanted to enjoy a comfortable sleep, I usually took off one spur."

Suwarrow was particular about his boots, and had them made, as nearly all boots are made now, with a seam on each side. Fifty years ago these boots came into fashion; and our bootmakers used to advertise "Backstrap and Suwarrow Boots." Previous to that time, most boots had one seam only, on the back side.

☞ The North American Review, No. CC, for July, 1863, opens with an article on Jean Paul, and his Titan.

Next is an essay on Peerages and Genealogies, containing much curious historical and personal information. The other articles are an instructive paper on the chronology, topography, and archæology of the life of Christ; Liberia College, holding up the prospects of Liberia and its college in a hopeful light; a biographical sketch of Samuel Kirkland, the missionary to the Oneida Indians, and father of President Kirkland; Leigh Hunt; a good sketch of Acamania, founded upon a recent French work; an interesting history of the American Tract Society, Boston; a review of Mr. May's excellent work on the recent Constitutional history of England; and Story's "Roba di Roma." Several critical notices conclude the number, which, in variety of subjects, and general ability of treatment, well sustains the long established reputation of this excellent journal.

☞ It is estimated that 150,000 cannon are on an average fired uselessly every four-and-twenty hours, in salvos, salutes, morning and evening guns, etc., throughout the civilized world; each discharge costs $120, consequently $180,000 are daily wasted in this way, and $60,000,000 annually, which goes away in smoke, but is raised in substantial taxes.

☞ A great diminution of the rancor of the Norfolk rebels, and diminished enthusiasm for their own cause, has been noticeable recently. So many of them have lost relations and been utterly impoverished by the loss of slaves and the depreciation of their currency, that they feel subdued thro' suffering.

Provost Marshal's Office,
1ST NEW - HAMPSHIRE DISTRICT,

Local.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, on Friday, the line between Newington and Portsmouth, near the new road, was ordered to be surveyed under the direction of the committee on streets.

The petition of L. M. Laighton and 67 others, was received, asking that a public meeting be called "at as early a day as possible, to get the expression of the minds of the citizens in regard to the payment by the City of $300 for such men as may be drafted under the Conscription act, in lieu of sending such citizens into the service of the United States."

A resolution requesting the Mayor to call such a meeting was laid upon the table by a strict party vote.

Resolutions expressive of their deepsense of the loss which the Board has sustained in the recent death of Alderman Nichols, were passed, after appropriate remarks by Ald. Rider, and, with the remarks, ordered to be printed.

THE DRAFT.—The preliminary arrangements for the draft are being actively made and to-morrow, it is anticipated, everything will be in readiness for accomplishing the work "with neatness and dispatch." The fortunate individuals who are "elected," will be duly notified, and will hold themselves in readiness to repair in ten days to Concord, where their expenses for board and clothing will be defrayed by their generous Uncle Sam,—the officers of the government having been directed to "find" those whom the turn of the wheel of fortune designates as the patres conscripti.—It is not yet definitely settled whether the draft will be made from the entire district at once, or by the several sub-districts. In the latter case Wards 1 and 2 will be drawn for together; and Ward 3 and Newcastle. We shall publish in the Chronicle a daily report of the names drawn until the draft is completed.

☞ Capt. Edward F. Rowell, 2d Company of Sharpshooters, who was wounded at Gettysburg, has arrived at his home in Concord, and reports that Lieut. H. L. Richards, of Co. F, was among the killed in that terrible battle. It was feared that this must be Mr. Henry L. Richards, of this city; but as it is not known that he ever consented to accept a commission, although one had been offered him,—and as there is another person of the same name in the same company, it is hoped that it is not he. Actuated by motives of the most lofty and unselfish patriotism, Mr. Richards volunteered as a private in defence of the flag, and has nobly done his part in the position in which he has been placed. Should any accident befall him, it would be deeply regretted by our entire community.

Letters from New Orleans, received in this city on Saturday evening, bring intelligence of the recent death, in hospital above that city, of Lieut. Samuel Cushman Haven, of the 162d New York regiment. He died of fever contracted in the recent severe campaign in that Department. He was son of the late Henderson Haven, of this city; graduated with high honors at Harvard University in the class of 1862; and was a young man of unusually good talents, with high prospects of future success in literary pursuits, having just been tendered a position of honor and responsibility at his Alma Mater.

☞ The Annual Exhibition of the Boys' High School will take place at the School-House on Tuesday, July 14th. We learn that the Haven medals are to be presented for the first time at this Examination. Admission is to be only by tickets, until 2:20 o'clock, after which time the doors will be open to all who can get in.

Free Tickets can be obtained from the Teachers. Children will not be admitted either with or without Tickets.

☞ A U. S. steamer arrived at the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Sunday, with a large number of Contrabands from Fortress Monroe. It is said they are to garrison Fort Sullivan.

☞ The invitation to "come in out of the draft," which has been extended by the occupants of a recruiting tent on Market Square, has been accepted by ten young men, who volunteered on Friday and Saturday. They are for the garrison at Fort Constitution.

☞We are cherri-ly in receipt of two donations of white-hearts—one, from some young ladies, after whose cheeks the cherries have attempted to copy the blended tint on their own, but who shall here be as nameless, as their attractions are numberless;—and the other from our old friend Geo. E. Brackett, Esq., of Greenland, who from a tree he planted in 1849, this year gathers half-a-dozen bushels. We wish all who plant fruit trees, a liberal crop—for they are benefactors of their race. Among ours from Mr. B., is a little twig-cluster of fifty or more, very handsome.

☞ A Frederick, Md., dispatch states that the rebel Gen. Jenkins was captured Friday. He was wounded in the head by a piece of shell.

☞ The P. S. & P. Railroad Co. have set the Depot back five feet at Biddeford, and extended a covered platform to the Warehouse. Workmen are now finishing the depot into two rooms. They have finished covering the long bridge across the Saco River.

☞ At the recent commencement of Rochester University, New York, the honorary degree o Doctor of Laws was conferred upon Rev. A. P. Peabody, D. D., of Cambridge, Mass.

☞ An apothecary in Charlestown, Mass., was so severely injured by the explosion of a soda fountain which he was charging, that amputation had to be performed upon one of his legs.

☞ The draft is progressing in all the New England States, Pennsylvania and New York, as the enrolment is completed in each of the various districts. The entire number to be called out in all the States has not been designated.

☞ A valuable but aged dog in San Francisco has been provided with a new set of artificial teeth.

☞ Gen. Sigel on Friday was organizing troops at Reading, Pa.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. ly.

SCHOOLEY'S NEW IMPROVED

ICEBERG REFRIGERATORS.

This upright REFRIGERATOR combines every improvement. It is the most perfect article of the kind in the market, requiring less ice than any other, keeping its contents sweet and free from any unpleasant odor.

Daniel T. Curtis, fruit dealer, Boston, says of it, "I have preserved grapes and pears, peaches, and an extensive variety of plums and berries for five or six weeks in Schooley's Refrigerator."

Oren Peck, Boylston Market, Boston, says, "I find, on careful trial, that it will keep meats perfectly fresh and dry for ten or twelve days."

John Hunt, Butter dealer, Cincinnati, says, "I can keep butter sweet and fresh any length of time in reason, say six weeks."

C. E. Carpenter, Ice Dealer, Providence, says, "I have kept a cup of custard in one of Schooley's Refrigerators during the warm weather one week, when I ate it and found it perfectly good."

Thousands of similar testimonials can be shown in its favor.

SCHOOLEY'S ICE KING REFRIGERATOR. (Patented Jan. 6, 1863.) We present the ICE KING to our customers as the "ne plus ultra" of cheap Refrigerators, combining in its operation all of the great improvements necessary for complete ventilation. In the introduction of Patent Refrigerators to the public, the cost of construction has been necessarily so great as to prevent their sale to the "million." The consequence has been that those who could not afford to purchase a Patent ventilated Refrigerator, were compelled to procure one of the old style, or go without.

We are now happy to state that, by the introduction of our new patent ICE KING, we can offer to the million a complete ventilated Refrigerator, well made, and finished with zinc, at cheaper prices than ever before sold.

The various sizes of the above are for sale by the subscriber—also, ICE PITCHERS, ICE AWLS, &c.

BILLIARDS.—A Detroit paper tells a good story at the expense of a Canadian billiard player who was unlucky enough to be the "champion of the one" in his vicinity. Fully appreciating his own abilities he went to Detroit to try his hand with Seersher. On "banking" for the first shot Seersher won, took his cue, counted and encouraged to count until the game was finished, the astonished Canadian looking on with mingled admiration and wonder. At the conclusion of the game the foreign gentleman was about leaving the room, crestfallen, and the conceit entirely taken out of him, when the boy who sends the tables politely informed him that he had a small account to settle for the game just played.

The fellow was taken somewhat by surprise, but soon collected his scattered senses, and with the remark that he hadn't played any billiards, and consequently wouldn't pay, left the room amid the uproarious laughter of those present.

THE COMMANDERS OF OUR FORCES—a new and very interesting game of Cards, put up in a neat box. Price 25 cts. For sale by jy8 JOSEPH H. FOSTER.

The peculiar taint or infection which we call SCROFULA lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, 9 known by all who have given it a trial. Tha it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil, or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By this and you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood, purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL,

The World's Great Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

This has been so long used and so universally known, that we need do no more than assure the public that its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do all it has ever done.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his Office, No. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unimpeachable character, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND GLEETS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Chronic Weakness of the urinary regions of generation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, Rightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible ills, often attendant thereon, which ultimately shall become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of these cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by this habit of youth, are Weakness of the back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Eruptions on the face, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating marriage, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Depotic, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily on all diseases incident to it, viz. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other painful derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Dodow's few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to the practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B. Letters for advice must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow consults daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his extensive practice and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the medical world than Dr. Dow. Dr. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

BOSTON, April 7, 1862. eodly

ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!

EYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1845. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her from walking across the floor. She has taken very much. A large sum has been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrups, &c., but to no purpose. Hearing of your medicine, I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Salve, which effected a perfect cure. There was no mistake, as the cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with diseases at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. JOHN P. HOLLAND.

From ELDER J. CURSLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named. ISRAEL CURSLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. my2 eodlyw

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior boiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who have been using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise

"MAGEE'S PATENT" VENTILATING & AIR WARMING FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would invite those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, it is thought to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objection stated by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe and chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some promising but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible matter, the moisture in the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of fresh air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of heat, and slightly warming the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in stock the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DENTISTRY.

NO. 60 CONGRESS STREET.
Portsmouth, Jan. 1st, 1863.

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully inform his patrons and the public, that having had a number calls to insert teeth upon VULCANIZED RUBBER, that he has purchased the best VULCANIZER in the market, and is now prepared to do all work upon RUBBER, or the other bases of GOLD and SILVER as formerly, if preferred.

The Rubber has several important advantages, viz: it is very light and easy to the mouth; consequently it is perfectly easy to the muscles of the mouth and cheeks. There are no insertions or open joints to collect food, &c.; consequently they can be worn night and day, and are very easily kept neat and clean.

Beside all this, the most accurate fit is obtained, as the Rubber is Vulcanized directly upon the plaster model, and the suction is of course much stronger than in plates of Gold or Silver.

Any one who is waiting for their permanent teeth will, I am confident, be perfectly satisfied with the Rubber, as a base. The expense is but a little more than for Silver, and you get the same teeth (in blocks) that you would pay $60.00 for an upper or lower set on Gold.

In New York and Boston, and throughout the West, Vulcanized Rubber is used almost to the exclusion of the other bases, and by the best Dentists too I will warrant a perfect fit and teeth from the best manufacturer in the country, S. S. White.

ALL OTHER OPERATIONS IN DENTISTRY I will do at the usual rates. I will here mention that my price for EXTRACTING is 25 cents.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TREADWELL, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr OLIVER and Dr BENNETT, for particular success in extracting Teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though everyism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

DAVIS AND PIERCE.—Franklin Pierce's recent speech at Concord is well calculated to recall what Jeff. Davis said in a speech in Mississippi, after his return from a northern trip in 1859. It was as follows:—

"I am happy to state that during the past summer I heard in many places, what previously I had only heard from the late President Pierce, the declaration that whenever a Northern army should be assembled to march for the subjugation of the South, they would have a battle to fight at home before leaving the limits of their own State, and one in which our friends claim that the victory will be at least doubtful!"

It seems rather late now for Mr. Pierce to carry out his programme of civil war at the North. But as he now lies wholly on moral suasion and a "mausoleum of hearts," we presume he has given up the idea of fighting the soldiers of the Union "before leaving the limits of their own State." But there are different ways of attaining the same end, and perhaps the inculcation of the idea that the North is wholly to blame for the war, that our fighting has been "without any compensation," and that "peaceful agencies alone" can settle the contest, may be regarded as more effectual at the present moment than open resistance. Doubtless Jeff. Davis would say so.—Boston Journal.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continued to the Patent Office in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and honorable practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JULY 14, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

There was fighting near Sharpsburg on Friday, the engagement being brought on by Gen. Kilpatrick, who, finding the rebels on Thursday too strong, waited for infantry. The rebels fought steadily at first, but wildly at last, as if their ammunition was expended. Our cavalry and artillery destroyed the pontoon bridge, to the consternation of the rebels, as they were about to cross. There have been several slight skirmishes on Antietam. Gen. Couch's forces are advancing.

On Sunday our right wing gradually pushed forward on the Boonsboro' and Hagerstown pike and finally entered and occupied Hagerstown. The enemy's force, which consisted principally of cavalry and two regiments of infantry, made no determined resistance. The rebels fell back towards Williamsport. They are throwing up intrenchments within two miles of Hagerstown. The positions they now occupy are said to be of great strength. They are said to be taking houses in pieces to construct pontoons.

Vicksburg advices say that Johnston is rapidly retreating, and that Gen. Sherman is in hot pursuit. Reinforcements are moving to the latter. An offer of assistance has been dispatched to Gen. Banks, at Port Hudson.

Special dispatches state that Gen. Meade's forces on Sunday were all under orders to be ready to move at a moment's notice.—Gen. Lee had issued an order acknowledging his defeat, and calls on his men to again meet the enemy firmly, &c.

The rebels attempted to turn our flank on Sunday, but were repulsed. Stuart is said to be a prisoner. The rebels are reported to be reduced to a space of six by nine miles near Williamsport, with only a rope ferry. Our army is advancing.

Later advices from Newbern, N. C., show that the recent expedition to Kenansville was even more successful than at first reported. Nearly ball is million dollars in Confederate notes were seized, a large amount of property destroyed, and horses, mules, negroes and provisions "captured in large quantities." We did not lose a man. Gen Foster has paid a handsome compliment to all the officers of the expedition, for their brave and efficient conduct.

Adm. Farragut reports that a rebel attack on Donaldsonville, La., was gallantly repulsed by our gunboats and land forces on the 28th. The Federal force, which was small, has evacuated the town, after destroying it.

☞ The official reports of the surrender of Vicksburg are published. 100 pieces of field artillery were captured, including French, Spanish and Austrian guns. No report of coast or siege guns is made. They number from 30 to 50. Neither do we know what quantity of ammunition the rebels left. Gen. Grant's chief engineer has visited the fortifications and reports them as simple field works, but of considerable strength. With one single exception, the forts are all open at the gorge. The buildings of the town are not so much damaged as expected. There are two locomotives and some railroad carriages there.—Orders have been given to put the railroad in repair immediately, as far as the Big Black.

SOUTHERN CRITICISM ON CONFEDERATE GENERALS.—The Savannah Republican is of the opinion that the real military capacity of the Confederacy is either wasted in inferior commands or is not employed at all. It speaks contemptuously of the rebel government employing such men as Lee, Longstreet, Hill and Pemberton, when it might easily select superior generals from civil life. It is so much the custom at the North to represent the rebel commanders as superior to our own, that it is quite refreshing to read a sharp criticism on their talents from a Southern grumbler over their failures.

☞ An anti-draft riot was raging in New York on Monday, the active rioters at last accounts numbering several thousands.—The building occupied by the Provost Marshal was burned, the draft machinery destroyed, and the papers strown through the streets. The Marshal escaped, but the Assistant Marshal was badly hurt. The police officers were powerless. Regulars at Governor's Island, with artillery, were sent for.

☞ Through the exertions of Officer Johnson the brothers Lawrenson, who escaped from the lock-up in this city, on Sunday, 5th, were arrested at Saco, on Monday. Officer J. brought them back to this city. They sent for their clothes, and thus disclosed the place of their concealment.

THE DRAFT.—The drafted men will be placed on the same footing, in all respects, as volunteers for three years, or during the war, including the advance pay and bounty, and they will be held for service in the same manner, the term not to exceed three years.

It is said that hundreds who have been drafted in Bolton, on learning the fact, left the city, chiefly in the direction of St. John and Halifax. This will prove poor business, since all such will be treated as deserters, the penalty being death. This holds good for any number of years. The only safe way is to face the music. Cowards and sneaks always get the worst of it.

A lady residing in Cambridge has sent three sons to the war, two of whom have been killed in battle and the third died from sickness. A fourth son has now been drafted.

A gentleman of Boston, who had secured a passage to Calcutta, while on his way to the vessel in which he was to sail, purchased a paper containing lists of the drafted men. He soon peceived his own name among them, whereupon he gave up his contemplated journey and returned home. He will make a good soldier, no doubt.

A company has been formed in Boston to furnish substitutes for its members; or procure the $300 for exemption. This is secured by the payment of a sum not less than $10 or more than $20, the precise figure to be determined by coming events.

The Saturday Evening Gazette says that a gentleman, who was drafted last week, procured a substitute upon the following terms: He is to receive two hundred dollars cash. The gentleman effects an insurance on the substitute's life for one thousand dollars. If he falls within a year, the substitute's friends are to receive five hundred dollars, and the other half is to be reserved by the insurer to defray expenses. If he serves his time out and comes home with honor, the life insurance policy is to be given to him.

The Providence Journal says a "Lucky Cuss," in the modern interpretation, means a man who got enrolled in two districts and drafted in both. There are or three such cases.

One young man in Providence, being told that he was drafted, rushed to a recruiting office and enlisted in order to secure the bounty. He was not a little chagrined to learn, when it was too late, that a joke had been played upon him—that he had not been drafted.

Considerable fun having been poked at bachelors between the ages of 35 and 45, some of them, from their perverse and hard hearted natures, impudently justify their course by saying that it is better to serve three years than for life.

☞ The Secretary of the Treasury has decided to continue the sale of the United States "Five-Twenty" six per cent bonds, at par for a short time longer. This announcement will be hailed with satisfaction by numbers of our people who have desired to invest in this popular Loan, but who could not conveniently control their funds previous to July 1st. The right to demand the Bonds at par ceased by act of Congress on that day, and the terms upon which they were to be issued thereafter was left to the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury. He has shown alike his good sense, and his consideration for the wishes of the people, by extending the time for popular subscriptions to the Loan, instead of placing it in large sums in the hands of speculators to be sold to the people at a profit.

Coming as this announcement does upon the heels of the glorious victories that are now gladdening all loyal hearts throughout the nation, and demonstrating more than ever the inherent and imperishable power and stability of our institutions, it is sure to be responded to by a more eager investment in the Bonds than has taken place at any former period.

Messrs. Fisk & Hatch, No. 38 Wall St., New York, the popular and patriotic Agents for the sale of the Bonds, whose advertisements have from time to time appeared in our columns, continue to receive orders and forward the Bonds to any address desired.

The money thus invested through them goes directly and immediately to the support of the National Treasury.

☞ Messrs. Beal & Hooper, at their great manufactory and warehouse in Boston—invite the attention of purchasers of nice Furniture, to their Grecian and other new styles of Parlor Suites and Chamber Sets, in solid black walnut and other rich woods, and varied upholstery, at the most satisfactory prices. Warerooms on Haymarket Square. See their advertisement, on first page, and if you are buying in Boston, don't fail to see their splendid stock.

WHAT IS IT?—Isaac Hill, long the head and master-spirit of New Hampshire "Democracy," once declared that "he who does not support the Government in time of war is either a traitor or a coward." Franklin Pierce, a leader of the New Hampshire "Democracy" of to-day, declares that the war of the nation for its existence is "homicidal madness," and should be stopped at once. Is he, according to Hill's test, a traitor or a coward?—N. Y. Eve. Post.

EASTERN RAILROAD.—Any one observing the Portland trains on this road cannot fail to notice the increase of through travel over the Eastern Route, as compared with the same a few years ago.

Some of the former managers of this road seemed to pay but little regard to the travel east of Salem and Newburyport, and in consequence, rival roads secured the patronage that once was bestowed upon the Eastern line. A change of Superintendents in 1855, secured to the "old line" a practical business man, who, working by an indomitable will, through all the gradations of stage, express and railroad service, was well posted in regard to the wants of the travelling public, and the means of securing its favor. When Jeremiah Prescott was appointed Superintendent of the Eastern railroad, its engines, cars and machinery were in a shabby condition, and the road in general under its former Superintendent was at a low ebb. Its trains made poor time, and its business was in danger of diminishing for want of proper care. Starting with these difficulties, with a low state of treasury from which to make additions and improvements, but with a knowledge of the advantages and capabilities of this line over its rivals, Mr. Prescott went to work. His whole time, talents and energies were devoted to the purpose of bringing up the road to its deserved position.

The owners of the road were made to see that money must be expended in new rolling stock. Old and wheezy locomotives were disposed of, and new machines were placed on the track. Dilapidated cars gave place to new and commodious ones, and years of unremitting labor in reforming previously existing abuses, and restoring desired facilities for business, were spent. The public, quick to see and appreciate a reform, soon noticed the improvements upon this always favorite route. The Boston & Maine Road showered its free passes thro'out the State of Maine and the Canadas, in order to influence travel over their line; but the shortest, coolest and best route from Portland to Boston, and the direct route, was the one which sensible people patronized. To-day, no road out of Boston runs better engines, has more luxurious cars, makes better time, has more gentlemanly and efficient conductors, and satisfies its patrons better than the Eastern Railroad. The result is, that with its largely increased facilities, notwithstanding the fierce competition from the Maine road, its business is enormous, and its management reaps the reward of a liberal policy, and an enlarged regard for the public convenience.

It has to-day the most elegant and most convenient station in Boston, beside which, depots of an earlier construction appear insignificant and uncomfortable: its stockholders again enjoy dividends, and the long years of patient toil and arduous labor of its employees now show the old line a favorite with the travelling public, with its patronage restored, and with increasing business.

STATEMENTS OF INTEREST FOR THE DRAFTED.—In case the exemption should reduce the list of drafted below the number required to be furnished, the residue will be taken from those in the first class whose names have not been drawn. But none of the men drafted in each sub district as a surplus, will be called upon to fill the places of those who pay the $300.

Every man who has been fortunate or unfortunate enough to have his name taken from the box must elect whether he will furnish a substitute, pay the three hundred dollars, or enter the United States service. If he endeavors to get exemption on the plea of disability, and passes the surgeon, it will probably be too late for him to secure exemption in any other way.

A person can produce as a substitute an enrolled man, liable to the draft, but it is at the risk of the latter. The United States does not allow any man to vacate his place in the enrolment by reason of the temptation of high bounties, or from any other causes. Aliens are the most eligible substitutes.

☞ In the N. H. House of Representatives, previous to the adjournment, Mr. Tupper, from the committee on Military Affairs, to whom was referred a message from the Governor relative to the defences of Portsmouth harbor, reported a joint resolution authorizing the Governor to procure from the General Government two heavy rifled cannon, with the necessary equipments and ammunition, to be used in defence of Portsmouth, their calibre to be such as the Governor and Council shall deem necessary: also authorizing the payment of a bounty of $25 to each soldier enlisted, or hereafter enlisting in the artillery service for the defence of said harbor, and authorizing the Treasurer to borrow such sum, not exceeding $400, as may be necessary therefor.

The resolution was adopted by both Houses.

Local.

☞ A petition signed by several residents of Ward 3, asking that a public meeting be called, to obtain an expression of the citizens in regard to the propriety of the city paying the U. S. $300 for each drafted man, in lieu of service in the army, was laid upon the table by the Board of Aldermen. On Saturday afternoon, anonymous bills were posted about the city, headed "Citizens of Portsmouth, Awake! Awake!" and calling a meeting, without distinction of party, at the Old South Meeting House, to protest against the action of the Board.—This meeting we were unable to attend, but we learn that Hon. John R. Reding was chosen Chairman, and J. L. Foster, Esq., Secretary; that speeches were made by Messrs. Daniel Marcy, Charles Robinson, J. Downing Murphy, and perhaps others; that resolutions were passed; and that the meeting was adjourned to Monday evening.

The adjourned meeting was held on Monday evening in the Temple, which was filled, the audience including quite a number of ladies. Remarks were made by Messrs. Murphy, Robinson, (whose propositions apparently were extremely distasteful to most of those present,) Rider, Spinney and J. L. Foster,—those which we heard being comparatively moderate in expression, deprecating any opposition to the enforcement of the draft in this district by the people, yet insisting that nothing had been accomplished by the war, and asserting the alleged propriety of the city paying the $300 commutation money for each man drafted. A committee of two from each Ward was appointed to obtain signatures to a petition to the Mayor and Aldermen to call a meeting for the purpose of obtaining an expression of the sense of the citizens in regard to the city paying the $300. The resolutions adopted on Saturday evening were endorsed, and it was voted that copies be sent to the Governor and to the Mayor and Aldermen. These resolutions call upon the Governor to protect the citizen until the question of the constitutionality of the Conscription Act can be decided by the Supreme Court; condemn the action of the Aldermen in refusing to call a meeting, and request them to call one at an early day; that this meeting was in favor of paying the $300, and in case the City refused, of raising the amount required by subscription; assert the right of free discussion; and advocate an armistice, and a national convention to adjust all matters in controversy and restore the Union by compromise upon the basis of equal and exact justice to all the States and all the people. The meeting adjourned about 10 o'clock. In this meagre report we have endeavored to be as impartial as was possible.

☞ Many hearts in our community were saddened on Monday when it was learned that a letter from a former tent-mate and friend of Sergt. Henry L. Richards, of this city, had rendered certain what had before been feared, that he had fallen in the recent battle at Gettysburg. He was wounded by a rifle ball in the right leg below the knee, on Thursday, July 2d—the first day of the fight. He lay on the field through the night, the rebels, as the letter says, treating him kindly, bringing him water, and giving him food. The next morning he was removed to the hospital of the 3d army corps, near Gettysburg, where amputation of the limb was performed on the 4th, while he was under the influence of chloroform. It had been supposed that he would safely pass through it, and he himself thought so, but he died soon after the operation was completed.

The letter speaks in the highest terms of Mr. Richards, as a true friend and a brave and patriotic soldier, and those who enjoyed his friendship here know how just all such encomiums are. While in the hospital he seemed cheerful and happy, declaring how much more fortunate he was than many others who had lost both limbs, or even an arm. But the life that was so joyous and useful soon ebbed away, and he sleeps in a patriot soldier's grave.

☞ The Draft is announced to commence in this city, to day, for the First Congressional District in New Hampshire, comprising about 80 towns and places. The draft will no doubt occupy several days, and we propose to issue an extra each evening, if practicable, giving the names and residences of those drawn during the day. The number to be drawn in the District is about one-fifth of the 5,000 or so of the first class: that is, those between 20 and 35, and the unmarried to 45. And 50 per cent. additional are drawn, so as to allow for exempts, &c. So three-tenths, or thereabouts, will be drawn, say 1500 in all, for a guess. The number for Portsmouth we cannot learn exactly, but probably not far from 200, either way. Are you all ready for the question?

☞ Morris Brothers, Pell & Trowbridge's Minstrels, gave a very superior concert at the Temple, Saturday evening. The audience was immense, and the performances ditto. Everybody was delighted with the darkies, and they must have been equally pleased with their receipts. Who said Saturday was a poor night for a show? and that 25 cents is too high for tickets?

THE DRAFT now being made, will, as the Newburyport Herald well says,—bring the war home to us, with its solemn realities. Many who never thought to fight—though they were not opposed to involving others in lifelong battles, and who never thought to contribute money, as they had nothing to give, and no sympathy with the more wealthy whose property was going in the war—have now been, or may be drafted. They have hardly the choice to pay or fight.

As to the management of the draft,—it is everywhere conducted openly and publicly, and unquestionably in a fair and square manner—so nobody can complain, except those who draw prizes they don't want. Of course the blowers will blow, and the growlers will growl; but there will be no trouble in enforcing the draft, if indeed it needs any enforcing hereabouts, as it probably will not. All the chosen ones will have to do, is to walk up to the captain's office, and report for duty, or settle, or procure substitutes, or get exempted, or perhaps attempt to shirk their necks out of the responsibility in some other, illegal way, which will prove harder than to obey the laws and sustain the government of their country, and will cause shame for themselves and their friends forever.

There is much dread of, and prejudice against, a draft; but really it is the fairest mode of raising troops. Of course some unavoidable cases of hardship will arise; but the loyal public must spare no pains to alleviate such—and cities and towns will of course provide for the drafted men's families, as for volunteers'.

☞ Drafts and bounties are mentioned in every circle, and discussed with much more zeal than knowledge, by many persons.—The present draft is doubtless deemed necessary for the defence of the country, and for a speedy and thorough crushing of the rebellion, in order for a permanent peace, under the Constitution as it is, for the Union as it was, modified only by the events of the war. The act of Congress authorising this draft, is as equitable and considerate as any law for such a purpose can possibly be framed. Some hard cases may arise under it; but the hardest, as to poverty and dependence, are provided for by the act, exempting many poor men whose labor sustains a mother or a child.

It may be said, truly, that human life is not measured or valued by money. We know it, (says Uncle Toby,) but see how easily we get Officers, and how easily we could get twice as many as we want. Yet we know, that a larger proportion of our officers are killed, than of our privates! It must be true, then, that other motives, beside personal safety, prevail with officers; and of course they would with soldiers; unless there is some radical difference between them; which, as good democratic republicans, we do not believe.

Our government, in the draft, has only ONE object in view, viz. to keep up the army; but it operates in TWO ways, 1. directly, by the drafted men who go into the army; and 2. indirectly and gradually, by using the commutation money for bounties o enlisted men.

The State of New-Hampshire has passed an act to encourage drafted men to go, by allowing towns to pay them $300 bounty after they are mustered in, as we learn, and to give their families State aid.

On the other hand, it has been proposed in some towns to induce them NOT to go! by voting to pay $300 each, to keep them at home till the next draft.

Almost every timid man is sure HE will be drafted: but that is impossible, for there are many blanks. And if the best men we have should be drawn and should fall, the sacrifice cannot be more precious than that of many of our brave and noble Volunteers!

Let no patriot tremble at the draft; no Christian fear death in the path of duty.

The man who strives, at thisc risis, under whatever pretence, to weaken the National Arm, and thereby strengthen the rebels, is a Traitor, and deserves the traitor's doom.

SCHOOLEY'S
NEW IMPROVED
ICEBERG REFRIGERATORS.

This upright REFRIGERATOR combines every improvement. It is the most perfect article of the kind in the market, requiring less ice than any other, and keeping its contents sweet and free from any unpleasant odors.

Daniel T. Currie, fruit dealer, Boston, says of it, "I have preserved grapes and pears, peaches, and an extensive variety of plums and berries for five or six weeks in Schooley's Refrigerator."

Oren Peck, Boylston Market, Boston, says, "I find, on careful trial, that it will keep meats perfectly fresh and dry for ten or twelve days."

John Hunt, Butter dealer, Cincinnati, says, "I can keep butter sweet and fresh any length of time in reason, say six weeks."

C. E. Carpenter, Ice Dealer, Providence, says, "I have kept a cup of custard in one of Schooley's Refrigerators during the warm weather one week, when I ate it and found it perfectly good."

Thousands of similar testimonials can be shown in its favor.

SCHOOLEY'S ICE KING REFRIGERATOR. (Patented Jan. 6, 1863.) We present the ICE KING to our customers as the "ne plus ultra" of cheap Refrigerators, combining in its operation all of the great improvements necessary for complete ventilation. In the introduction of Patent Refrigerators to the public, the cost of construction has been necessarily so great as to prevent their sale to the "million." The consequence has been that those who could not afford to purchase a Patent ventilated Refrigerator, were compelled to procure one of the old style, or go without.

We are now happy to state that, by the introduction of our new patent ICE KING, we can offer to the public a complete and perfect Refrigerator, well made, lined throughout with zinc, at cheaper prices than ever before sold.

THE "BULLS" IN THE COAL MARKET.—It was a shrewd speculative trick of the coal men to telegraph from Philadelphia, on Monday morning, that the collieries would be closed "until the crisis passed." Its intended effect was accomplished with the speed of the wind. The papers spread the news, the coal-dealers in every city and every little town scented it afar, coal jumped up a dollar a ton, the speculators made a fine job of it, and wretched housekeepers lugged out a reluctant "greenback" to pay for that which was no more valuable on Tuesday than it had been Monday morning.

The rebels had been nowhere near the coal mines of Pennsylvania—but coal went up. Lee had no particular spite against the collieries—but the collieries were promptly closed. Jenkins had other use for his cavalry then to send them 60 or 70 miles to the northward to wage war in the coal region—still the coal men shut up shop. The Pennsylvania miners have neither been threatened by the rebels nor the production of coal been endangered—and coal is up a dollar a ton. The speculators have made a very good thing of it. Now that Lee is retreating and Meade is preparing to follow them, perhaps the coal men will be content with the panic they have made, and go back to the market as it was before the "operations for a rise."—[N. Y. Post.

THE peculiar taint or infection which we call SCROFULA lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the skin and bowels, eruptions and sores which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. This it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil, or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and to fatal results than others of healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood, purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL,
The World's Great Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

This has been so long used and so universally known, that we need do no more than assure the public that its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do all it has ever done.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, No. 7 and 9 SANDICUT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited variety, Dr. Dow has the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, fail to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœal rheumatism, Diseases of the organs of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, Frightful Swellings and Deformities, Nervous Debility, Loss of manhood, and the long train of horrors, consequent on the ignorance of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary practice, and the evil consequences attending the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early indiscretion are—Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Consumption, Loss of digestive functions, symptoms of Consumption, &c. The mental effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression, aversion to the companionship of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should before contemplating marriage, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the Female Bottle, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician Accoucheur, No. 7 & 9 SANDICUT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of Diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE
in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow may be consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied study and extensive practice, gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Sandicutt street, Boston. Those who need the services of a skillful experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1848. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her attending school—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c. &c. but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWEET'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Ointment, which effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Sweet's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it. Have I authority as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress after every meal, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWEET'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I. CHENLEY. Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWEET: Perhaps it is really as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with a scrofulous humor, and that yesterday, after visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her wonted health, and very weakly. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicines one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHENLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Sweet's medicines shall have paid for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWEET, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may20o

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plates which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given quantity of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former models, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the fuel, thus saving at least 75 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke pipe or flue on the top of the dome can be made to burn anthracite coal, as the gas, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the resultation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire can be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have for store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world, and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber.

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or retention can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished they are made in one solid piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,
No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,

Has had four years of practical experience in making this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

DENTISTRY.

No. 60 CONGRESS STREET,
Portsmouth, Jan. 1st, 1863.

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully inform his patrons and the public, that he has had late many calls to insert teeth upon VULCANIZED RUBBER, that he has purchased the best VULCANIZER in the market, and is now prepared to do all work upon RUBBER, as well as upon Gold or SILVER as formerly, if preferred

The Rubber has several important advantages, viz: Its very light and elastic, and consequently will give the easy to the muscles of the mouth and cheeks. There are no insertions or open joints to collect food, &c.; consequently they can be worn night and day, and are very easily kept neat and clean.

Beside all this, the most accurate fit is obtained, as the Rubber is Vulcanized directly upon the plaster model, and the suction is of course much stronger than in plates of Gold or Silver.

Any one who is waiting for their permanent teeth will, if an economical, be perfectly satisfied with the Rubber as a base. The expense is but a little more than for Silver, and you get the same teeth in blocks than you would pay $60.00 for an upper or lower set on Gold

In New York and Boston, and throughout the West, Vulcanized Rubber is used almost to the exclusion of the other bases, and by the best Dentists too. I will warrant a perfect fit and teeth from the best manufacturer in the country, $5. $10 Write.

ALL OTHER OPERATIONS IN DENTISTRY I will do at the usual rates. I will here mention that my price for EXTRACTION is 25 cents.

I have referred in the public to Dr TREADWELL, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr. OLIVER and Dr BENNETT, for particular success in extracting Teeth. Teeth extracted now by the aid of gas with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every law fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

☞ The Boston Journal thinks there is too much truth in what Thurlow Weed says in the following, extracted from a recent letter:—

"There is a cause, however, for the hatred of the negro and the indignities to which he is subjected, that should be remembered and reprobated. The daily and offensive obtrusions of the New York Tribune, with the too frequent and even more offensive obtrusions of Wendell Phillips, feed and foster popular prejudices against the people of color. But recently this traitor or fanatic or traitor and fanatic—exhibited a mulatto girl to a sympathetic auditory, for the purpose of saying that neither peace nor prosperity could return to our country until, by a general amalgamation, its blood, universally demoralized, should become thus mingled! And such teachings, with its approval are scattered broadcast among the people by the Tribune, exciting general disgust, and aggravating the existing prejudices against an unfortunate race."

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such business is the proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend my friends to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough and effectual for Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climate and Weather, when great arrogance has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by such to restrain the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cure, was the point made in this valuable preparation. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be secured, in the belief, and in CONSUMPTION, and to prove the declarations by true results.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 15, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

Early on Sunday morning the rebels evacuated Funkstown, and formed in line of battle in semi-circle covering Williamsport. Longstreet held the centre, Ewell the right, and Hill the left. Our troops occupied Funkstown within an hour after the rebels left, and our whole right wing was immediately put in motion, and swept around in the line of the rebel retreat.

Gen. Meade has been largely reinforced by troops from the peninsula. There was no fighting on Monday. It is rumored that Lee has succeeded in crossing the Potomac with his army.

The Philadelphia Bulletin says an attack on Charleston was to be begun on Thursday last. The plan is said to be to take the batteries on Morris Island, and turn their big guns on Fort Sumter. The ironclads under Admiral Dahlgren were rendezvousing at Port Royal and Edisto at last accounts.

☞ The riot in New York had assumed terrible proportions, and the efforts of the authorities to quell it long proved unavailing. It seems to have been a preconcerted plan. Women and little girls and boys took an active part in the mob. All the telegraph lines leading south and west from New York city have been cut. The Harlem bridge has been burned, and it is reported that the Tribune office has been injured; that Allerton's Hotel has been burned; and that no negroes could make their appearance without being terribly beaten. They burnt down the large ice house on Houston street on Tuesday morning, and tore down a number of houses in Batavia street, near James.

The reports may be exaggerated. Passengers who left the city at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, report that the authorities were making preparations to surround the mob by a strong military force from every direction with a view to their capture as a whole.

There does not seem to have been sufficient precaution exercised to guard against such an outbreak. It is stated that more than a week ago the families residing over the offices occupied by the Provost Marshals, were warned to vacate them as they would be burned. But the authorities took no heed.

From dispatches dated 4 P. M., Tuesday, it appears evident that all had been quiet since midnight. Troops were distributed about the city on Monday night, and Mayor Opdyke called for volunteers and policemen to help put down the mob. Governor Seymour had arrived in the city. A heavy rain, which fell about midnight, helped greatly to disperse the rioters. There seems good reason to believe that the crisis is substantially over. The value of property destroyed is estimated at $250,000.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Manchester American states that the reports of the losses in the 2d Regiment at Gettysburg were greatly exaggerated. The only persons known to be killed are John P. Stone, Wm. H. Spring, John Totten, Capt. J. A. Hubbard, C. H. Worth, Thos. W. Bignall, Benj. F. Chase, J. M. Chesley, Capt. H. F. Metcalf, and Geo. Ware. Some twenty are reported missing, and as many more severely wounded.

—— On Tuesday, 7th, a lad 12 years of age was instantly killed in Grantham, the horse which he was riding having stumbled and injured him internally.

——It is stated that three lone bachelors of a certain age hastily got married in Manchester on Sunday evening last, in order to escape the draft.

—— First Battalion of Heavy Artillery, from Fort Warren, Boston, arrived in Concord on Monday, to prevent disturbance in enforcing the draft. A Concord correspondent of the Manchester Union, who must have a brilliant idea of the force usually stationed at the Navy Yard, telegraphs—"200 Marines from Portsmouth are on their way here."

—— On Saturday a small boy, in Manchester, was severely bitten about the ear and neck by "a valuable dog." The dog was killed.

—— Mr. Nathaniel Conant, 87 years of age, hung himself on Sunday morning, in Auburn, whither he had gone two days previous to pass a few days with a daughter.

—— The Mirror gives the official report to Gov. Gilmore of the Adjutant of the 2d Regiment. The regiment lost in the battle at Gettysburg, July 2d, 3 officers and 16 men killed; 136 wounded, and 38 missing;—total 193. The casualties in Company K, were:—

Wounded—Capt. George E. Sides, hand, slightly; 2d Lieut. Chas. W. Patch, abdomen, severely; Corp. Wm. S. King, neck, slightly; Corp. Wm. H. Mix, breast, slightly; Privates, George A. Alton, hip, severely; Richard Turner, abdomen, severely; Dan'l Nelligan, arm and body, severely.—Missing—Corp. James T. Gammon, Privates, John F. Dearborn, Joseph D. West, Warren Coggswell, Nathaniel M. Danielson.

CALIFORNIA POLITICS.—The California Democracy have nominated the following tickets:

For Governor—John G. Downey.—For Congress-men—John Bigler, John B. Weller and Joseph McCorkle. For State Printer— Beriah Brown.

The following platform was unanimously adopted:

Expressing unalterable devotion to the Constitution and the Union; denouncing all attempts to suppress the freedom of the press; upholding the right of free speech; opposing secret political societies; denouncing arbitrary arrests; denouncing the emancipation proclamation; denouncing all laws calculated to substitute paper currency in California for gold, and recognizing the right of government to resist by every constitutional means the rebellion or insurrection against its lawful supremacy.

☞ It may be a very commendable and advisable thing for loyal papers and persons to denounce the Navy and other Departments of the Government, for alleged inefficiency, &c. But we can't see it in that light; and where the censure is very loud or entire, we always look for a little treason in the spouter—though perhaps it may not always be there. The truly patriotic course is, to "do what you can," and say what you can, to strengthen the hands of the Government, in this the time of terrible trial for themselves and the nation.—It is nothing more than reasonable to presume that our rulers are straining every nerve to promote the good of the whole people—by which, of course, we mean the whole loyal people; and to cast obloquy on them or their works, is only doing the service of treason and traitors.

☞ The following circular was issued from the Provost Marshal General's office, at Washington, on Monday:—

In answer to inquiries made at this office, it is announced:—

1st. Any drafted person paying $300, under section 13 of the enrollment act, is hereby exempt from further liability under that draft, but not from any subsequent draft.

2d. Any drafted person furnishing an acceptable substitute, is exempt from military service for the period for which said substitute is mustered into the service.

3d. A substitute once mustered into the service cannot be drafted while in the service.

4th. A drafted man cannot pay commutation money or present a substitute after he has reported himself to the board of enrollment for examination.

5th. Men who on the 3d of March, 1863, were in the military service of the United States, as substitutes under the draft of 1862, and whose term of service has since expired, are not liable to the present draft; but the persons for whom they have substituted are liable to the draft, the same as though they had not been drafted and furnished substitutes under the draft of last year.

6th. In serving this notice, a reasonable time to report shall in each case be granted by the Board of Enrollment to men in the State service, who have or may be drafted.

☞ A Nashua letter in the Manchester Union says:—

Information has been received from an officer of the 3d N. H. Regiment, that they were ordered to leave Port Royal for Folly Island on the 4th inst., where about seventy guns are in position, for the purpose of clearing Morris' Island of the rebels, when approaches are to be made towards Fort Sumter. It is his opinion that by ten days from that date Sumter will surely be captured.

This does not agree with the statement in the Port Royal New South, which we recently copied, that no active operations were to be made in that department this summer; but it does agree with statements which have recently repeatedly been made in private letters.

A CYPHER (0) by itself is nothing.—But when placed with other figures it amounts to something considerable; and when we put in a cypher too many or too few, it is like putting on an inch to a man's nose, or taking it off. The Richmond account of Lee's army makes the rebels take 40,000 prisoners, tho' it could not be more than 4000; and the Legislative Reporter says the Legislature of New Hampshire authorized the Governor to borrow $4000 to pay 160 men $25 each.

☞ Wilkes' Spirit of the Times states that Gen. Hooker, after his rapid marches to get between Lee's army and Baltimore and Washington, wished to evacuate Harper's Ferry, and to add the forces and stores there to his own, with which to attack Lee's rebel army, with fair hope of success.—Gen. Halleck would not consent. Hooker then said he had not sufficient force to cover that distant point and at the same time meet Lee with reasonable hope of success, and desired therefore to be relieved. The request was at once granted,—Gen. Meade was appointed, and with his appointment came an order to evacuate Harper's Ferry, and to transfer to Gen. Meade all Gen. Couch's command, giving him reinforcements of about 40,000 new men.

☞ The deposition of Mr. Bibber, one of the fishermen captured by the Archer before coming into Portland harbor, distinctly says the rebels had no communication whatever with the shore before they were captured.

PEACE is a most desirable and blessed condition, but not always attainable, says Uncle Toby. The New Testament enjoins christians in a heathen land,—'As much as in you lieth, live peaceably with all men.' That is, they must not break the peace; but their neighbor might do so, and they not be able to prevent it.

So the peace between two states, nations, or armies, must be made, or kept, or restored, by some sort of AGREEMENT between the TWO. War can be made by any ONE party, by attack, seizure, or declaration,—but peace or agreement cannot come but by consent of two. That consent may be involuntary, by more or less constraint on one part, but it must be consent. A good illustration of this principle was given lately at Vicksburg, where Generals Grant and Pemberton had been at war for many days. Grant demanded a peaceful surrender some time ago; but P. did not agree to his terms, and so the war went on, harder and harder till P. saw resistance to be hopeless, and he was constrained, most reluctantly, to make a peaceable surrender.

In the time of the Mexican war, it used to be said, by some who now profess great abhorrence of war, "We must conquer a Peace!" It was done; and the terms were mainly dictated by the U. S. Mexico was constrained to consent, and peace ensued.

In the Republican War Talk of 1812, it was proposed to declare war against Great Britain, on account of Free Trade and Sailor's Rights, and to conquer Canada and hold it as a Pledge for Peace. We declared war; did not conquer Canada; and made peace by agreement, without pledges, and with very few conditions.

A shrewd and eminent politician told us, last Fall,—There'll be no more fighting after New York election. No doubt he believed what he said; the election went as he wished; but the rebels did not stop; but illuminated Charleston, gloried in the treason, scorned the traitors, and went ahead. We could not possibly make peace with them, except in one of three ways; 1. by a Division of the Country, by a line drawn by them, to which northern democrats have not agreed; 2, by submitting to wear a collar which the Douglas Democrats broke asunder at Charleston, labelled "mudsills." 3. by subduing the rebellion.

No other way seems open now. Surely incendiary and murderous mobs cannot make peace; though they may prolong, embitter, and intensify the contest. The leaders of them have some dishonest end to gain; their pretended love of peace is hypocrisy, as their lives show; and their followers are pitiable dupes. D. T.

NORTH CAROLINA.—The Legislature of North Carolina, is now in extra session on financial matters. The Raleigh Register, a rebel print, referring to the extra session, says:

"There is mischief brewing which bodes no good to the Confederate cause, and the history of that Legislature does not warrant us in expecting anything but mischief at its hands."

The members from Caswell county have come out for a reconstruction of the Union, and the Wilmington Journal says other members are intending to openly advocate the same thing.

THE FAMILIES OF DRAFTED MEN. Besides the bounty to which drafted men are entitled, their families are entitled to State aid. What with the pay, bounty and State aid, the families of drafted men will be as well provided for as those of volunteers, and in all respects those who are drafted will stand upon the same footing. Certainly it will be as honorable to respond manfully to the draft as to volunteer. If the full quota of the North is filled upon this draft the last hope of the rebels will be taken away and the rebellion is doomed.

☞ The draft in Philadelphia has been postponed for the present on account of the dissatisfaction of the enrolling officers, who complain of the injustice done to the district which they represented. The facts have been sent on to Washington.

One-third of Portland's quota were drafted on Monday afternoon very quietly, and the conscripts good-humoredly received the congratulations of their friends.

☞ It is reported unofficially, that the reason for postponing the Draft was, that our State authorities, in co-operation with those of the United States, needed a brief delay to adjust more equitably the number of men to come from certain towns; some towns being deficient on former quotas, while others had theirs filled, and others still had furnished a surplus.

DROWNED.—A little boy about five years of age, was drowned in Gloucester, Mass., on Tuesday afternoon. He had followed his father to the wharf, and while the latter was performing some business in a store near by, the lad fell from the wharf, striking his head in the mud, and was drowned before he could be taken out.

Those people out west who have banded together to resist the draft, belong to that class of whom it has been said, they were kicked out of the South, and now spend the remainder of their days in admiring the men who kicked them out.—Exch.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.—The session which closed on Friday last, embraced 38 days, including Saturdays and Sundays, 10 in number, making 28 working days. There were in all 152 Acts and Resolves passed, distributed as follows:—Public Acts, 43; Public Resolutions, 39; Private Acts, 40; Private Resolutions, 30.

Among the most important of the public acts were the following:—

An act regulating introduction of text books into schools;

For the reception of a grant of land by Congress, and to create a fund for the promotion of education in Agriculture and Mechanic Arts;

Authorizing cities and towns to aid the families of drafted men, or their substitutes, and for other purposes;

For the preservation of shade and ornamental trees;

In relation to claims arising out of the existence of the present war.

Among the resolutions were:—

Appropriating $2000 for expenses in sending disabled soldiers to their homes;

Relative to the establishment of a soldiers Hospital in New Hampshire;

Providing for the appointment of Commissioner resident in Washington to attend to the wants of sick and wounded soldiers;

Appropriating $1000 for a suitable building for sick and wounded N. H. soldiers;

Relative to the unjust refusal of town or city authorities to aid the families of soldiers;

Relative to equalizing the draft;

Relative to procuring rifled cannon for Portsmouth Harbor and granting bounty to those enlisting into the First N. H. Battery of heavy artillery;

Relative to the Massachusetts law levying a tax on the stock of coperations held by persons residing out of the Commonwealth;

Recommending the adoption of an efficient ambulance system for the army of the United States.

Among the private acts were:—

To incorporate the Portsmouth and New York Steamboat Co;

To incorporate the Portsmouth Insurance Co;

To incorporate the Rockingham Mills;

To revive the charter of the New Hampshire Union Railroad;

Authorizing the Eastern Railroads in New Hampshire and Massachusetts to unite and form one corporation;

To extend the Dover and Winnipisseogee Railroad.

The bill relating to the appointment of a Surgeon General was indefinitly postponed.

The resolution passed in relating to freedom of the speech and of the press, is as follows:—

Resolved, that the people of N. H. will never consent to any abridgment of freedom of speech, and of the press, nor to any interference with the freedom of elections in violation of the Constitution and the laws of this State or of the United States.

☞ There was considerable excitement in Boston, at the North End on Tuesday, and at noon a large crowd obstructed an enrolling officer as he was leaving notifications for drafted men, and compelled him to leave. No further difficulty is apprehended.

☞ —— The citizens of Warren celebrated the 100th anniversary of the settlement of that town, on Monday. Wm. Little, Esq., of Manchester, delivered the oration, and Rev. Mr. Dow, of Braintree, Mass., the poem.

Local.

THE DRAFTING OFFICERS were all at their headquarters in the old Custom House in this city, on Tuesday morning, ready for business. Just before 10 o'clock, the guards were directed to let the citizens pass in; and the room was pretty well filled. Precisely at 10 the Requisition was read, for 1968 men from the First Congressional District: and by order of the proper officer the Draft was postponed till Wednesday at 2 P. M., in accordance with orders from the War Department.

☞ The most intense interest is manifested in the Draft which is to take place to-day in Portsmouth—both by our own citizens, and by people throughout the District and State. Unless further postponement is ordered by the War Department, the drafting will commence this afternoon at the Provost Marshal's office. The delay was caused alone by orders from headquarters—the Board of Enrollment being in complete readiness to proceed.

Should any draft be made to-day, we shall endeavor to gratify the public curiosity by printing the names in an extra, this evening.

☞ Quite a number of counterfeit bills, purporting to be 10's on the Woburn, Ms., Bank, and 5's on the City Bank, Lynn, were passed in this city on Monday afternoon. The operators would go into a store, buy some small article, and proffer in payment their spurious money, which in most cases was readily taken. The 10's were passed on Messrs. Tucker & Downs, George Henderson, Moses H. Tilton, and at a grog shop in Water street; and the 5's were taken at the Union Store, and by Mr. E. Green. The police on the same afternoon arrested John Woodsum for being concerned in the matter. He was taken before the Police Court on Tuesday, and ordered to find bonds in the sum of $1000 for his appearance before the S. J. Court in October, in default of which he was committed to jail.

Michael Lawrenson, for an assault on John Holland, July 3d, was brought before the court on the same day, and fined $10 and costs $4.80. Not paying, he was committed.

Patrick Lawrenson, for an assault on the wife of John Holland, on the 4th, with a cane, was ordered to recognize in the sum of $200 for his appearance, in default of which he was also committed to jail. These are the two brothers who escaped from the lock-up, and were arrested in Saco, Me.

EASTERN RAILROAD IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The annual meeting of the Stockholders in this Corporation was held in the Ward Room of Ward One, in this city, on Tuesday, Hon. B. T. Reed, of Boston, the President, in the chair.

The meeting was called to order by the President, and the call for the meeting was read by the clerk, William H. Hackett, of this city. The ballot for Directors resulted in the unanimous re-election of Benjamin T. Reed, Robert W. Hooper, E. R. Bancroft, of Boston, W. H. Y. Hackett, and Wm. M. Shackford, of Portsmouth, as Directors.

Mr. Chase, of Salem, offered the following vote:—

Whereas the Legislature of New Hampshire has authorized the Dover & Winnepiseogee Railroad to extend their railroad from Dover to Portsmouth, and connect with this road;

Voted, that the Directors be authorized, with the approval of the Directors of the Eastern Railroad, to make such arrangements with the Company, for transportation, or for the use of their railroad, as they deem expedient,— which was unanimously passed, after which the meeting dissolved.

JERRY'S FORT.—In the war of 1812 the fort on Jerry's Point at the entrance of Little Harbor, was garrisoned by the citizens of Newcastle and others, under command of Captain William Marshall, who remained stationed there during the war. The garrison made use of the house now occupied by Mr. Hopley Yeaton, until suitable barracks could be erected, which did not take place for some time. The armament of the fort consisted of nine guns, 6 and 9-pounders. It was then considered a very important post, and at times was strongly fortified, having at one time one hundred and twenty men stationed there.

But little notice, however, seems to be taken of it at present, notwithstanding its commanding position. Several heavy guns should be placed in the fort and a company of men stationed there. By so doing much would be accomplished towards the better protection of Portsmouth and vicinity.

Newcastle, N. H., July 14th. T. B. F.

☞ The Exhibition of the Boys' High School passed off quite pleasantly and successfully on Tuesday afternoon. The room was beautifully decorated, the arrangement of the flowers evincing much taste. At the close of the exercises, prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Medbery, and an eloquent and feeling and patriotic address was made by Rev. Dr. Burroughs. The Haven Medals were presented for the first time.

☞ In the Order of Exercises for Commencement at Harvard College, to-day, is an essay on the "causes of the excellence of the literature of the so-called Elizabethan period," by Frank Goodwin, of this city.

☞ Gottschalk, the greatest of American Pianists, was concertizing in Pennsylvania when the rebels under Lee, forced him to seek a lee elsewhere—his splendid piano playing not exactly cording with the whistling of shells, &c. He plays in Portsmouth on Saturday evening next, remember.

☞ The Herald of Health, published in New-York City, monthly, by Dr. Trall, has just begun its second volume. The July number contains, among a variety of readable matter, the commencement of an essay on the human foot, entitled Why the Shoe Pinches—with illustrations—designed to be of practical utility.

☞ A man who had been lost for four days in a coal mine in Derbyshire, England, was rescued the other day. His entire sustenance for ninety-one hours was the oil from his lamp, which he had sucked up. Although much exhausted when found, he soon revived, and after a little food had been administered he walked home.

☞ The Revenue Cutter Dobbin, Capt. John A. Webster, Jr., arrived at Portland harbor on Monday afternoon, having left Delaware Breakwater on the 8th inst. The Dobbin is to take the place of the Caleb Cushing.

☞ The Secretary of the Treasury has ordered that hereafter, upon the deck of every Revenue Cutter in commission, there must be on duty at all times, whether day or night, at least one commissioned officer and one third of the crew.

☞ One of the great bells of Worcester Cathedral, England, weighing five hundred weight, has recently been stolen; it is not known how or when! but it must have been within the last few months.

☞ There was a panic in the gold market in Baltimore on Monday. Everybody was selling it, and sales were made as low as 30 per cent.

☞ By the regulations of the new postal law, the list of letters remaining in the office are to be published once a week.

☞ Every protestant minister in Salem, who was liable, has been drafted. Four lawyers were drawn.

SCHOOLEY'S

NEW IMPROVED

ICEBERG REFRIGERATORS.

This upright REFRIGERATOR combines every improvement. It is the most perfect article of the kind in the market, requiring less ice than any other, and keeping its contents sweet and free from any unpleasant flavor.

Daniel T. Curtis, fruit dealer, Boston, says of it, "I have preserved grapes and pears, peaches, and an extensive variety of plums and berries for five or six weeks in Schooley's Refrigerator."

Oren Peck, Boylston Market, Boston, says, "I find, on careful trial, that it will keep meats perfectly fresh and dry for ten or twelve days."

John Hunt, Butter dealer, Cincinnati, says, "I can keep butter sweet and fresh any length of time in reason, say six weeks."

C. E. Carpenter, Ice Dealer, Providence, says, "I have kept a cup of custard in one of Schooley's Refrigerators during the warm weather one week, when I ate it and found it perfectly good."

Thousands of similar testimonials can be shown in its favor.

SCHOOLEY'S ICE KING REFRIGERATOR. (Patented Jan. 6, 1863.) We present the ICE KING to our customers as the "ne plus ultra" of cheap Refrigerators, combining in its operation all of the great improvements necessary for complete ventilation. In the introduction of Patent Refrigerators to the public, the cost of construction has been necessarily so great as to prevent their sale to the "million." The consequence has been that those who could not afford to purchase a Patent ventilated Refrigerator, were compelled to procure one of the old style, or go without.

We are now happy to state that, by the introduction of our new patent ICE KING, we can offer to the million a Refrigerator, better Refrigerator, well made, lined throughout with zinc, or cheaper prices than ever before sold.

THE ONSET—A BATTLE SONG.

BY BARRY CORNWALL.

Sound an alarum! The foe is come!
I hear the tramp, the twigh, the hum,
The cry, and the blow of his darting drum!
Huzzah!

Sound! The blast of our trumpet blown
Shall carry dismay into hearts of stone.
What! shall we shake at a foe unknown?
Huzzah!—Huzzah!

Have we not viewed as strong as they?
Have we not hearts that never gave way?
Have we not God on our side to-day?
Huzzah!

Look! They are staggered on yon black heath;
Steady awhile, and hold your breath!
Now is your time, men!—Down like Death!
Huzzah!—Huzzah!

Stand by each other, and front your foes!
Fight, whilst a drop of the red blood flows!
Fight, as ye fought for the old red rose!
Huzzah!

Sound! Bid your terrible trumpets bray!
Blow, till the brazen throats give way!
Sound to the battle! Sound, I say!
Huzzah!—Huzzah!

THE peculiar taint or infection which we call SCROFULA lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled and vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with the life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. This it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil, or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. These cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which are unknown to the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood, purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL,
The World's Great Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

This has been so long used and so universally known, that we need do no more than assure the public that its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do all it has ever done.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, No. 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. Dow has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Strangury, Gravel, Pain of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, Frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible maladies resulting from the abuse of disease, are made become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth are: Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Persons who wish to remain under Dr Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capsules, recommended the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppressions, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

S. S. S.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. DOW is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extensive practice gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon, should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

BOSTON, April 7, 1863. eodly.

ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her being able to stir out of her house; and has been very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla syrup, &c., but all to no purpose, and no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Ointment, which entirely cured her. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a great many of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JONAS JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1853.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and other vexatious ills all of my food immediately after taking it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. JOHN CHENEY.

From ELDER I. CHENEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural strength or appetite. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR OINTMENT, since, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHENEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may30o

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room, and the extension top affords a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the sifting up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds in families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned over the fire, admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the fuel in the flue.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat, without making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, and the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world.—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert E. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. It can take from two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the deficiency—the plate can be made to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While it will wear much better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,

No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,

Has had four years of practical experience in making this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

DENTISTRY.

No. 60 CONGRESS STREET,
Portsmouth, Jan. 1st, 1863.

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully inform his patrons and the public, that he is waiting for their calls to insert teeth upon VULCANIZED RUBBER, that he has purchased the best VULCANIZER in the market, and is now prepared to do all work upon RUBBER, or the other bases of GOLD and SILVER as formerly, if preferred.

The Rubber has several important advantages, viz: It is very light and elastic, and consequently is perfectly easy to the muscles of the mouth and cheeks. There are no interstices or open joints to collect food, and consequently they can be worn night and day, and are very easily kept neat and clean.

Beside all this, the most accurate fit is obtained, as the Rubber is Vulcanized directly upon the plaster model, and the suction is of course much stronger than in plates of Gold or Silver.

Any one who is waiting for their permanent teeth will, I am confident, be perfectly satisfied with the Rubber, as a base. The expense is but a little more than for Silver, and you get the same teeth (in blocks) that you would pay $60.00 for an upper or lower set on Gold.

In New York and Boston, and throughout the West, Vulcanized Rubber is used almost to the exclusion of the other bases, and by the best Dentists too. I will warrant a perfect fit and teeth from the best manufacturer in the country. S. S. White.

ALL OTHER OPERATIONS IN DENTISTRY I will perform at reasonable rates. I will here mention that my price for EXTRACTION is 25 cents.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. J. Rowell, Dr. Boardman, Dr Olivers and Dr Bennett, for particulars concerning extracting teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

Daily Morning Chronicle

VOL. 23. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. THURSDAY JULY 15, 1863. NO. 13.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

THE RIGHT SORT OF RELIGION.—We want a religion that goes into the family and keeps the husband from being spiteful when the dinner is late, and keeps the dinner from being late—keeps the wife from fretting when the husband tracks the newly washed floor with his muddy boots, and makes the husband mindful of the scraper and the door-mat—keeps the mother patient when the baby is cross, and keeps the baby pleasant—amuses the children as well as instructs them—wins as well as governs—projects the honey-moon into the harvest-moon, and makes the hours like the eastern fig-tree, bearing in its bosom at once the beauty of the tender blossom and the glory of the ripened fruit. We want a religion that bears not only on the "sinfulness of sin" but on the rascality of lying and stealing—a religion that banishes small measures from the counters, small baskets from the stall, pebbles from the cotton bags, clay from paper, sand from sugar, chicory from coffee, beet-juice from vinegar, alum from bread, lard from butter, strychnine from wine, and water from milk cans.

The religion that is to advance the world will not put all the big strawberries and peaches at the top, and all the bad ones at the bottom. It will not offer more baskets of foreign wine than the vineyards ever produced bottles—and more barrels of Genessee flour than all the wheat fields of New York grow and all her mills ground. It will not make one half of a pair of shoes of good leather, and the other of poor leather so that the first shall redound to the maker's credit and the second to his cash. It will not let a piece of velvet that professes to measure twelve yards come to an unmanly end in the tenth, or a spool of sewing silk be nipped in the bud at fourteen and a half—nor the cotton thread spool break to the yardstick fifty of the two hundred yards of promise that was given to the eye—nor all wool delaines and all linen handkerchiefs be amalgamated with clandestine cotton—nor coats made of old woollen rags pressed together be sold to the unsuspecting public for legal broadcloth.

It does not put brick, worth only five dollars per thousand into chimneys it contracted to build of seven dollar materials—nor smuggle white pine—nor daub ceilings that ought to be smoothly plastered—not make window blinds with slats that cannot stand the sun, and fastenings that may be looked at but are on no account to be touched. The religion that is to sanctify the world pays its debts. It does not consider that forty cents returned for one hundred cents given, is according to law. It looks on a man who has failed and who continues to live in luxury, as a thief. It looks upon a man who promises to pay fifty dollars on demand with interest, and neglects to pay it on demand, with or without interest, as a liar.

THURSDAY, JULY 16, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

A dispatch from Cincinnati to the Boston Merchants' Exchange, states that immediately after the fall of Vicksburg there was a sanguinary battle fought between the rebel Gen. Johnston and Gen. Sherman.—The rebels were defeated.

The Cincinnati Commercial has Vicksburg advices to July 8. Gen. Grant had finished paroling the rebel prisoners. They number 237. 60,000 stand of small arms had been found, mostly in good condition, and more were constantly being discovered. The siege and sea-coast guns exceed 60, and the whole captured artillery is about 200 pieces. The whole store of rebel ammunition also proves to be surprisingly large. The stock of army clothing is officially invoiced at $5,000,000, at Confederate prices. Of sugar, molasses, and salt, there is a large quantity. 60,000 lbs. of bacon were found in one place. Immediately after the surrender, Gen. Sherman moved in the direction of the Big Black River with a large army. On the following day he met Gen. Johnston drawn up in line of battle. A sanguinary engagement took place, resulting in Johnston's defeat and the capture of 2,000 prisoners. Gen. Frank P. Blair is reported to be in possession of Jackson. A rumor was in circulation that Port Hudson surrendered to Gen. Banks on the 5th inst., and that we took 18,000 prisoners.

The main body of Gen. Bragg's army has retreated from Chattanooga to Atlanta.—The presumption is, that the bulk of Bragg's forces have been sent to Richmond to garrison it. Rosecrans captured 4000 prisoners during the late forward movement.

Morgan's raid in the southern part of Indiana, had not been checked at last accounts. He has destroyed some bridges.—A few of his men have been captured.

Fort Powhattan, on James River, was taken possession of by our fleet on Monday. All the men and guns had been removed.

The gunboat Union, at Fortress Monroe from Charleston, reports all of Morris Island captured, except Fort Wagner. The enemy's loss in killed, wounded and prisoners is between 700 and 800. The attack commenced last Friday morning. The Union left Monday afternoon, at which time the siege of Fort Wagner was progressing, with every prospect of a speedy capture. Five monitors were engaged.

Gen. Meade reports that the enemy are all across the Potomac. His cavalry on Friday afternoon occupied Falling Waters, having overtaken and captured a brigade of infantry, 1500 strong, 2 guns, 2 caissons, 2 battle flags and a large number of small arms. Another dispatch states that Lee's army withdrew from their position around Williamsport during the day and night of Monday and recrossed the Potomac by a pontoon bridge at Falling Waters and flat boats at Williamsport ferry. Lee has taken his plunder, trains, artillery &c. A general movement was ordered on Tuesday morning, and our columns were in motion at an early hour but found the entrenchments vacated.

It is reported that 300 rebels entered Frankfort, Ky., on the 4th, and seized Hon. John J. Crittenden.

The Washington Chronicle says there is not a word of truth in the reported "peace" debate in the Cabinet.

☞ The pirate Florida burnt the ship Southern Cross of Boston, June 6th, lat. 1 S., lon. 36 W.; ship Red Gauntlet, of Boston, 15th, lat 7 E. of the line; ship Benj. Hoxie, bound from San Francisco to England, 16th, having 40 tons silver ore, $500,000 worth bar silver, and $8000 in gold. The silver ore, valued at $500,000, was destroyed in the vessel. The Florida had also taken a bark and brigantine, and put prize crews on board. Most of the crews have arrived at Bermuda.

THE FUTURE OF MEXICO.—There are many who hold to the belief that a long time must elapse before the Mexicans can be reduced to the vassalage of a foreign yoke. The editor of the New Orleans Picayune, always well informed in regard to that country, joins in this opinion.

☞ A shell for rifles has been invented by Capt. Norton of the British Army. It is charged with solid phosphorus. Projected from a cavalry pistol, it lodged in a deal board and burned with a fierce flame for some time.

☞ Mr. Grave, a French physician, proposes to destroy the taste of intensely bitter medicines by mixing chloroform with them in certain proportions. He claims that the taste, and odor, even of asafœtida can be annihilated.

☞ The Bishop of Oxford, speaking at a meeting in London, strongly condemned the use of "selfish pews" in churches, which, said he "showed that the spirit of the world had entered into the house of God."

☞ Mr. C. F. Hall has decided, in view of the state of the country, to postpone his contemplated Arctic expedition until the spring of 1864.

THE NEW YORK RIOT.—The dispatch stating that New York was quiet on Tuesday was incorrect. The disgraceful scenes of Monday were resumed at an early hour in the upper part of the city; workmen were compelled by the rioters to join them; several houses, including the Mayor's, were sacked; and the loading of vessels at the docks was forbidden under penalty of the total destruction of the ships. The greatest crowd, Tuesday morning, assembled in 3d avenue, between 30th and 40th streets. It is estimated that the number of rioters in that part of the city reached 15,000. They were principally armed with stones, though a few had guns taken from Mr. Opdyke's armory. About noon Gov. Seymour addressed the mob from the steps of the City Hall. The gist of his remarks was that he had sent to Washington with a request that the Government should suspend the draft; that he desired to protect the people, and he implored the crowd therefore to respect the rights of persons and property, promising that he would see that everything was made satisfactory. The demagogue!

The military still was insufficient: several detachments of soldiers are reported to have fired into the mob, but foolishly used blank cartridges, which only exasperated them. Most atrocious robberies have been committed on the streets by the ruffians, who seized respectable men and robbed them of their watches, money, &c., and then finished by threatening the victim. The mob on Tuesday night barricaded certain parts of the city to prevent troops coming. The tracks of the New Haven and Hudson River railroads have been torn up. The stores on Broadway are generally closed.

The Journal of Commerce reports that Governor Seymour was called for by the people, and was loudly cheered. After order had been restored the Governor made a very few remarks. He told the people he would do all he could to have them dealt by fair and justly. He had sent Gen. Sprague to Washington to confer with the authorities for this purpose. He asked the people to trust to him implicitly. In conclusion he advised them most earnestly not to molest private property, and to disperse to their homes like good citizens. The Governor then withdrew amid loud cheering.—The Express states that on his arrival in the city, Governor Seymour at once addressed himself to the work, and will exert the whole power of the State for the restoration of the public peace, and the maintainance of public order.

Regiments of troops are on their way to New York from various parts of the State; and Gen. Wool has issued an appeal to the soldiers of the recently returned regiments to rally for the preservation of law and order. The merchants are organizing a regiment for the protection of their lives and property. Vessels have been hauled from the docks into the stream, and gunboats anchored in certain localities so as to command the streets. One is anchored off Wall street. The armories and arsenals are fully garrisoned, as well as the public buildings, including the Custom House, etc.

Gov. Seymour has issued a proclamation that the laws of the State must be enforced, and lives and property respected. The draft has been suspended in the city by orders from Washington. Merchants, Bankers, and business men are enrolling themselves for the defense of the city.

THE BOSTON MOB was more serious than from the first account appeared probable, but it was promptly suppressed. One of the officers connected with the draft was assaulted and beaten, and several police officers were injured. As in New York, the mob included a large number of boys and women. In response of the call of the Mayor, Gov. Andrew summoned a large number of Military, and before evening 800 or 900 armed men were in the city, and Brig. Gen. Pierce was placed in command.

The 11th Artillery had been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for service at the Cooper street Armory. Early in the evening an excited crowd collected in the vicinity of the Armory, and soon began tearing up the bricks from the sidewalk and throwing them at the doors. Two panels were knocked in, and finaly the remnant of the door swung open—a flash—a report, and the missiles of death make fearful havoc among those who came within their range. The mob broke and ran with fearful haste in all directions until they thought they were beyond the range of the guns.

One of the cannons had been placed about ten feet from the door, and charged with 6 pounds of Cannister shot. When it became necessary, the cannon was fired. One unknown man was riddled like a sieve with balls. One other was killed, and very many wounded. The mob found it was no boy's play, and they ceased their attack upon the place. But they sacked the hardware store of Thomas P. Barnes, Jr., Dock Square, and made an attack upon the store of Wm. Read & Sons, but here were promptly charged upon by the police and a short, sharp conflict ensued, in which two officers were injured, and one of the rioters was shot. The streets was then cleared by the police with their revolvers, and a guard stationed.

The authorities acted with commendable promptness. While such scenes are ever to be regretted, there is but one course to be pursued. Order must be maintained; the laws must be obeyed.

ADDRESS OF COL. E. L. BAILEY.

HEADQUARTERS 2d Regt. N. H. V.,
near Emmetsburg, July 1st, 1863.

Comrades:—A great struggle is evidently approaching. The enemy with audacity unequalled in the history of this war has invaded our soil; the course of the marauder has been marked by pillage and devastation. Is it necessary at this hour to point out to the sons of New Hampshire their duty? Let me cite those who doubt to the conduct of this regiment on the bloody fields of the Peninsula, twice at Bull Run, and once at Fredericksburg. Wherever it has met the foe it has withstood the shock and has rolled back the tide of the rebellion like the wave from the rock. No prouder name than ours has ever swelled the heart of kindred with pride or added honor to the State which gave us birth. The Granite Hills yet reverberate with the plaudits of those who have marked your glorious achievements. Shall we then in the coming contest prove recreant? Can we permit a stain upon the splendid laurels we have suffered so much to attain? Let events show the terrible prowess of the Granite Sons when they again meet the enemy in battle. Let our watchword be "God and our Country!"

ED. L. BAILEY,
Col. commanding 2d N. H. Vols.

Col. Bailey, in his official report to the Comd'g General, gives a glowing account of the part taken by the 2d Regiment in the battle, July 2. In obedience to orders he reported himself at 3 o'clock to Gen. Graham, with 24 commissioned officers and 330 rifles. An hour after, while experiencing a terrific fire of spherical case and canister from batteries in front and on the right, 550 yards distant, he directed the rolls to be called and found but eight of the total number equipped absent. These had fallen out of the ranks from sunstroke and exhaustion while moving by double quick to the position. His report closes as follows:—

This battalion entered the fight with a firm determination to do or die, and the long list of fallen comrades already submitted will show how well that resolution was kept. When all did so well it would be invidious to make comparisons. Let it suffice to say they did their part as becomes sons of the old Granite State. For our fallen braves who have so gloriously perished fighting for their country, we drop a comrade's tear—while we would extend our heartfelt sympathy to those dear ones far away who find the ties of kindred and friends thus rudely severed, and for those who must suffer untold agony and pain through long weeks of convalescence our earnest sympathy, yet leaving them to the watchful care of Him who will not prove unmindful of their necessities.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Many of the wounded of the N. H., 3d, 5th, and 12th regiments have arrived at the West Philadelphia Hospital. Hon. Larkin D. Mason reports that on Friday evening there were not less than 200 there, and present arrivals would increase another hundred.

—— The door, sash, blind and planing mill of Messrs. Streeter & Clough, of Sanbornton Bridge, was totally destroyed by fire, Saturday night, with the entire contents, consisting of machinery, tools, lumber, &c. The owners are enterprising young men, just established in business; loss $1000 or so. Insured, $200 on the mill and $400 on the stock and machinery.

—— At the late Annual Commencement of Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., the honorary degree of D. D. was conferred on Rev. Henry A. Coit, Rector of St. Paul's School, in Concord.

—— The Corner Stone of St. Stephen's Church, Pittsfield, will be laid with appropriate religious service, on Monday the 20th inst., at 1 o'clock, P. M.

—— Last week a business man in Nashua received by express a small but weighty parcel, enclosed in multitudinous wrappings. When opened it was found to contain fourteen dollars in silver. The following note was enclosed:—

"Accept this package. It is just the amount I dishonestly took from you two years since. Forgive me, I pray you.—REFORMED."

His store was broken open about the time refered to, and several articles of trifling value taken.

—— On Sunday, Charles Cate, son of Franklin Cate, 9 years of age, was drowned while bathing at Franklin. His father is in the 16th regiment.

☞ Harvey Sickler, Esq., the able editor of the Tunkhannock (Pa.) Democrat, publishes the following in his issue of 30th October, 1861:

"We deem it due to Messrs. J. C. Ayer & Co., and the public, to make known our experience with the use of their Ext. Sarsaparilla in our family, by stating the circumstances under which it was taken and its effects.

When our only child, now in his third year, was about eight months old, a sore appeared first in small pimples on his forehead over his nose.—These rapidly increased and uniting formed a loathsome, virulent sore, which finally spread over his forehead and face, not even excepting his eyelids, which became so swollen that his eyes were closed. We called a skilful physician, who administered the usually prescribed remedies. A solution of nitrate of silver was applied until the mass of corruption which covered his entire face came off. The sore again and again burst thro' the scorched and artificial skin formed by this solution. Meanwhile many remedies were tempted without any apparent benefit. For fifteen days and nights he was constantly held by his parents to keep him from tearing open with his hands the corrupt mass which covered his face.

Everything having failed, we were induced by the high recommendations of Ayer's Sarsaparilla for the cure of Scrofulous diseases to give it a trial. In his treatise on Scrofula, Dr. Ayer directs a mild solution of Iodine of Potash to be used as a wash while taking the Sarsaparilla, and it was faithfully applied.

Before one bottle of Sarsaparilla had been given the sore had lost much of its virulence and commenced to heal. Another bottle effected an entire cure, and the general prediction that the child must die was contradicted. His eyelashes, which came out, grew again, and his face is left without a scar, as smooth as anybody's. It is unnecessary for me to state in how high esteem we hold AYER'S SARSAPARILLA.

☞ The Boston correspondent of the Portland Press, in speaking of the draft, says: "The pastor of the oldest and most opulent society in the city (King's Chapel) was drawn—being young and talented was considered fit to gird on the armor of the Union; yet this did not deter him from leading to the altar on the following day his chosen bride."

☞ Mr. Pearson, Confederate Agent in England, who is ruined, finds himself in that condition from having lost near half a million of dollars in vain efforts to run the blockade.

☞ It is stated that of 727 students matriculated at the Warsaw University during the past half year, 406 have joined the Polish insurgents, and 102 of them have been killed.

☞ James G. Blaine, Member of Congress, was drafted in Augusta, Me., on Tuesday.

We have lately tried Speer's Wine, at his place at Passaic, N. J. It is a pure article from the juice of the cultivated Sambucus, prepared and fermented by a new process, without the addition of any spirits. It is one of the most comforting cordials we have ever tasted, and especially good for those who object on principle to stimulants, as it has all the properties of warmth and energy which occasionally render a resort to them absolutely Medicinal. Each vintage must lay four years before put in market,—His success is remarkable, as it is being ordered by families, merchants and druggists, from all parts of this country, from South America, England, and even from the wine districts of France.—Frank Leslie's Illust. Newspaper.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS.—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged of the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Bills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

FREE LECTURE TO-NIGHT.

DR. ALBERT CRANE, of New York city, announces a free lecture at the Temple for this (Thursday) evening, at 8 o'clock. The subject is the philosophy of man, the laws of health, and the nature and treatment of diseases, especially consumption and chronic diseases generally. If sufficient interest be manifested in the lecture, and a large audience be gathered to enjoy it, a complete Course will be given.

Dr. Crane is an old practitioner, and has had great experience as a lecturer. And judging from the very numerous and unqualifiedly-complimentary notices which he has received from the press everywhere, and from the medical profession and institutions, both in this country and Europe.—he must be one of the most successful and popular of lecturers. We have never met him before, but he comes here with the strongest recommendations; and at any rate, while the subject is vitally important, it costs nothing to give the gentleman a hearing.—There will if practicable, be Examinations and practical illustrations of persons selected by a committee at the close of the lecture—in which the ancestry, character, constitution, diseases, &c. will be described.—Dr. Crane may be consulted at the Franklin House.

☞ THE DRAFT, for the 1st N. H. district, which was postponed from Tuesday to Wednesday, was further postponed to Thursday, at 2 P. M.

☞ A few rowdies and noisy fellows, who are trying to create a mob in our streets, ought to be dispersed to their homes; or if they hav'n't got any, or won't go to them, Fort Constitution or the jail should accommodate them. Probably, however, nothing will come of their foolish and treasonable demonstrations, more serious than annoying and disgusting all decent and loyal citizens.

☞ The history of Mr. Louis Morceau Gottschalk is well known to the musical world, and needs no repetition here. It may be said, however, that within the period of his public entertainments, commencing when he was a mere boy, to the present hour, he has steadily advanced not only in public favor, but in the great art that he illustrates both as a Composer and Performer.

☞ The Troy Whig says different sounds travel with different degrees of velocity. A call to dinner will run over a ten acre lot in a minute and a half, while a summons to work will take from five to ten minutes.

☞ Never trouble trouble, till trouble troubles you; for trouble rarely troubles people who never trouble themselves about trouble.

☞ The Independance Belge alludes to the case of an old woman who had hoarded up about 14,000 francs in gold since 1820. She did not like to trust banks. Had she put the money out at compound interest it would have grown to 100,000 francs.

☞ An imminensely obese pig, residing at Yvelot, Seine-Inferieure, was recently attacked by rats, and being too fat to fight, was eaten into four inches deep, and had to be killed.

☞ A Liverpool paper says that there were, at the date of writing, 40 ships en route from India to that town, with no less than 166,529 bales of cotton on board.

☞ An English private soldier is now paid about $110 a year; a French one about $50 a year. A Colonel in France receives about $1,600, in England about $6,000.

☞ Those who use the phrase "rich as Crœsus" may like to know that a recent estimate of his wealth fixes it at £1,700,000 sterling.

☞ The Independance Belge says that a Parisian inventor has offered to the Poles a new sort of fulminant which will explode even after an hour's immersion in water.

☞ A French physician has, it is stated by Galignani, successfully administered fatty substances as an antidote to strychnine.

☞ A very costly monument has just been erected in Hucknall Parish Church in memory of Augusta Ada, Countess Lovelace, Byron's only daughter.

☞ Three women of Murcia, in Spain, are to enter the profession of bull-fighter at that town.

THE MOSLEM SOLOMON.—Three brothers were heirs to their father's oxen, seventeen in number. By the Mohammedan law of inheritance the eldest brother was entitled to one half, the second to one third, and the youngest to one ninth of the whole number. As the animals could not be divided without destroying them, the subject was referred to the decision of the Commander of the Faithful, Ali. The caliph added an ox to the number and then made the division. This gave each brother more than his share—the eldest nine, the next six, and the youngest two—and yet left to the Prince the ox he had added.

TRIAL AND FRIENDSHIP.—Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus has had a trial among three million families, and is pronounced the best Saleratus in the known world. Its use always brings a smile to the household; it keeps them in health; it helps make the weak strong, and saves hundreds from that dreadful disease, dyspepsia. As you value health, use it. Most of the Grocers sell it. Depot 112 Liberty Street, New York.

VICKSBURG IS OURS.

Fling out our banner from every grove—
Victory emblems it with immortal fire;
Brighter its stars shine than ever before,
Crowned with the glory which heroes adore—
Vicksburg is ours!

Hearts throb with gladness and pulses beat fast
Patriots are firm and base traitors aghast;
Deep in the dust lies the hope of the foe,
Lifeless and cold as the mid-winter snow—
Vicksburg is ours!

God with his wrath has made right doubly strong,
Justice has triumphed at last over Wrong;
Treason lies stricken on the blood-stained plain
Never to raise its black banner again—
Vicksburg is ours!

'Shrined in our hearts let their names ever be,
Bright as the stars on the "Flag of Free"—
Vicksburg is ours!

Shout from the pine-circled hills of old Maine!
Shout from the far West the soul thrilling strain!
Shout from the Gulf 'mid its deep-anthem'd roar!
Shout from the Golden Gate's ocean-bound shore,
Vicksburg is ours;

AMENDMENT OF THE CONSTITUTION.—A convention of ministers of several Protestant denominations has been in session in Pittsburg, with a view to have the Constitution of the United States amended by inserting in it some clause recognizing "the being and attributes of Almighty God, the Divine authority of the Holy Scriptures, the law of God as a paramount rule, and Jesus the Messiah and Saviour and Lord of all." They have just adjourned, appointing a committee with very large powers, to agitate the subject by addresses to the people, and to call a national convention of persons friendly to the object whenever and wherever, in their opinion, the end sought will be promoted thereby.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. ly.

SCHOOLEY'S NEW IMPROVED

ICEBERG REFRIGERATORS.

This upright REFRIGERATOR combines every improvement. It is the most perfect article of the kind in the market, requiring less ice than any other, and keeping its contents sweet and free from any unpleasant odors.

Daniel T. Curtis, Fruit dealer, Boston, says of it, "I have preserved grapes and pears, peaches, and an extensive variety of plums and berries for five or six weeks in Schooley's Refrigerator."

Oren Peck, Boylston Market, Boston, says, "I find, on careful trial, that it will keep meats perfectly fresh and dry for ten or twelve days."

John Hunt, Butter dealer, Cincinnati, says, "I can keep butter sweet and fresh any length of time in reason, say six weeks."

C. E. Carpenter, Ice Dealer, Providence, says, "I have kept a cup of custard in one of Schooley's Refrigerators during the warm weather one week, when I ate it and found it perfectly good."

Thousands of similar testimonials can be shown in its favor.

SCHOOLEY'S ICE KING REFRIGERATOR. (Patented Jan. 6, 1863.) We present the ICE KING to our customers as the "ne plus ultra" of cheap Refrigerators, combining, in its operation all of the great requisites necessary for complete ventilation. In the introduction of Patent Refrigerators to the public, the cost of construction has been so greatly in excess as to prevent their sale to the "million." The consequence has been that those who could not afford to purchase a Patent Ventilated Refrigerator, were compelled to procure one of the old style, or go without.

We are now happy to state that, by the introduction of our new patent ICE KING, we can offer to the million a complete ventilated Refrigerator, well made, lined throughout with zinc, at cheaper prices than ever before sold.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Assist of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (ex-Examiner of Arts of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street, BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is at only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind can the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and faithful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all who wish to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be assured having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his rooms, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of pronouncing his remedies to surpass in efficacy those never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment the baleful effects of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Indestructible Stricture, Blotches, Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the mild sifting of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr Dow devotes great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting them unfortunate individuals for marriage or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Limbs, Pains in the Back and Breast, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The faculties of the mind are made to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, love of solitude, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted on those diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus or Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon scientific principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate cases have been cured in which the afflicted persons soon rejoiced in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of female diseases than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M., on those delicate and difficult complaints, cases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated Dr. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

Dr. Dow reports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

BOSTON, April 7, 1862. eodly.

ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1862. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. I have tried what has been recommended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured your Sweet's Panacea, and two bottles of Dr. Sweet's Panacea, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Sweet's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it.

PORTSMOUTH, April 22nd, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. SWEET'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Rev. ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 21, 1861.

DR. SWEET: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1860, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has gone about her business as far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Sweet's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWEET, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may30o

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and cod iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the exception of the shovelling of the ashes entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove. Hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention. His facilities for

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been contrived, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The condensing vapors being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without one going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Moodum,

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. Articulation is much improved by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. A set made upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. Teeth on this base will wear from five to five peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,

No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,

Has had four years of practical experience in making this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

Portsmouth, Jan. 1, 1863.

DENTISTRY.

No. 60 CONGRESS STREET,
Portsmouth, June 1st, 1863.

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully inform his patrons and the public, that he had of late many calls to insert teeth upon VULCANIZED RUBBER, that he has purchased the right of CHAMBERLIN in this market, and is now prepared to do all work upon RUBBER, or the other bases of GOLD and SILVER with perfectness, if preferred.

The Rubber has several important advantages, viz.: It is very light and elastic, and consequently is perfectly easy to the muscles of the mouth and cheeks. There are no lodgments or open joints to collect food, &c.; consequently they can be worn night and day, and are very easily kept neat and clean.

Besides all this, the most accurate fit is obtained, as the Rubber is Vulcanized directly upon the plaster model, and the suction is of course much stronger than in plates of Gold or Silver.

Any one who is waiting for their permanent teeth will, I am confident, be perfectly satisfied with the Rubber, as a base. The expense is but a little more than for Silver, and you get the same teeth (in blocks) that you would pay $60.00 for an upper or lower set on Gold.

In New York and Boston, and throughout the West, Vulcanized Rubber is used almost to the exclusion of the other bases, and by the best Dentists too. I will warrant a perfect fit and teeth from the best manufacturer in the country, S. S. White.

ALL OTHER OPERATIONS IN DENTISTRY I will do at the usual rates. I will here mention that my price for EXTRACTION is 25 cents.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TRACEWELL, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr. OLIVER and Dr. BENNETT, for particular success in extracting teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished, to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

☞ Please remember I do not manufacture or Artificial Teeth upon Vulcanized Rubber, Gold and Silver.

GRACE'S CELEBRATED SALVE

A SURE RELIEF FOR THE SUFFERER.

This Salve is a vegetable preparation, invented in the 17th century, by DR. WM. GRACE, surgeon in King James's army. Through its agency he cured thousands of most serious sore and wounds that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians of his day, and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor.

Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Burns.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Scalds.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Flesh Wounds.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Felons.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Frozen Limbs.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Scurvy.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Callouses.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Salt Rheum.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Chilblains.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Sore Breast.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Sore Lips.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Erysipelas Sores
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Abscesses.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Ulcers.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Chapped Hands.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Ringworms.

And from Sores and Wounds of the most serious nature down to a common Pimple. It eradicates Pimples from the face, and beautifies the skin. There is no preparation before the public that can equal this Salve in prompt and energetic action for the speedy cure of external diseases, as those who have tried its virtues testify. Soldiers, Sailors, and Fishermen, will find the Salve their best friend.

It has none of the irritating, heating properties of other remedies, but cools, cleanses, and heals the most serious Sores and Wounds. Every family, and especially those containing children, should keep a box on hand in case of accident, for it will save them much trouble, suffering and money. All it wants is a fair trial to cure old and inveterate Sores.

VOL. 23. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. FRIDAY JULY 17, 1863. NO. 14.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good; be just and fear with all
Exalt the right, though every inn fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

FACTS are stubborn things, says an old proverb; and he who carefully attends to all the facts in any given case, need not wait for a learned argument, but can make up his judgment for himself. And in the New-York Riot, says Uncle Toby, several facts stand out plainly. First, every rioter who was a voter, was a Peace Democrat, and aided in the triumph last fall of the Wood and Seymour ticket, whose success illuminated Charleston with great joy. 2. The rioters, as we learn from the News, (Ben Wood's paper,) maddened themselves with liquor, which they drank by wholesale from pans, kettles, and buckets. 3. From the same source we learn that "the people—the crowd—the citizens," as it calls them, "many of them favored the destruction of the Tribune, Times, and Post newspaper offices, and the houses of the proprietors.—and a general howl of "kill the nagurs, burn the nagur's nest, (Orphan Asylum,) kill every black republican," was raised. 4 The Caucasian, a weekly paper, is devoted to vilifying the negro, and fomenting hatred and prejudice; the Copperhead, another weekly, is devoted, as its name indicates, to poisonous mischief; and the Daily News is devoted to constant, persistent opposition to every war measure, and was for some time suppressed. These papers, with others like them, have their circulation mainly among the 'citizens' that made the riots; and these papers helped to make them what they are—allies of the rebels, and tools of the traitors. 5. Every actor in this mischief is guilty of riot and trespass; many of murder and treason. U. T.

THELWALL thought it very unfair to influence a child's mind by inculcating any opinions before it should have come to years of discretion, and be able to choose for itself. I showed him my garden and told him it was my botanical garden. "How so," said he, "it is covered with weeds."—"Oh," I replied, "that is because it has not yet come to its age of discretion and choice. The weeds, you see, have taken the liberty to grow, and I thought it unfair in me to prejudice the soil towards roses and strawberries."—Coleridge.

FRIDAY, JULY 17, 1863.

MOBS.—The most foolish things in the world are mobs. Particularly, as their never was one that was not quelled; and never will be, till all wise men are dead, and only fools bear sway. The only safety for anybody is law and order—give us that, no matter who attempts to disorganize. Sustain the laws, and the powers that be, at any hazard and at all events. No matter whose private revenge may feel gratified—always deprecate and oppose mob violence. It is ever dangerous, damnable to all—never beneficial to anybody. And let the ignorant, the idle and the vicious beware how they allow smoothe-tongued demagogues and loud-mouthed pot-house politicians to excite their mad rabble into a fever which shall consume themselves, and they know not what else, while those who stir them up usually keep at a safe distance when the penalty comes—as come it must for all such folly.

One of the strangest features of mobs, generally, is that boys and women enter largely into their composition, and often appear to sway or lead the crazy mass of men. What monstrous absurdity! It was so in the French revolution, and also in the New York and Boston riots, and likewise in the recent riotous demonstrations here.

Boston is not partial to mobs—witness the quelling of that of this week, as also the quashing of the Sims demonstration, years ago—the two directly opposite in their origin and animus, yet equally to be put down by all law-abiding citizens. The great difference between the course of the mobs in the two cities is, that the State authorities in New York, sympathize with the rioters, which is emphatically not the case in Massachusetts.

THE NEW YORK RIOT.—Mayor Opdyke on Wednesday afternoon, issued a proclamation announcing that the riot had partially subsided, and that the remnants of the mob only sought plunder. He declares that the laws must and shall be obeyed and offenders pursued and punished. Gen. Wool states that in all encounters with mobs on Tuesday, the troops were entirely successful, repulsing the rioters in every instance. Five New York city regiments have been ordered home.

A dispatch dated 3 P. M. Thursday says the riot was pretty much subdued. The railroads have resumed running, and the telegraph wires are being renewed.

Quite a serious riot occurred on Staten Island on Tuesday night,—500 ruffians roaming in detached bands over the island, ostensibly hunting negroes, but really bent on plunder. Six negroes were killed.—The railroad depot at Vanderbilt Landing was burned; drinking houses were robbed and gutted, and a reign of terror prevailed. No private dwellings were destroyed, although deep threats were made against residents. Citizens there armed and performed patrol duty. Detachments of the 8th regiment, with two howitzers, were sent down from the city.

There is reported to be a riot in Troy.

DO NOT HARM THE NEGRO.—We hear of several instances that occurred yesterday of extreme violence toward unoffensive blacks. The poor negro is beginning to taste of the bitter food prepared for him by abolition philanthrophy. We appeal to our citizens to be more kind to him than his professed bosom friends have been, who embrace him but to crush. He is not to blame for the misfortune that has befallen us. He is but the victim of fanaticism, and should be rather pitied than assailed. Let him not be persecuted for the sins of others. It is cowardly and unjust to single him out as an object for popular wrath. Let him go his way unmolested, for it is unworthy a freeman to make war upon an inferior race in the spirit of revenge.—N. Y. News, July 14.

We would not be so uncharitable as to call this hypocrisy;—but if it be said in sincerity, it is casting pearls before swine; for the "citizens" who are readers of the News in New York City are the most earnest advocates of negro slavery and the slave power, and are the ignorant despisers and haters of a people whom God made of one blood with themselves. But whether sincere or hypocritical, the item goes to show that the ignorant followers of intelligent demagogues often go beyond their teachers, and bring them into trouble and disgrace. It would be well if they came to repentance also. U. T.

IN MOBS the innocent suffer with the guilty—the spectators with the participators. This should be a caution for well-disposed people in case of riots to stop at home within their own houses. And especially should boys and women be kept out of the way.

☞ The ladies of Newmarket, have forwarded eight large boxes and a barrel of hospital supplies for the Sanitary Commission. They raised $232 22 for the purchase of the materials which they made up.

☞ Gen. Sickles is much improved, and his surgeon now says there is no doubt of his final recovery.

THE REBELLION.

An official rebel dispatch from Mobile states that the New Orleans Era of the 10th announces the unconditional surrender of Port Hudson at 7 o'clock P. M, on the 9th inst.

Gen. Banks sent to Gen. Grant a dispatch dated July 8, as follows:—

General—The Mississippi river is now opened. I have the honor to inform you that the garrison of Port Hudson surrendered unconditionally this afternoon. We shall take formal possession at 7 o'clock in the morning.

Morgan reached Georgetown, Brown county, Ohio, at midnight on Tuesday.—Gunboats and a very large force went up the river on Thursday to dispute his crossing. The Ohio river is too high to ford.

Official dispatches from Beauregard, published in the Richmond Enquirer, give the following:—The Federal troops at dark on the 10th obtained possession of the southern portion of Morris Island. Four Monitors engaged battery Wayne and the battery at Cummings Point all day without damage or casualties, but the rebel loss in opposing the landing was severe. Three hundred rebels were killed and wounded, including sixteen officers. The same evening the Federals had a threatening force on the lower front of James Island along the shore, and an attack was made to destroy the Savannah R. R. bridge, but was foiled with the loss of one rebel steamboat. On the 13th he reported that the Federals were engaged in establishing batteries for long range guns on the middle of Morris Island, being aided by five monitors. The wooden gunboats were firing on batteries Wagner and Gregg, on the north end of Morris Island.

Gen. Meade reports that his cavalry have captured five hundred prisoners in addition to those previously reported. Gen. Pettigrew, of the rebel army, was killed Tuesday morning in the attack on the enemy's rear guard. His body is in our hands.

☞ William H. Ladd, or Laird, of Berwick, Me., a private in Co. G, 17th regiment Maine volunteers, was shot Wednesday, at Fort Preble, in pursuance of sentence by the Court Martial at Augusta, which tried him some weeks since. Laird was convicted of desertion, and insubordination in threatening the life of his superior officer, Lieut. Nathan Walker, who was sent to arrest him. He resisted the arrest with a pitchfork.

☞ The Portland Argus says the market on Wednesday was active,—the substitute market. Substitutes were in great demand, many having hired for $300, and some as low as $175, one case at least. At one hotel, three substitutes were taken at once at $300 apiece. Others, still, rely on the "many ills which flesh is heir to," for their salvation. It was quite an exciting day all around town.

☞ Benjamin Franklin was the fifteenth of seventeen children, all of whom, as he relates, lived to be married; and he makes the remark that he was the youngest son of the youngest son, for five generations back. When very young, his father intended him for the church, which plan was relinquished as being too expensive.

☞ Mr. Kennedy, Superintendent of the New York Police, was not killed, as reported, but only beaten, and is expected to recover.

POSITION IN SLEEPING.—It is better to go to sleep on the right side, for then the stomach is very much in the position of a bottle turned upside down, and the contents of it are aided in passing out by gravitation. If one goes to sleep on the left side, the operation of emptying the stomach of its contents is more like drawing water from a well. After going to sleep, let the body take its own position. If you sleep on your back, especially soon after a hearty meal, the weight of the digestive organs, and that of the food, resting on the great vein of the body, near the back-bone, compresses it, and arrests the flow of the blood, more or less. If the arrest is partial the sleep is disturbed, and there are unpleasant dreams. If the meal has been recent and hearty, the arrest is more decided; and the various sensations, such as falling over a precipice, or the pursuit of a wild beast, or other impending danger, and the desperate effort to get rid of it, arouses us, and sends on the stagnating blood, and we wake in a fright, or trembling, or perspiration, or feeling of exertion, and the length and strength of the efforts which we make to escape the danger. But when we are not able to escape the danger—when we do fall over the precipice—when the tumbling building crushes us—what then! That is death! That is the death of those of whom it is said, when found lifeless in the morning—"That they were as well as they ever were the day before," and often it is added, "and ate heartier than common!" This last, as a frequent cause of death to those who have gone to bed to wake no more, we give merely as a private opinion. The possibility of its truth is enough to deter any rational man from a late and hearty meal. This we do know, with certainty, that waking up in the night with painful diarrhoea, or cholera, or bilious colic, ending in death in a very short time, is properly traceable to a late large meal. The truly wise will take the safe side. For persons who eat three times a day, it is amply sufficient to make the last meal of cold bread and butter, and a cup of some warm drink. No one can starve on it; while a perseverance in the habits soon begets a vigorous appetite for breakfast, so promising of a day of comfort.—Hall's Journal of Health.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Miss Abigail Dodge, whose articles in the Atlantic Monthly, under the nom de plume of "Gail Hamilton," have been read with so much pleasure, is sojourning at the White Mountains.

—— Commencement at Dartmouth College will occur on Thursday, the 22d inst., and not as heretofore on the last Thursday of July.

—— Although the weather for a week or two past has been unfavorable, the stream of travel to the Lake and Mountain regions of New Hampshire has set in, and was probably never larger so early in the season. The new route by way of the Eastern and Cocheco Railroads, is proving very popular, and will become more so, as its facilities for reaching the Lake become known. The steamer Dover is already receiving quite an accession to its passenger list from this source, and the Hotel Registers of the Senter House, and other popular resorts, show that they too are reaping the benefits of it.

HERESY.—The Newburyport Herald says a council is now in session at Georgetown, to consider the case of Rev. Charles Beecher, Congregational preacher in that town, whose views are considered by a portion of the orthodox community as heretical. He holds to the same opinions with his brother, Dr. Edward Beecher, that we have had a state of pre-existence—of which we retain no remembrance—and the sins of that state in influence attach to this. Milton's story of the war in heaven is no fiction with him, though to most people it is no more reasonable than any of the old mythological fables.

☞ Four Governors of a London hospital, being requested recently to advise their colleagues in a matter connected with said hospital, claimed the trifling sum of about $16,000 for their services. Somebody demurred, and an arbitrator was appointed. He cut down the bill of one (who had evidently done all the work) to about $450, of another to about $20, and the two others to nil. The full board of Governors, however, being doubtless "a deuced gentlemanly set of fellows, you know," concluded to pay the whole sum claimed, a proceeding which The Times calls "bleeding a charity."

ARCHBISHOP HUGHES FOR CONSCRIPTION.—The N. Y. Tribune, in an article on Conscription and Riots, says:—

The first man we ever heard advocate a general conscription for the prosecution of the war for the Union, was Archbishop Hughes, on his return from Europe last year. He condemned the reliance on volunteering as hazardous, and as placing too large a share of the burden on the generous and public spirited, urging that, since the obligation rested equally on all, the liability or risk should be apportioned accordingly.

☞ The New York Herald says, "the concerts of Mr. Gottschalk this season will be more fashionable, if possible, even than heretofore. Every one acknowledges that he never has played with so much spirit, delicacy and effect. In his performance he surprised all who heard him, by the wonderful progress that he had made since his last appearance in New York. His creation of fancy and powers of expression may now be ranked among the brightest records of his profession."

☞ The human body, in so advanced a stage of decomposition as to be entirely unrecognizable, can now be so restored, by chemical means, as to present an almost completely natural appearance. This process was lately practised with success in London, in the case of a body found in the Thames, which was suspected to be that of an escaped murderer, who had committed suicide. After the body had been subjected to the new process, the witnesses were able to swear that he was not the supposed murderer.

☞ The Princess of Wales is regarded by the British aristocracy as a poor relation suddenly raised to eminence. She is courted and criticised behind her back. At Oxford the adulatory odes greeting the Prince alluded to his wife in absolutely sickening strains of flattery. Yet the duchesses and marchionesses think the little lady is rather awkward, and compare her disadvantageously with the gem of the British royal family, the Princess Alice.

☞ A bogus coinery was recently discovered in Rochester, the concern broken up, and the counterfeiters arrested. The officers who arrested the parties found abundant evidence of guilt.—There was a ladel in which they had melted metal, moulds of plaster Paris for making cents, some half dollars, quarters and dimes, and various counterfeiting articles.

☞ It has been ascertained that the horses of France have increased and decreased in number, for several years, in the same ratio with the population. They maintain a constant rate of about 81-2 per cent. of the population. In 1858, 6,758 more horses were imported than where exported; France used that many more than were raised in the country.

☞ We have already said that the Haven Medals were awarded at the close of the exhibition at the Boys' High School on Tuesday last. These medals are of three kinds and are awarded to members of the three upper classes. They are obtained by a fund bequeathed by Horace A. Haven, in October, 1843, for the purpose. This year in the 4th, or graduating class, the medals were awarded to Oren D. Bragdon, for Mathematics, and Andrew J. Hill, Jr., for Latin; in the 3d Class, to Willis Knowlton, for Book-keeping and Mathematics; Charles Hazlitt, good deportment and general improvement in all the studies pursued; and Charles Moody for Composition. In the 2d Class, one was awarded to Edward Ball; but it was found impossible by the Committee to decide the relative claims of Frank Newton and Charles Barri for the other. They accordingly drew lots for the prize, and the former was the winner. In this class the medals were each awarded for good deportment and general improvement in all the studies pursued.

Two of these medals are circular; the other hexagonal. They bear on the obverse "Haven Medal, 1843, Portsmouth, N. H.," and on the reverse the name of the scholar to whom it is awarded, and the date.

☞ The brig Sarah, at Halifax from Cardenas, reports 9th inst., lat. 39, saw whaling schooner Rienzi, and a brig from Cherryfield, loaded with molasses, on fire and abandoned. Shortly after saw a barque-rigged steamer supposed to be the Alabama.

☞ Some six hundred of the rebel prisoners taken at Gettysburg, and sent to Baltimore, have already taken the oath of allegiance.

☞ Two new iron clads, on the Ericsson model, are to be built at St. Louis. Both are to be seagoing vessels.

☞ Another pirate, the Gibralter, is reported to have sailed from England for Nassau.

☞ Gen. Grant has paroled at Vicksburg 31,277 prisoners.

☞ In West Newbury one man was drafted from the Alms House.

☞ Gold in New York, Thursday, 127; Boston 129 1-8.

☞ Several of the rioters in Boston are being tried for murder.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 8 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

THE DRAFT IN PORTSMOUTH.—As will be seen by the following Notice from the Provost Marshal General of New Hampshire,—the Draft to be made in this city, for the First Congressional District, is postponed till further notice, in accordance with orders from the War Department—our State authorities desiring to so alter the arrangements, as to draft for each town's quota by itself, instead of classing or joining towns into sub-districts. This arrangement will be better, no doubt, but it ought to have been made before, so as to prevent this delay in the Draft.

DRAFT NOTICE.

OFFICE ACT. ASST. PROVOST MARSHAL GEN.,
CONCORD, N. H., July 15, 1863.

The Legislature of this State having passed a joint resolution requesting the Governor to ask the Secretary of War to order the Draft in this State to be made by towns, and the Governor having forwarded said resolution, and also telegraphed to him upon the subject, and having received a telegram from him, that he would take the subject into consideration when the papers were received—therefore the Draft in the First District is postponed until the decision of the Secretary of War in this matter is made known.

THE PORTSMOUTH MOB.—While New York and Boston rowdies and traitors have been indulging in most infernal riots,—their admirers and coadjutors here, in our old city, have attempted to emulate the monstrous example. Beginning with the meeting to denounce the government and encourage the rebellion, at the Temple Monday night; the treasonable ball has been kept rolling, gaining as it went, up to last night,—the agitators continuing to foment the excitement. The draft was announced for Tuesday; and an excited crowd was repeatedly gathered about the drafting office, composed chiefly, as all mobs are, of low and ignorant, and often vicious, members of this community, and similar personages who flocked from abroad to see and perhaps oppose the draft, with not a few brawling women and boys.

A couple of anecdotes will show of what stuff such rabbles are made. A merchant of this city, seeing an Irish laborer of his loafing to attend to the draft, set him to work at once, by telling him that if he did not attend to his business, he would be sure to get him drafted! And some brawling strangers from a neighboring town were threatening to burn the store of their townsman if he was not drafted, and were only pacified by the assurance of our mutual friend that his name would surely be in the box to take its chance!

Well, for the three days that the draft has been hanging in uncertainty here, the senseless excitement has been kept up, the rioters doubtless taking the delay to be the effect of their intimidation. To be sure no great harm was done, but no little disturbance has been created, and the fears of the timid greatly excited, And not without cause—for such a crowd is easily excited to do desperate things. A military guard has been kept at the Provost Marshal's office; and full enough forbearance has been shown by the abused soldiers, to judge from the windows broken by the stones thrown, Wednesday night. It is said one rowdy threw a stone and struck a soldier in the head, and that the soldier fired a ball or two, but unfortunately missed the villain. A guard of volunteers, from Fort Constitution, and the U. S. Marines from the Navy Yard, under Col. Marston, have charge of the premises, and we certainly hope no one will be mad enough to offer further violence in that direction. If they do, we trust the cartridges fired will not be blank.

Since the above was put in type, what has been feared has taken place, and our city has been disgraced by a preconcerted, causeless resistance to the law, and an armed assault on the officers to whom had been entrusted the preservation of order. Fortunately for the good name of our city, fortunately for the preservation of order and the supremacy of the law, force was promptly met by force, and the cowardly, sneaking villains were dispersed to their homes or driven back to the low groggeries from which, maddened by rum and inflamed by demagogues' appeals, they had come forth.

The following is as correct an account of the doings of the lawless crowd as we have been able to obtain in the excitement of the night. A large extra police force had been detailed, and, with the usual watchmen and the day police, instructed to prevent the congregation of any large crowd near the headquarters of the Provost Marshal, Thursday night, the City Authorities being determined that the outrages of the night previous should not be re-enacted. Several well-disposed citizens, whom curiosity had drawn thither, appreciated the wisdom of the regulation, when it was suggested to them, and quietly withdrew. The first opposition was made by an Irishman, and as he absolutely refused to move, he was placed in the lock-up. Soon another person, an American, was arrested, and as he was being taken off appealed to his "friends" for assistance. A rush was made to rescue him, the police resisted, one or two of the mob were seized, and a pistol was wrested from the hands of Sampson L. Russell, who has been a prominent agitator and fomenter of discord during the past few days. The men who had been seized were taken to the police station and confined. This happened between 8 and 9 o'clock.

About half-past 9, a mob of about 100 men, headed by this Russell, Richard Walden, and others, came to the police station and demanded the pistol. They had come up from Water street and vicinity, and made this their first demand. Their characters were well known to the police, their real object well understood. Their demand was refused. Then they entered upon the foul work they had conspired to do, and made an assault upon the police. Walden selected one of the extra police, Mr. Geo. Fretson, and made a cowardly and brutal attack on him with a long, square iron bolt. Mr. Fretson, who had nobly done his duty during the evening, received a severe and painful wound in the right wrist and arm in warding off a blow aimed at his head. A few moments after, Walden gave the order to his fellow ruffians to "fire!" Report followed report in rapid succession., of pistols.

Meanwhile Marshal Bragdon had sent word to Mayor Dearborn, who was in attendance at a meeting of the Board of Aldermen, that his presence was needed. He was promptly on the spot. Energetic measures were at once taken; the active members of the Board, as well as the Mayor, were equal to the emergency; the garrison at Fort Constitution, and the Marines at the Navy Yard, were notified by signals that their assistance was required; a request was sent to Lieut. Welles, in command of the guard at the Provost Marshal's headquarters, for immediate aid. Everyone appealed to, promptly responded. Many prominent and influential citizens united in the good work.

The Mayor reached the spot just as the pistols were discharged. Several shots were fired by the mob and by the police. Russell's revolver did good execution in the right hands. The leaders of the mob had had a taste of cold lead. Their deluded followers faltered and fell back. Presently Sergt. Gray, with a small squad of soldiers from the headquarters of the P. Marshal, appeared; the faint gleam of their bayonets was seen in the dim light; they charged upon the mob, and it ran like sheep, taking their wounded with them. The mob was crushed. It was not long before a strong force of Marines, under command of Col. Marston, arrived from the Navy Yard; and another of soldiers from the fort, under Lt. Wainwright.

The only officer injured was Mr. Fretson, as stated above. Officer Johnson had a narrow escape, a pistol ball passing through his glazed cap, within an inch of his head,—entering in front and passing out at the top. Of the rioters, Walden, was wounded in the forehead, in the side, and in the wrist; his wounds are thought to be dangerous. Russell received a severe wound in the head, inflicted, apparently, with a watchman's hook. The following are also reported to be wounded:—Aug. Walden in the leg, Geo. Watkins in the throat, and an Irishman, name unknown, in the thigh.

The mob were seen no more during the night. All honor to the Police for their energetic action, and to the Military for their active co-operation. Where all did so well, we cannot individualize.

We trust this is the last we shall see of mob violence in our fair city. All such attempts must fail. They that sow the wind shall reap the whirlwind. The Authorities are prepared. We have not mentioned all the force at call last night. The laws will be maintained.

DR. CRANE'S Medical Lecture, at the Temple, Thursday evening, was well received by a fair and intelligent audience; and a great amount of valuable information was imparted, in a popular and pleasing manner.

The Dr. announces that if sufficient subscribers be received this week for a Class, he will give a regular course of medical lectures next week, commencing Monday evening. Terms moderate and satisfaction guaranteed. His rooms are at the Franklin House.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, when the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by such to restrain the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cure, was the point made in this valuable preparation. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be sacred, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT BRONCHIAL AND ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION, and to prove the declarations by true results.

SCHOOLEY'S
NEW IMPROVED
ICEBERG REFRIGERATORS.

This upright REFRIGERATOR combines every improvement. It is the most perfect article of the kind in the market, requiring less ice than any other, and keeping its contents sweet and free from any unpleasant odor.

Daniel T. Curtis, fruit dealer, Boston, says of it, "I have preserved grapes and pears, peaches, and an extensive variety of plums and berries for five or six weeks in Schooley's Refrigerator."

Oren Peck, Boylston Market, Boston, says, "I find, on careful trial, that it will keep meats perfectly fresh and dry for ten or twelve days."

John Hunt, Butter dealer, Cincinnati, says, "I can keep butter sweet and fresh any length of time in reason, say six weeks."

C. E. Carpenter, Ice Dealer, Providence, says, "I have kept a cup of custard in one of Schooley's Refrigerators during the warm weather one week, when I ate it and found it perfectly good."

Thousands of similar testimonials can be shown in its favor.

SCHOOLEY'S ICE KING REFRIGERATOR. (Patented Jan. 6, 1863.) We present the ICE KING to our customers as the "ne plus ultra" of cheap Refrigerators, combining in its operation all of the great improvements necessary for complete ventilation. In the introduction of Patent Refrigerators to the public, the cost of construction has been necessarily so great as to prevent their sale to the "million." The consequence has been that those who could not afford to purchase a Patent ventilated Refrigerator, were compelled to procure one of the old style, or go without.

We are now happy to state that, by the introduction of our new patent ICE KING, we can offer to the million a complete ventilated Refrigerator, well made, and well ventilated with zinc, at cheaper prices than ever before sold.

The various sizes of the above are for sale by the subscriber—also, ICE PITCHERS, ICE AWLS, &c.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (ex-Commissioner of Patents,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Deeds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into the Patents of Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Wash ington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, superior to those, if not the unusually superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that more Patents have issued from THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and so SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that it has enough to enable him to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The long time, the best part of the last twenty years, he has labored, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official documents relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, enable him to offer unusual facilities to the superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All business at a distance by Journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and competent practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can employ a person more competent and trustworthy than Mr. Eddy to attend to their applications, or more to secure for them an early and favorable decision at the Patent Office."
THOS. EWBANK,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted. I call that a very good record. Such unquestionable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the claims for which they are entitled secured to their owns, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN LAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of professional duty, has received reports from causes SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, No. 2 ½ DECATUR STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience he has perfected a remedy for the prevention of propagating the unfortunate victims that have been, since he first introduced them, the sad victims of the disease.

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Swellings, and Contracted Joints, and the dreadful consequences, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors frightful swellings, and the dreadful sufferings of the victims attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest allings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which has ruined many, and is undermining the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and lamentably sad consequences of early indulgence are Weakness of the back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Disorganized Digestive functions, symptoms of Consumption, &c. The central effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, nervousness, aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Persons who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Address as above for safe Kroosen Capsules, $5 per box, or three boxes for $12 sent by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

Dr. Dow, of Boston, Mass., Graduate of the University Berlin, Germany, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, suppression, and obstruction, and derangements, are all treated upon new, pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably successful is his treatment of these most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted female soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow's Female Pills are a powerful remedy in the case of Cancers of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his undivided attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

No. 2 ½ Decatur Street, Boston, four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his superior skill and extensive practice in Europe, obtained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the many cures Dr. Dow's name stands higher in the profession than the celebrated Dr. DOW, No. 2 Decatur street, Boston. Those who need his services cannot find a more skilful physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow has gone and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail, inclose four red stamps.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

EYE, N. H., Feb. 20, 1852. "This is to certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—one of the worst cases she ever had. Her hands were so bad she could not do her work very much. A large sum has been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrups, &c., but all to no purpose. Last fall I procured some one or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure, and there can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine can equal Dr. Swett's in regard to the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who are satisfied, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JONAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1852.

I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. [illegible]

From ELDER I. CHASLEY, Lee, May 21, 1851.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with a scrofulous humor, and that performed on visiting our house in the spring of 1849, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA, which, in a few days, relieved her, she has recovered her health as far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that have been for this disease shown yourself. ISRAEL CHASLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. Wholesale Agent, Portsmouth, N. H.
